RIM Reserve is a land set-aside program that retires certain agricultural land.

"I'm very pleased with the enthusiastic response we continue to get from landowners," Behm said. "It shows that Minnesotans are concerned about improving their natural resources."

Under the RIM Reserve program, landowners apply to have a state easement placed on their land. The state pays a landowner an amount based on the value of land in the township and the landowner takes the land out of agricultural production and may restore wetlands on the land. A variety of land is eligible for enrollment, including drained wetlands (for restoration), riparian croplands and marginal agricultural lands.

The 1991 sign-up was different from previous sign-ups because the legislature assigned a specific amount of money—$6.7 million—to be spent on wetland restorations over the 1992-93 spending biennium. Easements in other categories of the RIM Reserve program, such as riparian cropland and marginal ag land, had about $2.9 million in funding available.

The BWSR received and approved about 106 applications for wetland restorations, for a total of about $2.6 million, Behm said. The BWSR received about 223 applications, totaling about $4 million, for the other categories. Final approval was given to 160 of those non-wetland applications, spending the entire $2.9 million available, Behm added.

Additional sign-ups for wetland restorations will be held during the remainder of the biennium. No further sign-ups will be held for other categories since no more funding is available, Behm noted.

Behm said that he anticipates that landowner interest in wetland restorations will continue to grow. "The combination of the proposed federal wetlands regulations and the new state wetlands regulations have really raised public awareness about wetlands and their benefits," he said. "Hopefully, RIM Reserve will be able to take advantage of this increased awareness."

The RIM Reserve program began in 1987. Soil and water conservation district (SWCDs) administer the program locally.

The 1991 sign-up was August 5-16. The sign-up adds about 8,180 easement acres to the program. Wetland acreage accounts for about 3,560 acres (about 1,500 of which are actual wetland acres); the other categories account for about 4,530 acres.

Including the 1991 sign-up, the program has about 42,230 acres enrolled under about 1,800 easements. For more information about the RIM Reserve program contact the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation district.

Electronic tax filing

People claiming refunds, as well as those who owe money, can have their 1991 federal income tax returns filed electronically starting in January, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Offered, usually for a fee, by many professional tax preparers as well as some banks and employers, electronic filing involves using a computer and a telephone modem to send returns directly to the IRS. This service is available to people who do their own returns as well as those who have them professionally prepared.

Electronic filing can save time, trouble and worry by speeding up refunds and cutting down errors, the IRS says. A refund is issued within three weeks after the IRS receives the return.

People can get their money even faster by choosing to have their refunds deposited directly into their bank accounts. Since direct deposit eliminates the possibility of a lost or stolen check, it may be particularly attractive to people who travel a lot, move soon after filing, live in high-crime areas or for whatever reason have difficulty getting their mail.

The IRS electronically verifies receipt of electronically filed returns within two days, so there's no reason to worry about the return possibly getting lost in the mail. Mistakes often delay refunds, but according to the IRS, electronic filing reduces errors by an average of more than 80% Nationwide, more than seven million federal income tax returns were filed electronically during the past year.

HATS OFF TO 4-H

Highlanding

Highlanding 4-H club met December 6 at the Goodridge senior citizen center. Meeting was called to order by Martin Dahlen, flag pledges were said and roll call was answered to, "What do you want for Christmas?" Secretary's report was read by Ben Hanson.

Members were reminded to turn their enrollment cards into the extension office as soon as possible. Knowledge Bowl was discussed and the 4-H ski trip was announced for January 25. Club members can call the extension office to sign up for the trip.

Awards banquet was discussed and congratulations extended to those who received awards. Elected officers for the coming year were Adam Kassa, president; Martin Dahlen, vice president; Ben Hanson, treasurer; Amy Langseth, secretary; and Jason Langseth, reporter.

There were 11 members, four parents and two guests present at the meeting. Christmas party for the club was scheduled for December 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Goodridge senior citizen center and a skating activity is planned. Members are to bring items for the food shelf and a $3 gift for exchange.

Leader's Council

December 2 meeting of the Pennington County 4-H Leader's Council was called to order by president Beth Natvik and secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved.

Ag activity day December 6 was discussed and it was noted that enrollment cards for 4-H club membership are due. Knowledge Bowl sign-up deadline was announced as December 16 and applications for the Washington Citizen Focus are due by February 1.

Applications for 4-H scholarships are due December 31 and host family applications for the 4-H club exchange are due by January 2. A 4-H ski trip was scheduled for January 25. Nominations are being received for the outstanding youth award.

Heather Olson of Pennington county was announced as the state achievement award winner and was awarded $200 by the leader's council for expenses on her trip to the national event.

Volunteers were requested for the district record judging to be held in Mahnomen January 15. Saddle-up program of St. Jude's research hospital was discussed. Horse project meeting was set for the Sherry Page home December 12 with no meeting to be held in January.

Rules and regulations committee will be revising rules governing selection of the county's honor club. The month's "hot dog" award went to Linda Helgeland for serving two years as treasurer of the leader's council.

Meeting was adjourned on motion by Barb Natvik, second by Connie Stock and council vote.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

An open letter to the Native Americans of the Chippewa Band and its leadership:

Please reconsider your unanimous vote to not locate the proposed casino here in Thief River Falls. David Grothe and Mark Hanson, et al, do not speak for this community. The anti-casino forces may have spoken with the loudest voice and may have made racist remarks and may have made threatening phone calls, but these people do not represent Thief River Falls or Pennington county either. In their own minds, these people do not consider themselves to be racists, regardless of their rhetoric.

In this, the 200th year of the enactment of the Bill of Rights, you leaders of the Chippewa Band of Native Americans cannot let a small vocal minority abridge your constitutional rights.

Historically, the Native Americans have been treated as some sort of people with no rights because your heritage does not agree with the Western European values. I am sure that you are more aware of the historical racism of the Anglo people than anyone else.

But look at the civil rights movement of the late 1950's to today. The African Americans have forced the majority to face their legacy of making some citizens second class citizens by meeting the issue head-on. Japanese Americans were denied their constitutional rights during World War II. Please do not let a small group of bigots in Thief River Falls do the same to the Chippewas in the 1990s. Their illogical and immoral attitudes must be stopped here and now.

If you let these ignorant, self-centered, self-claimed moralists make your decision about the proposed casino, and if you run from the racists here in Thief River Falls, you will have to keep running.

The advisory vote, sponsored by the anti-casino forces, does not represent this community. The majority of supporters boycotted this unofficial election. The nearly unanimous vote by the city council —one abstention—signals this city's support to your proposed casino.

Those who oppose the casino will never be customers. To quote David Grothe, "....the policies of our city....has allowed the travesties of charitable gambling here such as pulltabs, an attractive liquor store on a main street and now an attempt for a gambling casino are not good." His morality is just that—his. Everyone is permitted to make his or her own choices in this democratic country. Mr. Grothe does not have the right to mandate his values on the rest of us.

Since I can find no evidence that pulltab participation is mandatory or that consumption of alcoholic beverage is forced, I will assume that the Native Americans will not force anyone to enter the casino against their own will.

To repeat my original request: Please reconsider your decision to forsake Thief River Falls on the casino location and to re-evaluate the economic benefits to both the Native American community in Red Lake and the obvious benefits —500 jobs—to the city of Thief River Falls.

Sincerely,
Dennis J. Larson

women near the rifle range at the Pennington County Sportsmen club grounds.

Jon was born and raised in Thief River Falls, is a member of St. Bernard's church where he has been an altar boy and participated in youth activities. He has been an honor roll student at Franklin middle school and Lincoln high school where he is a sophomore. He maintained a 4.0 grade point average through his freshman year.

He was named to the 1990-91 edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and this year participates in pep band, cross-country, hockey and track. He was a co-captain of the Bantam B hockey team in 1990-91.

He joined Cub Scouts in 1982 and earned his Arrow of Light award in 1987. He is an Ordeal Member of the Order of the Arrow, was a counselor-in-training at Camp Wilderness near Park Rapids in July of 1991 and is currently serving as patrol leader for Troop 57.

Jon's project at the Elm Lake Wildlife Management area involved 38 hours and 30 minutes of his own time and 71 hours and 40 minutes of time for those assisting him.

Jason was also born and raised at Thief River Falls, is a member of St. Bernard's church and participated in serving mass, babysitting during mass and cleaning the church and convent yards in the spring.

He participated in the band, basketball and golf at Franklin middle school, was an honor student and received the Presidential Academic Fitness award. Presently a junior at Lincoln high school he is enrolled in college preparatory classes. Jason is on the honor roll at Lincoln, plays on the boys' basketball team and lettered in golf during his sophomore year.

Named to the 1990-91 edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students," he plans to attend college and major in the field of computers. His hobbies include drawing, working with computers, camping and fishing in the summer and assisting with elementary basketball in the winter by refereeing, running the time clock, keeping books and coaching.

Jason joined the scouting program in September of 1982 with Cub Pack 57. He became a Boy Scout in 1986, is a Brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow and has held the troop positions of patrol leader, assistant patrol leader, senior patrol leader and scribe. The past several summers he has attended Camp Wilderness.

Jason's project at the Sportsmen Club cost $465.90 for materials ($450 was donated by the Eagles Lodge) and involved a total of 58 hours for himself and 73 hours for others assisting him in the project.

TAX TIPS
FEDERAL
Q: When should I itemize deductions?
A. If you are under age 65: for single persons and heads of households, itemize when deductions exceed $3,400 and $5,000 respectively. If you are married and filing jointly, itemize when deductions exceed $5,700.
If you are 65 or older: for single persons, the amount is $4,250. For married persons the amount is $6,350 if one person is 65 or $7,000 if both are 65 or older.
Q: We refinanced our home mortgage during 1991 and paid points at the time of closing. Are the points deductible?
A. If the refinancing proceeds were used to make improvements on your home, then a corresponding part of the points may be deducted in 1991. The balance of the points not related to the improvements would be deductible over the term of the loan.
MINNESOTA
Q: What are the allowable Minnesota itemized deductions for 1991?
A. Minnesota itemized deductions will generally be the same as federal itemized deductions, except for state income taxes which are not deductible. In addition, parents with dependent children in elementary or secondary schools (public or private) may deduct up to $650 for each child in grades K through 6 and up to $1,000 for each child in grades 7 through 12, if those amounts are spent for tuition, books, or transportation.

Reps needed for volunteer services posts

Advisory committee of the Minnesota Office on Volunteer Services will have openings for eight regional representatives and four at-large members in January of 1992.

The committee includes one person from each of the state's 13 economic development regions and eight members at-large. Its purpose is to advise and make recommendations to the Commissioner of Administration and the director on program directions and policies relating to volunteerism.

Vacancies will occur in Region 2 which includes the counties of Beltrami, Clearwater, Hubbard, Lake of the Woods and Mahnomen. There is also an opening in Region 1 (to expire in January of 1995) which includes Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties.

Persons interested in serving are encouraged to contact the Minnesota Office on Volunteer Services, 500 Rice Street, St. Paul, MN 55155 or call 1-800-652-9749 for application materials and further information.

Area students receive UND scholarships

A number of area students at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks have been awarded scholarships for the 1991-92 school year, according to Dr. Gerald Hamerlik, dean of enrollment services. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic ability.

In addition to the more than $750,000 provided in scholarships, the university provides a program of grants, loans, fellowships and part-time work. Two of every three students at UND receive financial aid, Hamerlik said.

Scholarship recipients from this area include the following with the name of the scholarship listed in parentheses:

Thief River Falls—Nicole Brang (Florence Schmidt Clifford), Scott Grove (Alumni High Achiever) and Michelle Rolland (Bernold Hanson Geology);

St. Hilaire—Nathan Dalager (Arthur Johnson Civil Engineering);

Strandquist—Tammy Borowicz (Lakehead Pipeline Company) and Ted Wawrzyniak (J.F.T. O'Connor);

Strathcona—Kathy Nelson (Elizabeth J. Larimore & Sadie P. Mathews);

Red Lake Falls—Amy Boutain (J. H. Bosard), Lynette Flage (Lenora Hovey Seglem), Karla Moran (Orison & Owen Young Memorial), Wayde Schultz (Elizabeth J. Larimore & Sadie P. Mathews) and Daniel Wetenkamp (J.F.T. O'Connor);

Oklee—Deone Haugen (Chester Fritz);

Viking—Denise Rokke (Lakehead Pipeline Company;

Goodridge—Kay Lynn Kainz (National Residence Hall Honorary);

Brooks—Kimberly Oachand (Lenora Hovey Seglem) and Michelle Paquin (H. A. Bronson).

Cellular phone service adds Roseau area

Cellular telephone service will now be available in Roseau, Warroad, Badger, Skime, Malung, Pencer, Wannaska, Salol, Fox and surrounding areas, according to Cellular 2000, which is providing the expanded coverage.

"Whether you're stuck on a snow-covered roadway or cruising through Thief River Falls, Cellular 2000 will keep you communicating," stated Richard Ekstrand, chairman of Minnesota's Rural Cellular Corporation (RCC). RCC is a Minnesota corporation made up of 41 shareholders who are Minnesota telephone companies.

Cellular technology is intended to give mobile phone users the communication quality and reliability they are accustomed to when using their home or office phones.

The cellular system operates by dividing a service area into smaller areas or "cells" each served by its own low-powered transmission tower. As a caller moves across the area, the call is transferred from one tower to another without noticeable interruption. The cellular system is linked to regular telephones through the local telephone network.

Grain trucks lined up for blocks in St. Hilaire Monday. At a time when many elevator operators are complaining about not getting in enough train cars to haul grain, the St. Hilaire elevator was notified that a full unit, or 52 cars, would be made available Monday.

The Senior Citizens met on Wednesday with a film on Supplemental Security Income. Karyl Larson presided at a short business meeting. Final plans were made for the Christmas party on December 16, with a meal at 5 p.m. The door prize was won by Hazel Amundson and Tillie Bernstein and Doris Klamar served for Gene Polansky.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Juel Aune visited at the Alton Sparby home near Grygla.

Trail ....

Hazel Nelson was a brief caller on Rose Aaknes on Tuesday forenoon. Wayne Bakke of Gonvick, came to plow out her yard, also Bertha Woods. Wayne Bakke also went to Oklee to visit with Adeline Prevost. He also plowed out her driveway.

Adeline Prevost of Oklee, visited with Rose Aaknes on Saturday evening while Al and Vi Radniecki of Oklee, attended the 50th anniversary of Pearl Harbor at the Trail VFW hall.

Kathy Bakke of Gonvick, and Rose Aaknes were Christmas shoppers in Fosston on Sunday afternoon. They also visited with Clara Strand. They brought a gift to Clara from her godchild, Paulette.

Tuesday December 10, Lloyd Larsan, Clifford Steinhauer of rural Holt, and Louis Fussy of Duluth, motored to Lloyd's trailer home at Rocky Point on Lake of the Woods. They returned home Thursday.

Eldon and Evonne Moe spent the past weekend in South Dakota. They were guests Friday night at the home of their cousins, Leonard and Blanche Moe at Watertown. Saturday Eldon and Evonne visited their uncle, Joe Reso, at the Clark Mission Home at Clark. They brought Joe with them to Bradley, to visit at the home of Mrs. Edie Moe. DeWayne Moe came over there to visit them all. Eldon and Evonne brought Joe back to the Clark Mission Home, and returned to the home of Edie, to stay overnight. Sunday Eldon and Evonne, Joe Reso, and Leonard and Blanche Reso were all dinner guests at the home of Ray and Karen Potter in Clark. Eldon and Evonne returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alfred Solem was among the members of the Esther and Anna circles at Trinity Lutheran church, who enjoyed a noon dinner together at the church Wednesday noon. Following the potluck dinner, Pastor Ronald Calvert led in Bible study.

Holt Keenagers

Lloyd and Harryet Larson, Mrs. Clara J. Reierson, Leonard and Shirley Yonke, Alvin and Nina Halvorson, and Leslie and Verna Dahl from Argyle, were among the many who attended the Christmas Holt Keenagers' noon dinner Friday, at the Community Center. There was an exchange of gifts. Ann Borg was present to conduct the blood pressure clinic.

Sunday evening December 8 Larry and Carmen Gustafson accompanied by John and Lorraine Sannes, attended the dinner and the musical program, "Evening of Enchantment" presented by the choral music department of Lincoln High school at the Best Western. Sunday evening December 15, Larry and Carmen attended the Christmas Cantata at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls. They participated in the Christmas Cantata at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in the morning.

Zakary Solem Is Six Years Old!

Douglas and Cindi Kilen entertained at their home Sunday, for their nephew, Zakary Solem, who was six years old December 11. Featured for the lunch was a decorated cake memorializing hockey, and served with ice cream, coffee and cider. Zakary received many cards and gifts. Present were Roger A. Solem from Minneapolis, Alfred and Rebecca Solem, Roger L. Solem and Valerie Solem and Andrew.

Lloyd and Harryet Larson brought belated birthday wishes to Alvin and Nina Halvorson Sunday afternoon. Nina had a birthday December 10.

Harold Halvorson received word Saturday afternoon that his brother-in-law, Stanley Wick of Grand Forks, had passed away. He was married to the former Dagny Halvorson. He was 80 years old last June, and has suffered for some time with Alzheimers disease. Sympathy is extended to Dagny and her family.

Thief River Falls will be looking to snap a three-game losing streak tonight (Tuesday) when the Prowlers head to East Grand Forks for an 8 p.m. Section 8 high school hockey game. Junior varsity game starts at 6.

After opening the season with a strong showing in a 4-1 win over Bemidji, the Prowlers turned in a below-par performance in a 6-3 loss at Warroad last Tuesday, then headed to the Twin Cities, where they dropped a 5-4 Thursday night game to St. Paul Johnson and surrendered a 6-3 Saturday afternoon decision to Blake.

The four-game string of road games ends Saturday when the Prowlers will host Hibbing in an afternoon affair at the Sports Arena that includes the junior varsity game at 1 and the varsity contest at 3.

Although the Twin Cities trip, which also included a Friday scrimmage against St. Paul Hill-Murray, did not produce wins, the Prowlers' play improved, reported Thief River Falls head coach Glenn Chiodo.

"We had a decent effort against Johnson," said Chiodo. "Coming off a game where we weren't very happy with the effort, we did show signs of coming to life. But we were still inconsistent; we still showed signs of Warroad at times."

The coaches were more than satisfied with the Prowlers' showing in the match-up against perennially-strong Hill-Murray. "The scrimmage went very, very well for us," noted Chiodo. "We were very happy with the scrimmage. Obviously it doesn't mean anything record-wise, but it was a real positive experience for us."

And the performance carried over into the Blake contest, even though the early-season losing streak continued. "The effort was definitely there," mentioned Chiodo. "We had a couple of breakdowns, but the effort was better. With that kind of effort on a consistent basis we'll win some hockey games."

The Prowlers will, however, have to improved upon a penalty situation that has been a problem in the early going. Nearly half of the 18 goals scored against Thief River Falls in the first four games have come while the Prowlers were skating shorthanded.

"Throughout the weekend, and for that matter, in the Warroad game, too, penalties really hurt us," said Chiodo. "We've taken too many penalties, and our special teams have not done a decent enough job killing the penalties. Obviously the two things go hand-in-hand – we have to stay out of the penalty box, and we have to do a better job killing penalties."

St. Paul Johnson........................5
Thief River Falls........................4

St. Paul Johnson scored in pairs in beating Thief River Falls 5-4.

The Governors started with a 2-0 lead on goals by Jay Geishauer and Dan Lyons at 6:48 and 7:35 of the first period, then after Thief River Falls came back to take a 4-3 lead, the winners' Brad Peterson and Randy Best picked up the tying and winning goals at 8:43 and 10:08, respectively, of the third period.

Nathan Knutson scored twice for the Prowlers, while Chad Frazer and Carter Rogalla added single goals. The Thief River Falls scoring was interrupted by the Governor's Jeremy Hack midway through the second period.

It was a 2-2 tie through one period and a 3-3 draw after two.

Thief River Falls........................3

Thief River Falls scored in the first minute, but could not keep Blake off the scoreboard as the Bears, coached by Lincoln High School graduate Jeff Lindquist, won 6-3.

Sophomore Jeff Twomey, skating his first regular shifts with the varsity, scored twice for the Prowlers, with Nathan Knutson picking up the other Thief River Falls goal.

Jesse Mark had a hat trick performance for the winners, who also got scoring from Stewart Howell, Jon Sturgis and George Karos.

The game was tied 2-2 after one period before Blake went ahead 5-3 in the second period.

TRF girls win second game

A major concern for Thief River Falls head coach Sally Wiltse heading into the 1991-92 girls high school basketball season was the Prowlers' rebounding. And complicating matters was the fact that starting center Amy Adams went down with a preseason ankle injury.

But Saturday, rebounding was a key to Thief River Falls' 52-33 win over Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton. It was the home opener for the Prowlers, who are off to a 2-0 start in Wiltse's first year as head coach.

The Prowlers never trailed the Rebels. It was 13-6 at the end of the first quarter and it was a still-close 21-15 game when Thief River Falls' high-scoring Jodi Kruta went to the bench with three fouls midway though the second quarter. Back-to-back baskets by Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton guard Tracy Reno cut the gap to 21-19, but the Prowlers got key points from the bench when Leslie Ammerman sank two free throws and Lori DeLap connected on a short turn-around jumper to help maintain a 25-21 halftime edge.

Confident they could rebound with the Rebels after finishing with a 17-14 first half edge on the boards, the Prowlers decided to quicken the pace after intermission. And the result was a second half-opening fast break basket by Toni Chiodo and a long jumper by the sophomore guard that quickly opened up a 29-21 spread.

"The thing that made the difference was our rebounding," pointed out Wiltse. "And in the second half, we decided to run if we could." The Prowlers finished with a 39-33 rebound advantage, including a 14-12 edge on the offensive boards.

The Rebels' fate was sealed when Kruta drilled consecutive three-point baskets late in the third quarter as the Prowlers headed into the final eight minutes with a 40-27 cushion.

Kruta, who adds to her school career scoring record each time she connects, finished with 28 points, while senior forward Tarik Koivisto added 10, along with her share of rebounds. "We were doing a good job blocking out on the rebounds," explained Koivisto.

Kruta will get her points, but that won't keep the rest of the Prowlers from putting up shots, Koivisto noted. "When we're open, we'll take the shot," she said. "They were leaving me open."

All the Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton scoring was done by three players, and they each had double-figure efforts as Reno collected 13 points while forward Sara Kuehl and center Tasha Michener both had 10.

Neither team shot the ball very well. Thief River Falls was 20-for-66 (30 percent), and Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton was just 15-for-60 (25 percent). The Prowlers were 7-for-10 at the free throw line, where the Rebels were 2-for-6. Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton finished with more turnovers, 16-12.

Thief River Falls will be at home Tuesday against Crookston and Saturday vs. Fergus Falls – the Prowlers' first North Sub-Section 8AA test of the year. Junior varsity games start at 6 p.m. and varsity games are planned for 7:30 both nights.

Huskies post win in debut

A 1991-92 Goodridge boys high school basketball season that was delayed at the start because of the Grygla-Goodridge march to the Nine-Man state football finals this fall, got underway Friday when the Huskies beat visiting Fisher 64-42.

Brandon Blaine scored a game-high 22 points and teamed with Shane Wilkens in helping to shut down the Flyers' top offensive threats, pointed out Goodridge coach John Rahn. Fisher did not have a double-figure scorer.

"Brandon had an outstanding all-around game," noted Rahn, "and Brandon and Shane both played exceptional defense. They worked really hard on the defensive end."

Donovan Quam also shared the spotlight with 18 points and a team-high six rebounds.

Goodridge had quarter leads of 11-8, 24-15 and 37-23.

The Huskies were 18-for-53 from the field (34 percent) and a busy 20-for-31 at the free throw line. Fisher had a 23-for-64 night from the floor (36 percent) and a 10-for-20 showing at the line. Goodridge finished with a slim 29-28 rebound edge.

"I was disappointed in our rebounding effort, but, overall, for our first outing, I was pleased," said Rahn. "We had some first game jitters, but we played much better in the second half than we did in the first half."

Goodridge hosts Kittson County North tonight (Tuesday) before making an appearance at the Northland Community College Invitational high school tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Thief River Falls.

All-Tournament Team

Northland - Alice Dunning (MVP), Rhonda Rothschadl, Nanette Berg. Mesabi - Natalie Bolt. Itasca - Kris Carlson. Hibbing - Char Omdahl

Championship trophy in the Northland Community College Invitational women's basketball tournament stayed in Thief River Falls over the weekend as the host Pioneers beat Hibbing 70-59 and defeated Mesabi 77-58 in the two-day, four-team event.

"Our best game was Saturday," pointed out Northland coach Sue Barnd. "Friday we struggled. Saturday we did a nice job on the boards, spread out our offense and got our running game going."

Northland's Alice Dunning, a sophomore from Thief River Falls, scored 50 points and grabbed 35 rebounds in the two games to earn tournament MVP honors. "Alice had an outstanding weekend," noted Barnd.

The Pioneers' Rhonda Rothschadl and Nanette Berg were also included on the all-tournament team.

Northland, 4-2 for the year, will host the Grand Forks Air Force Base basketball team tonight (Tuesday) at 6 p.m. to close out the pre-holiday portion of the 1991-92 season.

The 2-2 Northland men's team, idle over the weekend, will play the Grand Forks Air Force Base men's basketball team in the second half of tonight's doubleheader, scheduled to start at 8 p.m. The Chet Engelman-coached Pioneers will compete in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division Invitational Thursday, Friday and Saturday at International Falls before taking a holiday break.

Northland........................70
Hibbing........................59

A double-dose of Alice Dunning and Rhonda Rothschadl carried Northland past Hibbing 70-59.

Rothschadl scored 28 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, while Dunning had 23 points and 21 boards as the Pioneer turned a one-point halftime lead (29-28) into an 11-point victory.

Jill Brantl joined her Northland teammates in double figures with 10 points. Char Omdahl led Hibbing with 18 points.

Northland shot 38 percent from the field (26-for-68) and went 17-for-26 at the free throw line. Hibbing shot only 28 percent from the field (23-for-83) and struggled with an 8-for-20 night at the line. The Pioneers out-rebounded Hibbing 52-34 to help make up for 23 turnovers.

Northland - Marie Oitsch 3, Nikki Anderson 5, Rhonda Rothschadl 28, Jill Brantl 10, Melanie Martin 1, Alice Dunning 23.

Northland........................77
Mesabi........................58

Unlike the semifinal win over Hibbing, Northland didn't wait until the second half of the championship game against Mesabi to put a lock on the title, building a 44-28 halftime lead that stood up for a 77-58 victory.

The semifinal numbers for the Pioneers' Alice Dunning and Rhonda Rothschadl were repeated in the finals as Dunning collected 27 points and 14 rebounds, while Rothschadl had 19 points and 17 rebounds.

Northland also received double figure production from Nanette Berg with 13 points and Melanie Martin with 12. Natalie Bolt led Mesabi with 15 points.

The Pioneers were an impressive 29-for-50 from the field (58 percent) and 7-for-12 at the free throw line. Mesabi went 24-for-72 from the field (33 percent) and 4-for-10 at the line.

Northland out-rebounded Mesabi 50-28.

The Pioneers played the tournament without the service of point guard Susie Bengston because of an injury.

Water level on Union Lake must have dropped slightly after Jeremy McLean of Thief River Falls pulled this 10 pound, four ounce walleye through the ice about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Jeremy had spent all day in Richard Johnson's fish house and had caught only one perch before this trophy came along. The fish apparently wanted to be caught, because Jeremy insists he had in on his lines three times. Angling in about 15 feet of water through 18 inches of ice, Jeremy had the fish up about halfway to the ice when it let go of the crappie minnow he was using. Then his second ice fishing stick went clattering across the floor of the fish house and the fish was on again. It also dropped the second bait but went back to the first minnow still hanging in the water. Jeremy said he brought the lunker up to the ice a couple of times before he coaxed it through the eight-inch hole. The fish was 30 inches in length and is destined for a spot on Jeremy's wall.

Nordics lose first tournament game

Stephen and Tri-County picked up first round wins Monday in the Argyle Invitational girls high school basketball tournament.

The Tigers defeated Marshall County Central 64-47 and the Wildcats edged host Argyle 38-35.

Finals tonight (Tuesday) will find Marshall County Central and Argyle matched up in the 6:30 third place game, followed by the Stephen and Tri-County championship contest.

Stephen........................64
Marshall Co. Central........................47

Stephen rebounding and Marshall County Central turnovers added up to a 64-47 win for the Tigers.

The winners finished with a 38-19 rebound advantage, including a big 24-8 difference on the offensive boards, and the Nordics were charged with 28 turnovers – 11 more than the Tigers.

"Offensive rebounds and our turnovers – that was basically the game right there," pointed out Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "They (Tigers) crashed the boards really well and we didn't do a very good job blocking out. They aren't that much bigger than we are, but they were much more aggressive."

Stephen had quarter leads of 15-12, 34-25 and 48-37.

Darcy Kuznia of Stephen out-pointed Sara Lokstad of Marshall County Central 29-26 for game-high scoring honors, with the Tigers' Rachael Kazmierczak joining them in double figures with 13 points.

Marshall County Central shot 43 percent from the field (18-for-41) and had an 8-for-10 night at the free throw line. Stephen shot 44 percent from the floor (26-for-59) and wound up 9-for-12 at the line.

The Nordics are 2-3 for the year.

Saturday's schedule starts with the seventh place game at 1 p.m., followed by the consolation final at 2:45, third place game at 5:15 and championship game at 7.

The tournament is co-sponsored by the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club, KTRF, Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Thief River Falls and Hartz Foods.

Daily admission passes are priced at $3 for adults and $2 for students.

RLCC boys are 0-3 after 49-43 setback

A seven-point Red Lake County Central lead disappeared during a four-minute second half dry spell Friday as the Mustangs dropped a 49-43 boys high school basketball decision to Win-E-Mac.

"We didn't play too bad a game, but we made a few mistakes at the end that really hurt us," reported Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore, whose team fell to 0-3.

Red Lake County Central had an 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter. It was a 28-28 tied at halftime, with the Mustangs going up 33-26 before they settled for a 33-30 lead to start the fourth quarter.

Cory Simonson led the fourth quarter Win-E-Mac comeback, scoring 10 of his game-high 19 points over the final eight minutes.

Jody Martell and Ryan Melby netted 11 pointed each to lead Red Lake County Central.

The visiting Mustangs were 16-for-43 from the field (37 percent) and 7-for-11 at the free throw line. The Patriots went 20-for-45 from the field (44 percent), but struggled through a 9-for-21 night at the line. Win-E-Mac held a 30-22 rebound advantage, and made the most of 12 offensive boards, pointed out Fore. The Patriots topped the turnover charts 14-11.

Red Lake County Central plays Red Lake Falls Tuesday in a rescheduled contest at Plummer before the Mustangs head to the Northland Community College Invitational high school tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Thief River Falls.

Scoring

Swim meet called off

Thief River Falls' annual Prowler Relays boys high school swim meet was postponed Saturday because of the weather. A new date will be announced later.

A gap in the Prowlers' schedule will have them idle until the Saturday, Jan. 4 Fergus Falls Invitational.

Detroit Lakes was a one-sided 125-61 winner over Thief River Falls Thursday in a dual meet match-up at the Franklin Middle School pool.

The Lakers won each of the swimming events, leaving the Prowlers with just one first place finish – by Tony Sculthorp in diving.

It was the second loss in two dual meet starts for the Prowlers, who will not have another dual outing until Jan. 23 at Bemidji.

Sports Boosters meet

Final meeting of the 1991 portion of the 1991-92 Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club will be held Thursday at 12-noon at the Rex Cafe.

Lincoln High School hockey coach Glenn Chiodo will be the guest speaker.

Freshmen girls lose

Thief River Falls ninth grade girls basketball team is 0-3 for the year following a 53-33 Thursday loss to Crookston and a 34-33 Saturday defeat at the hands of Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton.

Lisa Rendulich scored 19 points, but Thief River Falls still came up short in the loss to Crookston.

The winners had quarter leads of 15-12, 22-20 and 36-26.

Rendulich added a 14-point effort, but Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton came from behind in the fourth quarter for the Saturday win.

Thief River Falls led at the quarter breaks 10-5, 17-14 and 26-23.

Middle River girls 1-2 at Warren

Middle River beat Ada-Borup 66-38 Friday, but lost to Warren 40-37 Saturday to complete a 1-2 showing at the Warren Invitational girls high school basketball tournament.

The Skippers dropped an already-reported 63-48 first round decision to East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Thursday.

East Grand Forks edged Hallock-Kennedy 64-63 for championship honors in the eight-team, three-day event.

Middle River, 3-3 for the year, will close out its pre-holiday schedule Thursday by playing Badger-Greenbush at Badger.

Tournament Results

Sickness took some of the punch out of the Ada-Borup line-up, and Middle River turned the Thursday consolation semifinal into a route, 66-38.

The Skippers jumped out to a 19-2 first quarter lead and had a 44-8 halftime spread. It was 55-22 through three quarters.

Krissi Super led the winners with 27 points, while Denise Johnson netted 13 and Holly Gram scored 11, to go along with a team-leading 14 rebounds. Brenda Lee and Stacie Larson scored 14 points apiece for the Cougars.

Middle River shot 45 percent from the field on a 29-for-45 outing, and had an 8-for-12 game at the free throw line. Ada-Borup was just 10-for-22 at the line.

Scoring

Early foul trouble caused Middle River problems as the Skippers lost a 40-37 consolation championship contest to host Warren Saturday.

"We don't have the depth to have two regulars sitting on the bench with four fouls in the first half," noted Middle River coach Tom Neibauer. "We seem to have a hard time keeping our regulars in the game."

Still, Middle River led 14-10, 23-16 and 31-27 at the quarter stops. But the Ponies had cut into a 14-point deficit by the time the third quarter had ended, and they went out to out-score the Skippers 13-6 over the final eight minutes.

Middle River was 17-for-44 from the field (39 percent) and wound up 3-for-10 at the free throw line, where Warren was 10-for-22.

Scoring

Area deer numbers reported

Deer registration for Thief Lake stations recorded 3,107 deer for the 1991 season, it was reported recently by area Minnesota Department of Natural Resources officials.

The 1991 figures ranks second in terms of harvest over the past ten years. Compared to 1990, this year's harvest showed a 25 percent increase and falls just 485 short of the record 1985 take.

Car counts in the Thief Lake area indicated a 36 percent increase in hunting pressure over the previous hunting season. Hunting conditions were nearly ideal locally, with daily temperatures in the 20 to 40 degree range and snow cover from three to six inches, note officials.

Deer populations were also higher than last season, which allowed for an increase in antlerless permits. Thus, the increase in hunting pressure, ideal weather, higher deer populations and increased antlerless permits all contributed to a very successful 1991 harvest.

Youth Hockey

Thief River Falls VFW Bantam A and Legion Bantam B hockey teams were both involved in tournament play over the weekend.

Jeff Tunberg-coached Bantam A team participated in the Moorhead Invitational, while the Mark Enge-coached Bantam B team hosted its TRFAHA Invitational.

Thief River Falls went 1-3 at 16-team Moorhead event, losing to White Bear Lake 10-4, Cloquet 7-6 in overtime and Alexandria 7-4 before beating Hibbing 3-1.

Tim Barry had a hat trick effort against White Bear Lake, with Steve Rambeck picking up one goal. Thief River Falls goalies Chanc Keefe and Shane Duffy finished with 19 saves; the White Bear Lake goalie stopped 13 shots.

Cloquet erased a 6-4 Thief River Falls lead by scoring twice in a nine second span in the third period, then picked up the game-winner with four minutes left in a 10-minute sudden-death overtime. Nick Chiedo scored twice, while single goals came from Chad Hanson, Jason Cota, Brian Howe and Barry. Keefe turned back 36 shots; the Cloquet goalie had 29 saves.

Aaron Ehrenstrom, Seamus Duffy, Cota and Chiedo scored in the loss to Alexandria. Shane Duffy had 25 saves; the Alexandria goalie stopped 22 shots.

Kaine Martell, Seamus Duffy and Chiodo scored the goals as Thief River Falls came out of the Moorhead tournament with a Sunday morning win over Hibbing and a 3-7 record overall. Keefe finished with 28 saves; the Hibbing goalie had 24 stops.

In Bantam B action, host Thief River Falls beat Brainerd 6-2 in first round play, but lost to the Fargo Flyers 3-2 in the semifinals and fell to Moorhead 11-0 in the third place game.

Bryan Cleven scored twice, while Ryan Foole, Matt LeMoine and Jason Breiland had single goals in the Thief River Falls win over Brainerd.

Cayler Olson and Breiland scored the goals in the loss to the Fargo Flyers.

Pee-Wees

Two tough weekend losses to Halleck and Bemidji dropped the Thief River Falls Elks Pee-Wee B-1 team to 2-6 for the year.

It was a 5-4 overtime loss to Hallock Saturday, with Thief River Falls goals coming from Nick Daley, Adam Swanson, Nathan Jordet and Eric Rouland. Seth Martell came up with 25 saves in the Thief River Falls nets.

Sunday, Thief River Falls and Bemidji played to a 1-1 two-period standoff before Bemidji came out a 3-1 winner. Jordet scored the Thief River Falls goal. Martell finished with 21 saves.

DNR News

DNR Gift Certificate

Now in its third season, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Gift Certificate has become a proven favorite at holiday gift-giving time, according to Dawn Thell, DNR License Bureau front counter supervisor. The DNR Gift Certificate allows last-minute shoppers to give hunting and fishing licenses, cross country ski passes, state park vehicle permits, collectible wildlife stamps, and registrations for boats, snowmobiles and all-terrain vehicles to those hard-to-buy-for outdoors people on their holiday shopping lists.

"I think it's the personalized nature of our gift certificates that have made them such a hit," Thell said. Unlike typical gift certificates for dollar amounts of merchandise, DNR Gift Certificates are for specific licenses and seasons.

"Every outdoors person needs a particular license or registration in order to pursue their favorite activity," Thell said. "This is one way to make sure they have everything they need when the time comes to get out there and do it."

DNR Gift Certificates may be obtained and redeemed in person or by mail only at the DNR License Bureau, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4026. For mail application, contact the DNR License Bureau toll-free in Minnesota at 1-800-766-6000.

Thief River Falls guard Toni Chiodo looked inside for a teammate as Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton defender Tracy Rano closed in during the girls high school basketball game played Saturday in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers won 52-33.

Valley North wins RLCC Invitational

It went into overtime Saturday afternoon before Valley North emerged a 50-47 winner over Climax in the championship game of the Red Lake County Central Invitational girls high school basketball tournament at Plummer.

Host Red Lake County Central defeated Grygla-Goodridge 58-40 in the third place game.

Valley North	50
Climax	47

Climax connected at the buzzer at the close of regulation time to extend the game, but the Vikings' three-point attempt at the end of overtime was off the mark as Valley North held on for a 50-47 championship game win.

A balanced Valley North attack included Amy Blackman with 14 points, Ronda Olson 13 and Sarah Hammerlund 12. Lisa Peterson scored a game-high 15 points for Climax.

Valley North had a 14-13 first quarter lead, a 25-20 halftime edge and a 38-34 third quarter advantage.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	ot	T
Valley North	14	11	13	5	7	50
Climax	13	7	14	9	4	47

Valley North - Paula Nelson 5, Amy Blackman 14, Sarah Hammerlund 12, Jody Osowski 2, Kori Gowan 2, Jen Vacura 2, Ronda Olson 13.

– Climax - Nicki Haden 6, Tiffany Malmlov 6, Paula Evenson 2, Lisa Peterson 15, Marsha Nichols 6, Chrissi Nettum 6.

Red Lake Co. Central	58
Grygla-Goodridge	40

Dawn Bachand scored 17 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, while Jenny Walter scored 14 points and also had 10 rebounds as Red Lake County Central handled Grygla-Goodridge 58-40 in the tournament's third place game.

Jill Radniecki joined her Red Lake County Central teammates in double figures with 10 points as the Mustangs improved their record to 2-4. The Wolverines, who were led by Kathy Smeby's 11 points, fell to 0-6.

Red Lake County Central had an 18-11 first quarter lead, opened up a 36-19 halftime gap and headed into the fourth quarter with a 49-30 cushion.

"We had a good spurt in the second quarter where we played pretty well," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "We tried using a press for the first time, and it worked pretty well."

Red Lake County Central was 27-for-64 from the field (42 percent) and went 3-for-6 at the free throw line. Grygla-Goodridge was 17-for-51 from the field (33 percent) and had a 6-for-10 day at the line. The Mustangs wound up with a 42-36 rebound edge.

"We didn't give up," pointed out Grygla-Goodridge coach Mike Gast. "I can't fault the effort. We probably played the best defense we have all year in the second half; they worked really hard as a team. But we just can't score."

Grygla-Goodridge won't return to action until a Jan. 3 match-up with Middle River in Goodridge, but Red Lake County Central will have a Thursday trip to Red Lake Falls before taking a holiday break.

Outdoor News

Minnesota's second fall turkey season was a success by all measures, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"Although weather during the two hunting periods was not ideal, there were no accidents reported and the hunter success rate was nearly 30 percent," Lines said.

A total of 552 turkeys were taken by 1,850 licensed hunters during the two five-day seasons held this past October in four zones in southeastern Minnesota.

Because the hunt precedes the period of over winter mortality that occurs naturally, Liner said the limited fall hunt should have no effect on the size of the spring wild turkey breeding population, currently estimated at 18,000 birds.

Project Wild program receives recognition with President award

Project Wild has been selected as one of three recipients of the President's Environment and Conservation Challenge Award for Education and Communication. In bestowing this honor, President George Bush is recognizing Project Wild as an organization "that best exemplifies the cooperative, innovation spirit of the new environmental ear in the area of education and communication."

Project Wild is a conservation and environment education program for teachers of kindergarten through high school students in all 50 states and five other countries. The purpose of Project Wild is to educate youth to make informed decision affecting the quality of the environment for people and wildlife.

Project Wild is sponsored in Minnesota by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Project Wild has provided environmental education workshops in Minnesota to more than 7,000 educators. The Minnesota Program, administered through the DNR Nongame Wildlife Program offers workshops statewide through which teachers participate in activities that teach ecological principals.

Dr. Cheryl Charles, the national executive director of Project Wild, accepted the President's award.

So far, Project Wild has provided conservation education materials and workshops to more than 300,000 educators. These educators in turn have used Project Wild to teach more than 20 million students about the importance of wildlife, its habitat and the responsible actions that humans can take to protect the quality of the environment for people and wildlife.

For Project Wild information, contact Karen Van Norman at 612-297-2423.

Among the oddities of the 1991 deer hunting season in this area was this 13-point non-typical buck taken by Dean Brandon of Thief River Falls on the opening morning of the firearms season in November. The buck's antlers were in full velvet and still somewhat pliable. The deer field dressed at 211 pounds and was one of about a dozen bucks taken by the 15-member party with which Brandon hunts east of Middle River.

DIRECTOR OF NURSING-LONG TERM CARE

Roseau Area Hospital District is a 45-bed acute care facility with 64 beds of Long Term Care. We currently have eight active physicians on staff with another one scheduled to arrive in August of 1992. We service 15,000 people in Northwestern Minnesota and southern Canada, with 2,000 of these people being over the age of 65. We are seeking a Director of Nursing who wishes to accept the challenge of providing quality long term care services to our golden citizens.

A 44-bed replacement facility is scheduled to begin construction in the spring of 1992. This facility will have 49 single bedrooms with the balance in semi-private. This will be attached to a present 20-bed skilled care facility. This will create an opportunity to provide resident centered quality care.

We are seeking an individual who is an R.N. with two to five years of supervisory experience in a Long Term Care setting with increasing responsible track record. This person will be responsible for long term care nursing, activities and social services. We provide a very competitive salary and above average benefits.

PLEASE SUBMIT YOUR RESUME TO:

County Board Proceedings

Dec. 17, 1991
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY
NOVEMBER 22, 1991 - 2:00 PM

Pursuant to adjournment the Pennington County Board of Commissioners met in the Commissioners' room in the Courthouse in Thief River Falls on Friday November 22, 1991 at 2:00 p.m. Members present: Swanson, Penning, Koop, Murphy & Jensen. Members absent: none.

Tom Williams representative of Blue Cross and Blue Shield presented the final rates from Blue Cross and Blue Shield for Health insurance beginning January 1992. The rates quoted were $209.20 single and $446.24 family. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to approve the health insurance rates of $209.20 single and $446.24 family for the 1992 calendar year. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Penning introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

"WHEREAS, The Minnesota Legislature has adopted MS 207A requiring a Presidential Primary for April 7, 1992, and subsequent Presidential Elections, and,

WHEREAS, A Presidential Primary in reality constitutes a popularity contest inasmuch as Delegates for Party Conventions at which Presidential Candidates are to be nominated and endorsed should properly be accomplished through the Party Caucus system, and,

WHEREAS, present legislation does not provide for reimbursement to Counties, Cities and Townships for the costs of conducting such a primary election; and,

WHEREAS, real estate taxes are the only source of revenue for payment of costs to be incurred in conducting a Presidential Primary, a source deemed to be an improper force of funding for this type of an expenditure, now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of County Commissioners in and for the County of Pennington, does hereby urge the 1992 Minnesota Legislature to consider the repeal of MS 207A; and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That if such repealing legislation cannot be adopted, the Legislature consider adopting legislation whereby all costs attributable to a Presidential Primary be assessed the political parties within the State of Minnesota, the sole beneficiaries of such a Primary Election and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Pennington County Auditor be, and he hereby is, directed to forward the position of the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County to State Senator, LeRoy Stumpf, Senate District 1; Representative, Wally Sparby, District 1B, the Chairs of the Senate and House Election Committees, the Association of Minnesota Counties, and such other offices as he may deem appropriate.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Murphy and upon vote was unanimously carried.

The County Auditor reviewed correspondence from the Minnesota Counties Insurance Trust regarding the dividend given to members of the property and casualty division which reflects performance results from 1980 to 1990. Pennington County's dividend amounted to $14,671.

The County Board then reviewed the request for a 1992 appropriation from the Pennington County Fair Association. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to appropriate $10,000 to the Pennington County Fair Association for 1992, the same as 1991. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to approve the minutes of November 12, 1991 as written. Motion carried.

County Engineer, Art Desrosiers met with the County Board to discuss County Highway department matters.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Koop, seconded by Commissioner Swanson and upon vote was unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, contract No. 7910 has in all things been completed, and the County Board being fully advised in the premises

NOW THEN BE IT RESOLVED: That we do hereby accept said completed project for and in behalf of the County of Pennington and authorize final payment as specified herein.

The County Board then reviewed the County's Culvert policy. The County Engineer will study it and come back with recommendations for changes.

The County Engineer then reviewed quotes he had received for a pickup for the County Highway Department.

The following quotes were received: Tunberg Motors - 1991 Ford - $12,973; Tunberg Motors 1992 Ford - $13,479; Westside Motors - 1992 Dodge - $11,999 to $12,400; Northern Motors 1992 Chevrolet - $12,389.

No quotes were received from Thyren Auto Sales, Galaxy Auto Sales or Ron's Auto Sales.

Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to authorize the County Engineer to buy a pickup from Westside Motors on condition that it is within the price range quoted and that the delivery date be acceptable. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to approve paying maintenance IV rates to Keith Thode and Steve Dahlen for the time they operate the Motor Grader as recommended by the County Engineer. Motion unanimously carried.

At this time Richard Nordhagen, Shirley Borgen and Bruce Keller met with the County Board to discuss the management Contract with Future Fuels, Inc. to operate the Solid Waste Facility for 1992. Bruce Keller, Representative of Brady Martz and Associates, reviewed the requested amount of $333,932 to extend the management agreement thru 1992. It was agreed that the purchase of a personal computer be removed from the Management Contract.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Penning and upon vote was unanimously carried.

BE IT RESOLVED, that Pennington County extend the Management Contract with Future Fuel Inc. for the year 1992 at an agreed amount of $330,432.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to authorize Future Fuel Inc. to obtain quotes for a Personal Computer and present them to the County Board for approval. Motion unanimously carried.

Rick Nordhagen then presented the following Future Fuel Inc. Policy for Change of Management Personnel:

Future Fuel Inc. currently operates the solid waste processing facility under a management and services contract for Pennington County. If any persons of management were to physically leave the facility there would still be responsibility and obligation to fulfill the terms of the contract.

However, if any part of management would discontinue employment they would have to be replaced by someone to fulfill their actual duties at the facility to assure that the obligations of the contract are met. The process in which a replacement would be found for the replacement of management would be to advertise locally and to advertise in solid waste publications under the business and employment opportunities section to seek qualified persons to fulfill vacant positions.

It will also be the responsibility of any part of management to give a minimum of sixty (60) days notice before vacating the position. During the sixty day notice it will be their responsibility to qualify a person or persons to replace the vacated position and to train the new person.

Commissioner Murphy then discussed the Dyrstad Commission.

Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to adjourn to December 10th, 1991, 10:00 a.m.

Accidents reported to Law enforcement

Several accident were reported to law enforcement during the past week. The total number of calls, however, were down from the previous week.

Accidents. On December 9 at 4:58 p.m. police received a report of an accident on County road 61 in Rocksbury township. According to the report, a car owned by Virgil Balderson, Thief River Falls, and driven by Scott Bergdahl, Thief River Falls, was going north on County road 61 in Rocksbury township when the vehicle crossed the roadway from private property to private property and ran into a security fence owned by Schmalz Industries. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,700. Damage to the fence was estimated at $750. Following an investigation, Bergdahl was cited for careless driving and driving after revocation.

On December 13 at 3:12 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Edgewood and Dale street. According to the report, a car driven by Jeremy Carl Anderson, route 2, Thief River Falls, was going north on Dale and turning east onto Edgewood when the car skidded on ice and struck a Northland Taxi driven by Tracy Anderson, Thief River Falls, which was going west on Dale and had stopped for a stop sign. Damages were estimated at $200 to the car driven by Jeremy Anderson and $500 to the taxi. Jeremy Anderson complained of a bump to his head.

On December 14 at 11:42 a.m. police received a report of an accident at Spruce and Greenwood. According to the report, a car driven by Arlene Johanning, Thief River Falls, was going south on Spruce and stopped for a stop sign, then she proceeded into the intersection at Greenwood and her car collided with a pickup driven west on Greenwood by Kermit Malberg, Thief River Falls. Johanning was cited for failure to yield and no seat belt. Malberg was cited for no seat belt. Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the Johanning vehicle and $500 to the Malberg pickup.

On December 13 at 1:20 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a call to the elevator in St. Hilaire. Acceding to an accident report, a semi driven by John Fassinger, Cyrus, was going north in a parking lot and turned too sharply sinking a 70 foot tall grain auger. The grain auger then fell on the cab of another semi owned by J. Lynn Ltd., rural Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at $1,500 to the grain auger, $3,000 to the parked semi and no damage to the truck driven by Fassinger.

On December 14 at 9 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department responded to a report of an accident one mile south of county road 2 on Highway 59. According to the report, a pickup owned by Kleven Ford of Red Lake Falls and driven by Douglas F. Peterson, rural Plummer, was pulling a car owned by Rosalyn Knutson of Plummer out of the ditch when Knutson continued backing up and collided with the Peterson vehicle. Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the Knutson vehicle and $500 to the Peterson vehicle.

On December 16 at 1:08 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Arnold and First street. According to the report, a pickup driven by Ronald Haugen, route 2, Goodridge, was stopped at a stop sign facing south on Arnold. Haugen proceeded into the intersection colliding with a car driven by Michelle Sandsmark, Thief River Falls, which was going west on First street. Damages were estimated at $500 each.

Thefts. On December 12 at 2:20 p.m. a local man reported that $11 in food stamps never arrived in the mail.

On December 12 at 8:51 p.m. Kmart reported that a person had taken a coffe maker from the store without paying. The individual was followed to Northland Foods and police stopped the individual. Other items were found in his car including two phones, a phone cord and coffee filters. One telephone had been taken from Pamida, and the filters and a telephone and cord were also taken from Kmart. Two bottles of perfume had been returned to the store for a refund of $36.06 earlier. That money was recovered as well. The 39-year-old Moorhead man faces charges of theft. A second individual from Thief River Falls was with the man but has not been charged with a crime.

In November Robert Helps, 29, Glyndon, reported that $437 in welfare checks had been stolen. During an investigation, it was discovered that the checks were received by Helps and cashed for him by another party. Charges of theft over $200 and filing a false report with police are pending against Helps.

On December 15 at 6:52 p.m. Hugo's reported that a 17-year-old male had taken a pack of cigarettes without paying for them. The youth faces charges of theft.

On December 13 at 6:40 p.m. Hugo's reported a shoplifter. A 26-year-old man of Savage, MN, faces charges of theft.

On December 13 at 7:39 p.m. Kmart reported a juvenile boy, age 16, took some tapes without paying for them. The youth faces charges of theft.

Vandalism. On December 12 at 8:35 p.m. police received a report that someone had thrown a snowball threw the southside window at Price World. Damage loss was estimated at $300.

Driving while intoxicated. On December 11 Pennington county sheriff's department arrested Michael Graff, route 3, Thief River Falls, age 21 for driving while intoxicated.

On December 14 at 10:48 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's deputy observed a vehicle being driven erratically. Bruce Folkedahl, 30, route 3, Thief River Falls, was arrested for gross driving while intoxicated.

Assault. On December 14 at 12:23 a.m. police were called to the VFW club in Thief River Falls, a subject allegedly punched another male three or four times in the face causing his teeth to come loose. The victim required medical attention. Delroy Gilbertson, 40, Newfolden, was cited for fifth degree assault.

Members of the Thief River Falls Friendship club hailed the arrival of Santa Claus at the Christmas party Monday afternoon in the Heritage Community center. Members of the club are former residents of the state hospital or workshop workers at the Occupational Development center in Thief River Falls. Lunch was served by the St. Mary Jo circle of St. Bernard's Catholic church. The club meets twice a month with volunteers from women's organizations in Thief River Falls serving lunch at each meeting. The club is supported by the Thief River Falls United Way and Pennington County Social Services. Thirty-two people attended the Monday Christmas party.

Legislators hear concerns on rural life

Cuts in mediation and advocacy programs, concern over weakening of state corporation laws, need for health care, and taxation questions were presented to area legislators Thursday, December 12, by the Northwest Minnesota Catholic/Lutheran Rural Life Commission at Crookston.

Senators Roger Moe of Erskine and LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls and Representatives Bernie Lieder of Crookston and Jim Tunheim of Kennedy met with the commission and representatives of the Bishops' offices of the Crookston Diocese and Northwest Minnesota Synod ELCA.

According to Milo Mathison, chairman, the commission expressed its concern over cuts in the mediation and advocacy programs of the state. "The need for the professional help these programs give to farmers facing foreclosure is greater than ever," stated Willard Brunelle, Crookston area farmer and commission member.

Concern was also expressed over pressure large agri-corporations are reportedly placing on the legislature to weaken state corporation laws. A specific concern was corporations seeking legislation to allow them to construct mammoth feedlots in southern Minnesota.

Legislators were encouraged by the commission to continue work on enacting a strong health care bill for the state. Sen. Moe responded that the bill passed by the legislature last year did not go far enough and advocated that more energy be directed to a national health care bill. General agreement was expressed between commission members and legislators on these issues.

"When the matter of taxes to pay for these programs was raised," chairman Mathison said, "one commission member reminded the legislators that those earning below $4,100 are paying 16.7 per cent of their income to the state and those earning $56,000 or more pay only 9.1 per cent of their income in state taxes. The commission supports progressive taxation to pay for these needed state programs."

Fuel assistance applications still accepted

Persons who need fuel assistance and have not yet applied may call their outreach aide for information and an appointment. Households applying in January will need to verify income for the months of October, November and December, 1991.

DTED denies area business center plan

Collaborative proposal made by Bemidji State University and the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund for administration of the Northcentral Small Business development center was recently denied by the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development (DTED).

Although the state agency had previously indicated that it would fund the proposal, specific requirements set by DTED to maintain the center with regional administrative control were unable to be met. As a result of the department's denial, Moorhead State University will administer satellite small business development center services in Thief River Falls and Bemidji beginning on or about Feb. 1, 1992.

"We were surprised and disappointed with the apparent change in the state's decision," states Ruth Edevold, director of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund. "We had worked closely with the university in developing a partnership for providing SBDC services throughout northwest Minnesota that addressed both the budget constraints of the university and the regulations of the Initiative Fund. Unfortunately, DTED chose not to accept this partnership."

The Initiative Fund, a public foundation serving 12 counties in northwest Minnesota, currently operates a grant program, business loan program and various special projects.

"The fund's activities are targeted to increase economic growth and business development necessary to achieve economic stability in the region, and to assist people, organizations and communities in shaping their future," Edevold said.

"Taste of Mexico"

Spanish instructor Mary Dyrud of Northland Community college introduced the program Wednesday when Dr. Herminio Diaz performed the music of Puerto Rico at the Northland theatre. The program was part of Hispanic Month at the college. Final event of the month will be the "Taste of Mexico" sampling of foods and music of Mexico next Wednesday, December 18, at 12 noon in room D-62 at the college. Food is being prepared by members of the NCC Spanish class taught by Mrs. Dyrud.

Initiative Fund grants $34,125 to three areas

Board of directors of the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund (NWMIF) recently awarded three grants totaling $34,125.

Lake of the Woods county received a $15,000 grant for a 12-month study of tourism in their region. The results are expected to provide the information needed to design an overall marketing strategy to develop ways to ensure quality year-round tourism jobs that can support families in the area.

The Minnesota Council, American Youth Hostels, received $15,125 for the Mississippi Headwaters AYH-Hostel project. The funds will be used for marketing activities for the youth hostel that will be housed in the old park headwaters building at Lake Itasca State Park.

The City of Park Rapids received $4,000 to assist in its long range planning efforts.

The NWMIF grant program hat three funding areas of interest.

The General Grants program considers projects that (1) develop technology-based industries that diversify or add value to the region's economic base, (2) establish an information base to increase the economic status of the region or (3) build joint ventures within the human service system that increases the effectiveness of delivery.

The Community Incentives program targets efforts such as planning, needs assessments or feasibility studies. Purpose of the program is to assist local efforts to increase self-reliance, enhance problem solving strategies or address current problems and issues.

Under the Non-Profit Technical Assistance program, funds are available to 501 (c) (3) organizations for one-on-one consulting services to address specific management issues.

The NWMIF focuses on the needs of the region through a variety of activities which include a loan program for expansion and start-ups of small businesses, implementation of special projects targeted to specific regional issues that need special attention and as a financial partner to support projects that address the Grant Program areas of interest.

NWMIF Pre-Proposal guidelines may be obtained by calling either the Bemidji office at 759-2057 or Crookston office at 281-6528.

Teen parents eligible for child care

Teen parents who need help paying for child care while in school are eligible for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) child care program if they are receiving AFDC payments and participating in Project STRIDE.

Teen parents not receiving AFDC payments may be eligible for the Basic Sliding Fee Child Care Program. Those who are without a high school diploma or GED or in need of remedial or basic skill courses to pursue employment or school are given first priority in this program.

The programs may help pay for child care expenses during school, study and travel time. For more information, contact the child care fund at the county social services office.

Private pilot ground school offered by TC

Preparation course for private pilot flight training and the FAA private pilot written test will be offered by the Thief River Falls technical college customized training and services division Starting Monday, January 13.

The course will cover aerodynamics, aircraft systems and performance, navigation, communications, weather and regulations. Students will have the option of taking the FAA written test at the end of the course.

Instruction will take place Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. for seven weeks beginning January 13 at the Thief River Falls technical college aviation department. Pat Hoffmann will be instructor and cost is $85 tuition plus $94 for supplies.

For more information or to preregister contact the technical college's customized training and services division by calling 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884 if outside the Thief River Falls exchange.

THANK YOU
NORTHWEST AIRLINES
FOR THE 727

Presenting the keys to the Boeing 727-100 airplane donated to the Thief River Falls Technical college at ceremonies Thursday afternoon was Rod Peters (left), technical training director for Northwest Airlines. Accepting the keys in the aviation training center at the Thief River Falls regional airport was Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the technical college. The plane is valued at approximately $1 million and Dr. Gunderson said its receipt is one of the major highlights of his education career.

Cost share funds available to seal abandoned wells

More than 90 per cent of Minnesotans get their water from under ground. Current studies of wells in northwestern Minnesota indicate that nitrates and pesticides are contaminating water supplies. Abandoned wells are a direct channel for these chemical pollutants.

Old well casings that have just been cut off and buried act like funnels to the underlying aquifers. Runoff water picks up all kinds of goodies on its way—bacteria from feed lots, chemicals from fields and lawns, pollutants from roads, oil from the last change in the car and who knows what all from dumps.

"It's just like flushing it all down your well," states Gary Lane of the Pennington county soil and water conservation district.

"It has been estimated that there exists as many as four million abandoned wells in Minnesota alone. They can have one big impact on 10,000 lakes!"

Minnesota's legislature, during the 1991 session, increased the funding for grants to local governments for abandoned well activities. The board of water and soil resources will make grants to counties to share the costs of sealing high priority abandoned wells under Minnesota Statutes 103I.331.

A minimum definition of a priority well is one whose "construction, condition and location poses a problem greater than that posed by inherent geologic conditions."

In 1990 Minnesota passed a disclosure law to make landowners aware of the liabilities associated with abandoned wells. This law states that at the time of sale, the landowner must disclose all wells on the property—in use, abandoned and those covered by a maintenance permit. The landowner is liable for up to six years after the sale if a well he had knowledge of was not disclosed.

Under the water well construction code, MDH210-230 (1974), "Abandoned wells must be properly sealed...." It also states, "A property owner is responsible for sealing an abandoned well."

Under the guidelines for this grant, cost sharing will be 75 per cent of the total cost, not to exceed $2,000 per well. A typical 100-foot well would cost the landowner approximately $50 to seal.

For more information on sealing abandoned wells, contact the Pennington county soil and water conservation district at 681-3348.

LET US ENJOY THIS HOLIDAY AND REMEMBER ITS MEANING

The hall is decked, the shopping's done,
And presents lie beneath the tree,
All gaily wrapped; a time for fun
And holiday festivity.
Our friends and relatives will call,
As well as neighbors we invite;
A happy time for one and all
When distant loved ones reunite.
But even as we celebrate,
Let's not forget that we should pray,
As lessons of our faith relate
The message of this holiday.
Our House of Worship will explain
The meaning of the Savior's birth:
The love He gave that will remain,
Along with hope for peace on earth.

—Gloria Nowak

Peace on the earth,
good will to men,
From heaven's all gracious King.
— The Angel's Song

"Every good gift

We put the Ho-Ho-Ho back in Christmas!

Christmas will be a whole new experience for this family. This year. Any tears—will only be tears of laughter. The children will laugh again. And trust again. Mom and Dad will snuggle and smile a lot. The whole family will have the best Christmas they've ever had. Because this family had treatment for the disease of alcoholism. If someone you love needs help—give them a gift of real love—a chance to have a real merry Christmas. Just call, and we'll talk about it.

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met on Dec. 5, with 22 registered. The guests were Philip and Helen Hereth from Karlstad, and Adrienne Lefrooth from Strandquist. Another quilt was finished. After the Pledge of Allegiance was said and Table Grace prayed, lunch was served by the hostess, Ida Bruce. Helen Jacobson won the door prize. Some of the ladies came in on a later date and put up the Christmas tree and cleaned out the closet. Everyone is getting ready for Christmas now and when you become a Senior Citizen you will find you are at this stage in life responsible for another generation to give presents to and keep the family together. Here's hoping you don't overdo it.

Folks around here were saddened this week when another of the "once neighbors" who had moved away from here but still kept in contact, suddenly passed away. Edwin Madsen, who has been living in Devenport, IA, for several years died on Tuesday and the funeral was on Friday. Elsie Lefrooth, Donny and Marlys Lefrooth and Greg Lefrooth attended the funeral and came back home on Monday.

Dear Fire Chief Bjorkman:

Please accept this "Thank You" for the assistance provided by the Thief River Falls fireman during the recent fire at Marshall County Central High School. The professional manner in which your crew operated was truly outstanding under a very difficult situation.

A deep sense of gratitude from the entire community toward your fire department.

Yours truly,

LETTERS

To The Editor:

December 10, 1991, was a day the citizens of Thief River Falls can be proud of. They stopped the casino from coming to town.

It is a sad statement when a few, who I believe were more racially motivated than even they will admit, can dictate and choose what new business can come into our fine city.

I am wondering, if we don't like the brand of gas the new convenience store will be selling, do we picket? If we don't happen to like some of the brands of clothing being sold at one of the new stores in town, do we picket?

I am not pro-gambling. In the last 10 years I have probably spent $20 on pulltabs and I have bought four lottery tickets since they became available. But I am pro-business.

I thought the American dream of free enterprise was alive, but I guess not in Thief River Falls. It is a sad statement when a few can take that dream away.

One last word to the Red Lake Indian Band: Please don't judge all of us in Thief River Falls by what happened.

Sincerely,
Dennis Langston
A not so proud citizen of TRF

To The Editor:

I've heard a lot about the subject of the casino coming into our community and I have kept quiet for maybe too long. I probably don't have the right to say what really needs to be said. It's a crying shame because of the way we treat people.

If God is amongst us all now He is hanging His head in shame. You call yourselves Christians! Yet God teaches us to love everyone. Do you really feel this way? God also teaches us not to judge anyone. He shall do that for us all on His own judgment day. That's his job. Who do you think that you are to judge anyone by anything like their clothing, living, race, color or creed?

I would sure like to know what God is thinking about all of us now. You all should be ashamed. Has our community deserved such a fine business or group of people such as the Red Lake Indian tribe to come to our community the way you have treated them? I say no!

I'm proud of them for standing up for themselves. I don't blame them for looking elsewhere when their reception here was so cruel!

On December 25th we are celebrating Jesus' birthday, and the only presents that I can think of giving Him is to try and show him peace, love and understanding toward all people—rather than standing on issues such as racist and moral issues.

We already have a lot of crime, yet it seemed to also be an issue. Have you really been taking notice of all the crime lately? It's UP! And it has nothing to do with the casino or Indians. Does it? That's the real issue here, isn't it—Indians?

I'm proud to be part Indian and I will never feel bad about my heritage any more than I would ask of you to feel bad about your heritage.

Yet my family, like a lot of other families, depends on two working incomes. And we were looking forward to having jobs from the casino or other businesses it might have brought in.

But before this issue came up I used to go to Red Lake Bingo and still do. I've never won there, but because the people there are so nice, I always have a great time and I'll keep going there. And even if I wasn't part Indian I would still feel the same way.

It's funny that the theme of Thief River Falls is "Everybody is Somebody." It could never be so wrong for this town! You mean "Everybody is Somebody if they aren't Indian!"

To all the racists and bigots who live here, you know that there is only one issue that you're really standing on and it's not moral or gambling. Just remember, your own judgment day is coming!

Sincerely,
Callie Melvie
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

I grew up in the South in the 60's when Blacks were fighting for their civil rights. I was shocked at the violence and atrocities against the Blacks and Indians.

I was raised by a Native American grandmother to love all races, no matter what their circumstances.

I attended a church until I was 18 when it voted to close its doors rather than admit a Black family. It was a brand new building we all donated our time and money to build. This church was shut down by racism. That's when my faith was shaken. I was in shock, because every Sunday we heard stories from the Bible and this was completely out of left field. It had absolutely nothing based on the Bible or our faith. That church still stands empty.

Here the churches sound similar to the one I grew up in; not as courageous as mine to come out and say racism but using a "moral" issue to exclude Indians from our community.

If you don't want to gamble nobody is going to force you. The same applies to drinking, Bingo or pulltabs.

It's a poor excuse to exclude a business from our community by using gambling as a "moral" issue.

A small group has kept our town small for their own benefit. A majority wanted the casino here so that the large group of unemployed would have a chance at a job.

I want to apologize to the Red Lake Tribal Council for the few "bigots" that live in Thief River Falls and to let them know that the "silent" majority hope they are successful in their new business venture wherever they decide to build.

Sincerely,
Hollie Baker-Walseth

To The Editor:

I want to express my thanks to the citizens of the Thief River Falls trade area for their generous support of your Heritage Community Center. The same spirit of community support that made the center possible in the first place continues.

The City of Thief River Falls provides $16,000 in cash and in-kind support each year. Pennington county, through its board of commissioners, has helped with equipment purchases on occasion and was our biggest donor to the building. We have also been included in the budget of the Thief River Falls United Way each year.

These community support sources plus donations from interested persons, rentals and interest income keep your center solvent. Membership in the Heritage Community Center, Inc., owner of the center, is open to anyone 55 years of age and older. A life membership costs $10 and your request to have your name on the Donor Board.

Members pay no dues but are encouraged to make annual donations. These donations should be based on how valuable the center is to you and your family, and on your ability to give. This follows the philosophy of the Older Americans Act and our Christian teachings. No one is to be denied use of your center. Everyone is invited to visit the center and learn about the services available.

I want to invite you to become a member in the Heritage Community Center, Inc., attend the monthly meetings in the center on the second Monday of each month at 1 p.m., volunteer in a program that you like and learn all about your community's center. We need your informed leadership and voluntary support.

Speaking of volunteers—our programs wouldn't be possible without people giving of their time. We are enrolled in the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). Hours of time given are recorded by this program housed at the University of Minnesota—Crookston. As a reward for time given, volunteers may be eligible for two banquets each year. One banquet is ours at the center and one is for northwest Minnesota at UMC. Come in for a visit and learn where you can serve and how we can serve you in return.

To return our thanks to all of you, we are here to serve. To thank the community in a monetary way, we have a charitable Bingo license and the profits are donated as directed by our members at their monthly meetings. This past year we donated $9,478 to various charitable purposes. From 70 to 115 people enjoy playing these games each week.

As the Bingo manager, I want to express a special thank-you to our 25 volunteer workers who make the fun and charitable giving possible. This is only one way your time can help our success continue. As I said before: Come, join and learn if we have something for you.

Sincerely Yours,
Harry Oen

When people offer you one last drink, do you always take it?
Do you even ask for "one for the road?" Why not? Nothing can happen with YOU behind the wheel. At least, nothing ever has.
On the other hand, drinking and driving spell accidents. Will you always be so lucky?
So, do yourself a favour. Increase the odds by turning down that drink. Or, if you've had too much, call a taxi — or walk home — or let somebody else take the wheel. But don't drive.
That way, you'll always be a winner.

Emotions, Sensitivity And An Appeal To Reason

Today's issue of The Times carries the largest number of public opinion letters we have had in some time, and we thank the people who took the time and effort to put their thoughts on paper and send or bring them to us. Not all of them, but certainly most, pertain to the announcement by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa indians that the band would not locate a gambling casino in Thief River Falls. More specifically, they relate to claims of racism as a factor for making that decision.

Perception of discrimination is in the eye of the individual. To say that discrimination is not practiced in Thief River Falls would be a lie and to claim that racism does not exist here would be a utopian dream. Few are the people who can truly say they have no personal prejudices and view all others on an equal basis—whether that prejudice is based on race, religion, community standing, economic situation, social behavior or any other factor.

It would stand to reason that those who have been victims of discrimination and harmed by it would be most sensitive to it. Depending on the degree of sensitivity, it may even be possible to sense discrimination where it does not exist. Conversely, it is entirely possible for insensitive persons to convey feelings of discrimination without recognizing that it is being done.

Some members of the Red Lake Band have made accusations of racism and bigotry and they are justified in doing so—but only as it relates to the individuals who have expressed or displayed that attitude. It is unfair to characterize a group by racial stereotypes, and it is similarly unfair to judge a community by the actions of a few of its individuals.

Within this community itself, it is also unfair to judge the motivation of individuals from the claims or charges made by others. We specifically refer to people associated with religious and moral positions who have been painted with the wide brush of racism. We firmly believe they have been unfairly accused and that to accept those accusations at face value is wrong.

Does anyone really believe that a citizens' group from among the city's religious community would have been formed had the Red Lake Band announced its intentions to acquire and reopen the Red Owl building as a supermarket or convert it to a small manufacturing facility? It simply would not happen. Why then attach racial motivation to what sincere people have perceived to be a moral issue—casino gambling.

We do not excuse—and we are humiliated and embarrassed by—one caller who reportedly told the person answering the phone in the Red Lake tribal council office that "we don't want any of you drunken savages in Thief River Falls." That is blatant racism and is inexcusable. It should not, however, be related in any way to a community attitude and certainly not to a religious conviction.

Let us say that we think the persons who called the tribal council office—and we understand there were dozens of calls—were ill advised to do so, regardless of their motivation and the manner in which the calls were made. We think that positions had been clearly established previously and that personal calls at that time and under those conditions had to be considered coercive by the tribal council. We can understand the council members' reaction.

Let it also be stated, however, that the callers who pointed out that they would pursue prevention of the casino here by contacting state authorities were working within the system. They were attempting to accomplish their objectives as the law allows—just as those who favored the casino would be expected to do to accomplish their goal.

We are sorry that one or more people claiming to be from Thief River Falls were inflammatory in their comments in calls to the tribal council. It is unfortunate that calls of that nature were associated with people who had no racial motivation at all. And we are concerned that hasty judgments seem to have been made all around based on sensitivity and hearsay.

It's time to back off and let emotions cool for awhile. No point is well served when argued in anger or frustration. Give reason time to prevail and most things seem to work themselves out.

The Rutherford Report

by Gary Rutherford

Big Things Come From Small Beginnings

In the last two columns we talked about leadership and citizen involvement in economic development. One immediate problem faced by both groups is that of confidence. The job seems too big.

Part of the answer is to remember that big things come from small beginnings. The fact is, if you can encourage a single entrepreneur to start one small business you could be well on your way to success.

Do you know that small businesses are the linchpin of economic recovery? The facts are:

1. Small business is the fastest growing sector of the U.S. economy, responsible for 56% of all jobs in the private sector, and 47% of all private output.
2. 90% of U.S. businesses have fewer than 20 employees, yet companies with fewer than 20 employees create 90% of all new jobs.
3. Small business is three times as productive as large business and produces most of our technological innovation.

Thus, your task may not be so big as it seems. It is so unbelievable that a new business with just 20 employees, and then another after that can be started in your town?

The key, of course, is finding an entrepreneur to start an export-oriented small business. The entrepreneur needs a product that can be marketed outside the local area. But this goal is well within the ability of small towns. Consider these successes:

Back in 1981 Jack Horst, Edgar, NE (pop. 700) took a fresh look at a declining farm economy. Rather than remain the victim of trends, he dared to do something different on a small scale. He set aside 30 acres out of his 2000 for a crop Nebraskans had never seen before: Indian blue corn, native to the southwest. Horst's neighbors quit snickering when he sold the unusual corn to a wholesaler who turned it into blue corn chips. Convinced there was market for the product, Horst introduced his own brand of blue chips: Oak Creek Farms. Today Oak Creek Farms produces a wide variety of value-added products based on alternative organic crops, including exotic pastas. Horst targets a national niche market in health food stores and is expanding to the international European market. Sales will exceed $1 million in 1991.

Ted Waitt, a Iowa farmer's son, took a different route from the farm to small business. Leaving the family farm, Waitt went to college and on to work for a retail computer store in Des Moines. Seeing that computers could be sold by phone sight unseen, he realizes it could be done from almost anywhere, including his father's farm. So he set up operations in an unused part of the farmstead and began selling computer parts by phone. He soon gained a partner with some technical expertise, and they graduated to assembling PCs from parts purchased by phone from catalogues. From that very small beginning in 1985 Waitt's Gateway Computers did $1 million in sales in 1986, $1.5 in 1987, and then $12 million in 1988. Needing larger quarters, they relocated from the farm to quarters in South Dakota. In 1990 Gateway Computers did $275 million and is Inc 500's top business success for 1991.

There are four common factors in the successes above: (1.) remember necessity is the mother of invention; see problems as opportunity; (2.) think differently about a solution; (3.) begin small, with low overhead; (4.) succeed by keeping national and/or international niche marketing a priority.

Imagine your community's small business incubator filled with five new businesses. Within five years at least four of them will be on their way to success by applying these principles.

You can also encourage your retailers to expand into out-of-state marketing. The product need not be unique, you merely have to give it a unique twist. Would you believe one outfit in North Dakota sells birdhouses in New York City? Doesn't New York have birdhouses? Of course! But not like any made uniquely in North Dakota!

You might begin with community-wide idea development. Include the schools. Offer a monthly prize and a yearly grand prize for the best idea. But make a big deal of every good idea submitted. Help get patents and offer these ideas to any company who will locate in your town. In this way the ideas become small successes in themselves.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Before I retired I did business with the Indians of Red Lake. We had a very good business relationship. When members stopped by our home we had them in for coffee and cookies. They were always cordial to us and us to them. I lost my billfold in Redlake one time and it was returned to me intact. There was never any animosity between us.

When the advisory vote was taken on the casino, I voted NO, not because it was to be run by the Indians, but because I didn't want a casino in my home town. It would not have made any difference in my vote if some other group had wanted to run a casino here. My vote would have been the same. That was the objection put forth by the organizers of the vote.

The idea of racial bias was brought out by the spokesperson for the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber did this community a great disservice by promoting this attitude and not encouraging the people to freely express their views in the advisory vote. Now they are trying to put the blame for the Red Lake Indian tribe's decision not to come here onto the objectors' "racial bias." This is a misplaced blame.

In the end, the desire of the majority of the citizens of this community has been obtained. It is too bad that it is for the wrong reason!

Yours truly,
Neil E. Stone
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

Thief River Falls officials decided they are ready for the casino but the Red Lake Band turned them down. I don't blame them.

I feel the Red Lake tribal council has been insulted by this town. There is far too much prejudice here. I hope they don't judge the majority of the people of Thief River Falls by what some of the local extremists had to say.

Some of these anti-casino groups consider themselves good Christians, but their words and actions toward our Native American neighbors do not express a very Christian attitude.

Thief River Falls just lost out on a lot of good things that would have helped this community.

Good luck to the town that gets the casino. Our loss is their gain.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Erickson
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

To the people who have the irresistible urge to voice their opinion about the Indians that were going to set up the casino in Thief River Falls, and who made comments such as "At least we won't have to deal with the Indians," "the Indians will only bring crime and poverty to our community," etc.: Regardless of our opinion on the casino and benefits of it, we would like to say to the people that are making racist remarks that we are Indian!

There are many of us who do not live on the reservation and do not receive the government benefits. And we still believe in our heritage and are proud of it.

We also obey the laws, pay our taxes, work at a job or two and respect our fellow citizens of this community. We feel hurt by the remarks people have made not realizing we are a part of a heritage whose ancestors were here before you.

Sincerely,
Teresa Nelson
Denise Stepp
Evelyn Carlson
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

I thought we were from America, land of the free. Then why do around 1,000 religious minority have the say of our whole town—right down to threatening to picketing our neighbors because they are not quite the right color. I always thought Christian people loved their neighbor no matter what the race, color or creed. We are all human beings just trying to make a living.

A few years ago one of those religious minority people refused the use of their telephone early one evening when our daughter and small child got stalled with a flat tire. They had to walk to the next neighbor even when it was very cold. Lucky it wasn't the Lord in disguise. Wonder what He would think.

Now where will our town end up, the same rut it's been in for years? If we had more jobs for our college people and other young people they wouldn't end up having to move to other towns or having to quit school. Most of them work for minimum wages. With new businesses we'd all prosper and could afford to pay higher wages than we can now. It is not fair to our young folks.

As for crime in our city, there's plenty right now and that isn't because of a casino that would have security.

Sincerely,
One who wants our town to prosper,
Juanita Hutchinson

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

War Stimulates Sale Of Defense Bonds Locally

"The formal entry of the United States into war with the Axis powers has had a stimulating effect on the sale of defense bonds and stamps in this city, it was announced at the postoffice. Compared to sales of bonds with a maturity value of $3,075 for the week preceding the outbreak of war, the seven days following saw sales aggregating $4,325. Defense saving stamps valued at $166.20 were sold in November, while in the first half of December sales aggregated $131.15."

Legion To Stage Yule Program

"The local American Legion and auxiliary will usher in the Christmas season this evening with a party in the Pine Cave of the Palm Garden cafe, starting at 8 o'clock. The affair will start with dancing and cards, and a short program will be presented including songs by the Legion octet and ladies' trio and short talks by officers of the Legion post and auxiliary unit."

Christmas Tableau To Be Repeated

"The Christmas tableau 'The Christ Child' successfully presented by public school music groups Sunday afternoon, will be given a seconnd rendition Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Lincoln high school auditorium as an added feature of the final pre-holiday session of school, Supt. Morris Bue stated."

Swedish Lutheran Social Was Successful

"The Swedish-Lutheran social last Wednesday evening was attended by nearly three hundred people and the large church was taxed to its utmost capacity. Rev. Moody had charge of the program for the evening which consisted chiefly of music. The Black River choir and the St. Hilaire choir and orchestra rendered several pieces each. Socially it was a complete success and also financially as over eighty dollars was cleared from the supper."

Christmas Party

The West Steiner Homemakers' club held their annual family Christmas party at the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home Sunday afternoon, December 8, with a potluck supper. Present were besides the Larsons, Leonard and Shirley Yonke, Mrs. Dienne Kleinwachter, Hope and Stacy from Strandquist, Rudy and Helen Rude, LaVerne and Olive Rondorf, Alvin and Nina Helvotson, Eldon and Evonne Moe, Jim and Darlene Muzzy, Charles and Teresa Walrath, Carolyn, Jonathon and Kathryn, Lester and Violet Muzzy, Alfred and Rebecca Solem, Olaf Jorde and Melvin Saugen. The members held a brief business meeting with nearly everyone giving an appropriate reading in response to roll call, the minutes of previous meetings were read by Evonne, and a "Thank You" letter from the "Farmer Helping Hand Club" was read. Harryet reported as treasurer, and Olive and Dienne showed craft items. Evonne plans to entertain the January meeting at her home and will notify each one later for the date. Before the gifts were distributed each one guessed who their secret pal was during the 1991 year, but only Helen was right. Everyone had a very good enjoyable afternoon. Eight baskets were filled with holiday goodies to be distributed.

Combs family believes in miracles

Premature twin boys defy odds to make Christmas extra special for Thief River Falls family

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Steve and Roberta Combs had an interesting thought late last summer: What if the twins they were expecting were New Year's babies? Wouldn't that be something special to remember?

In comparison to what actually happened, it would hardly rate a second thought.

It was Monday, September 23, and Steve Combs, an emergency medical technician and assistant director of operations for Midwest Ambulance Service, was returning from Grand Forks with partner Joe Prondzinski after making a routine patient transfer from Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

"We were about eight miles west of St. Hilaire when I heard on the radio that one of our ambulances had just made a stop and was on the way to the hospital," Steve recalls. "Jim VanSchaick, one of my co-workers and driver of the ambulance, was alerting the hospital by radio that he was coming in with a woman who was 26 weeks pregnant and having trouble.

"I tried to make radio contact but could get no response. When we got closer to Thief River Falls I did make contact and found out the woman Jim was talking about was Roberta. I went directly to the hospital as soon as we got to town."

It was shortly after 8:30 p.m. and if Steve was surprised his wife was on the way to the hospital, Roberta was even moreso. Earlier that same day she had been to see her doctor in Grand Forks for a pre-natal check-up and everything had been fine.

She knew something was wrong early that evening when she was returning home from Early Childhood Family Education (ECFE) with their three-year-old son Cal. She tried to convince herself she wasn't really having labor pains and just tried to walk them off, but the condition persisted.

She called the ambulance service and found out her husband was on a run to Grand Forks. She told Sue Ann Brantl, who answered the phone at the ambulance service office, to have him call as soon as he got back. Sue Ann realized something was wrong and dispatched the ambulance to Roberta's house, riding along as an attendant.

"I was still denying it when the ambulance arrived," Roberta said. "I was concerned about what to do with Cal, so we took him along to the hospital in the ambulance. Later he went home with Dave and Sue Schneuler. Sue had just gone home from the hospital that day with her new baby."

The labor pains were real, emergency conditions did exist, and a neo-natal team was summoned from Grand Forks to assist with delivery of the premature infants. The twin boys were delivered by Caesarean section at 10:41 and 10:43 p.m., just over two hours after Roberta arrived at the hospital.

Steve had stayed in the operating room for the delivery. The neo-natal team of about six critical care nurses came prepared with incubators, other equipment, supplies and drugs.

"The babies were passed hand to hand from the doctor to a nurse to the neo-natal team," Steve said. "They were unbelievably tiny. One weighed two pounds and three ounces and the other two pounds and one-half ounce. Their combined weight was much less than an average single baby."

Both of the babies were given CPR immediately upon birth and by 1 a.m., when their conditions had stabilized, they were transferred to Grand Forks. But first they were taken to Roberta's room so she could see them for a few minutes.

The unexpected birth on Monday night keyed a long period of sleeplessness for Steve. He was up all that night and on Tuesday called his mother in Fergus Falls to see if she would watch Cal for a few days. He packed a week's supply of the three-year-old's clothing and by 1 p.m. was on the road to Fergus Falls.

"I have had a cellular phone from Cellular 2000 for about a year now," Steve said. "It was really handy when the twins were born because I could talk to Roberta, to the doctors, to my parents and Steve and Roberta Combs and their three-year-old son Cal have a special guest for Christmas this year. Little Taylor Combs, who with his twin brother Tanner had been expected to contend for the 1992 New Year's Baby honors, was born September 23 more than three months early and spent nearly the first three months of his life in hospitals. He came home December 14 but Tanner required additional corrective surgery and isn't expected to be home until early January.

Tanner (left) and Taylor Combs are miracle twin sons for Steve and Roberta Combs of Thief River Falls. Born September 23 more than three months ahead of schedule, they have beaten the odds and appear to be doing well, although both have required surgeries. Tanner has increased from two pounds one-half ounce at birth to about five and one-half pounds and is still hospitalized in Fargo, ND. Taylor, who weighed two pounds three ounces at birth, came home December 14 and weighed six pounds 12 ounces late last week.

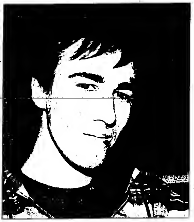
Croatian student has Christmas in America



Vladimir Bosnjak, a student at Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls, is away from his family who are in war-torn Croatia. Croatia declared its independence from Communist Yugoslavia in 1989. During the past year, the country has been torn apart in a war with Yugoslavia.

From NW Minnesota
Global Studies Institute

It was a hidden Christmas. There was no holiday from work. Christmas trees were decorated behind closed draperies, people were afraid to go to church. Vladimir Bosnjak, an international student at the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls, says Christmas in Osijek, Croatia, in Communist Yugoslavia, was a secret tradition that families observed cautiously and quietly.

"My grandmother told my mother, if someone asked her about Santa Claus, she would pretend she did not know what they were talking about. My mother closed the curtains of our home to hide our decorated Christmas tree. We would go to church Christmas Eve, but there were not many people there," said Vladimir.

With the fall of the Communist government in 1989, Christmas returned to Yugoslavia as a holiday. "It was wonderful, we had trees decorated with stars and lights in the public square. Christmas Eve the Cathedral was filled to overflowing. People had to stand outside, There were too many people."

It is a memory that Vladimir cherishes. This Christmas, however, is one of separation and worry. The Bosnjak family has been torn apart as the Republic of Croatia fights for its independence. Vladimir's mother and eight-year-old brother have taken refuge with a Slovanian family. Vladimir's father, a finance manager for an industrial facility in Osijek, remains in the war torn city.

Vladimir spent a determined week in Budapest, Hungary, waiting for a visa that would allow him to travel to Minnesota. "We were living in the basement of our home. You don't know what it's like to hear missiles exploding over your house. It was too dangerous to stay. There was no school for my brother and I. A Slovanian family took in my mother and brother. My father stayed with them for three days before he returned to Osijek. I came to the United States. It was a good decision."

In spite of the terrible division and difficulty, Vladimir has stayed in touch with his family. "I had a fax from my father last week, and my mother calls on the telephone, but the phone lines are terrible."

Vladimir says he never thought of himself as Croatian until the republic declared its independence in June. "Before that, there was only Yugoslavia." Even with a war raging, Vladimir says there is no one who wants to return to the fearful calm of communism.

Vladimir says, for the Bosnjak family, it's better to have the freedom to choose a cause, the freedom to fight, and the freedom to celebrate Christmas with the hope for reunion and peace in the New Year.

Goodridge public school kicks off "I Care" hotline

Goodridge public school has implemented a new telephone hotline designed to respond to the problems of students.

The National Youth I Care Hotline will provide students with a 24-hour toll-free number to call when dealing with problems such as: drugs, suicide, pregnancy, sexual abuse, alcoholism, depression and other problems related to adolescence.

Today's teenagers face an increase in peer pressure. They are subjected to making difficult decisions with sometimes life changing and devastating consequences. As teenage problems increase, so does the need to help them. That's why Goodridge public school has implemented the new hotline.

The National Youth I Care Hotline, a non-profit organization, was founded by Tony Overman in 1988 with the help of Orel Hershiser of the Los Angeles Dodgers. It serves students in 25 states and receives thousands of calls per month.

Goodridge public school officially recognized the telephone link Thursday with a student assembly. During the assembly a short skit showed students how and when to use the hotline.

Goodridge public school acknowledges the hotline as another attempt to meet the needs of the "total student." As one educator stated, "Kids don't care how much you know until they see how much you care".

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Technical colleges prepare for merger

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Two representatives from each of the technical institutes scheduled to be involved in a merger by July 1, 1992, met at the aviation facility of the Thief River Falls technical institute Thursday. Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the Thief River Falls technical institute, moderated the discussion.

"In my opinion it was a very good meeting," stated Dr. Gunderson, who has been less than enthusiastic all along about what the legislatively-mandated, state-wide realignment of technical colleges will accomplish of a positive nature. He was pleased, however, with the meeting Thursday and the attitude of those in attendance.

"We had the president or a personal representative of the president in attendance from the technical colleges at East Grand Forks, Moorhead, Wadena, Detroit Lakes, Bemidji and Thief River Falls," he said. "Those are the six schools which are to be combined into a single operation under the merger plan. Each of the colleges was also represented by a selected faculty or other staff member.

"I was very pleased that those in attendance were genuinely interested in identifying potential problems posed by the merger and concerned about developing a time frame to accomplish the goals. It was a very practical work session with full participation and cooperation."

The meeting had been called at the request of a six-member committee which has been established and charged with drawing up a joint powers agreement to permit the six colleges to operate as one. The six-member committee includes one board member appointed by the boards of each of the six school districts operating technical colleges, including Dennis Kiesow of Thief River Falls, a member of the School District 564 board.

"The merger now appears to be a given," states Jim Fremstad, the Thief River Falls faculty representative who attended the Thursday meeting with Dr. Gunderson. "The six-member committee of school board members had asked the college presidents and staffs to help clarify the issues and identify some of the near-term and long-term administrative concerns."

Fremstad said he also felt a spirit at the meeting of an open and honest effort to work together to solve potential problems before the July 1, 1992 deadline date.

The joint powers board, which will operate the six colleges as one effective July 1, 1992, will be an autonomous regional board which [illegible] will be fairly well left up to its own devices. It will be created as a result of work done by the six-member school board committee, but will not necessarily be comprised of school board members and need not have representation from any or all of the colleges involved in the merger proposal.

Fremstad and Dr. Gunderson said that the meeting established a list of 18 items of concern which were reviewed and committees were established to take on problem-solving responsibilities.

The finance committee is comprised of the six technical college presidents and their business managers. The financial aid situation is to be facilitated by Dr. Gunderson, who has designated Fremstad to handle that responsibility. "Our main concern is to create assurances for students that schools and programs will be in place next fall to serve their needs, regardless of the format under which the system will be operated," Fremstad said.

Mission and philosophy committee will be facilitated by the East

Janelle Shuck and Scott Gustafson wed Nov. 30

Janelle Shuck and Scott Gustafson were united in marriage November 30 at the Nisland Independent Community church in Nisland, SD. Rev. Michael Ullrich officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Neil and Faith Shuck of Vale, SD. Parents of the groom are John and Leona Gustafson of Viking.

Special music was provided by the bride, who sang "Our Sacred Pledge;" Carla Shuck, who sang "I Will Be Here;" and Jill and Greg Standafer, who sang "Love That Will Not Let Me Go" and "Find Us Faithful."

The church was decorated with burgundy and white roses and carnations.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves with pouf shoulders and scalloped cathedral train. The bodice, sleeves and train were decorated with appliques, beads and pearls. The bride complemented her gown with a fingertip length veil accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of burgundy roses and burgundy and white carnations.

Carla Shuck of Vale, SD served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lisa Happe of Burnsville, friend of the bride, Julie Gustafson of St. Peter, sister of the groom, Pam Kueper of St. Paul, friend of the bride and Chrissy Kline of St. Paul, friend of the bride. They wore gowns with black velvet bodices with sweetheart necklines and burgundy satin skirts. They carried bouquets of long stem roses and carnations.

Flower girl was Kelsey Abler of Anoka, cousin of the groom. She wore a white silk dress with ruffles and a train.

Penny Goeringer served as the bride's personal attendant.

Kevin Boe of Barnsville, friend of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Brinkman of St. Paul, cousin of the groom, Jon Hanson of Viking, cousin of the groom, Dan Roelofs of St. Paul, friend of the groom, and Tim Elrod of Iowa, friend of the groom.

Ring bearer was John Davis of Camano Island, WA, nephew of the bride.

Candlelighters were Jan and Sandy Gustafson, sisters of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a floral dress with paisley, pink and burgundy flowers. The groom's mother wore a floral dress with pink shaded flowers.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd Johnson of Wequim, WA and Alice Shuck of Sturgis, grandparents of the bride; and Lucille Harmoning of Red Lake Falls, grandmother of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony in the church fellowship room. Jan and Sandy Gustafson, sisters of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake above a fountain, decorated with white roses, burgundy bows with live flowers between layers. The cake was cut by Colleen Branner. Coffee was served by Charity Davis, aunt of the bride.

The couple is at home in Blaine. The groom is a 1985 graduate of Marshall County Central high school, attended the University of North Dakota and is a 1990 graduate of Northwestern college at Roseville. He is employed as a high school teacher and coach by the Meadow Creek Christian school at Andover. The bride is a 1987 graduate of Newell high school and a 1991 graduate of Northwestern college in Roseville college. She is a teacher in the Meadow Creek Christian school at Andover.

Legion auxiliary held December meeting

The Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary unit held its December meeting recently, presided over by President Eleanor Forberg. Plans were made for a Kiddies Day Christmas party on December 22 at the club with refreshments to be served.

Education Chairman Marilyn Winters set apples out for teachers at the breakfast held during American Education Week. Energy and National Security Chairman Barb Restad handed out sheets on safety rules for winter. Americanism Chairman Octavia Jorgenson will present a flag to Valley Home. Tamara Relarson to wed Erik Livingston

Tamara Reierson and Erik Livingston, together with their parents, Wallace and Ivadell Reierson of Thief River Falls and Rev. Frank and Bea Livingston of Roseau, are happy to announce their engagement and forthcoming wedding.

The bride-to-be is a 1987 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1991 graduate of Bemidji state university. She is presently employed by Northern National Bank in Bemidji. Her fiance is a graduate of Roseau high school and is a senior at Bemidji state university.

A February 29 wedding will be held at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls.

WIC & EPS Hold January Clinics

Women, infants and children supplemental nutritional educational program (WIC) is being held during the month of January.

Infants and children up to the age of five and women who are pregnant or breastfeeding may be eligible for the program. Prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is considered important to apply for WIC early in pregnancy; no proof of pregnancy is needed.

All potential clients must write to the EPS-WIC service and complete an application.

The schedule for WIC and EPS clinics for January includes January 6, 13, 16 and 17, all at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Immunizations will be given January 17 from 9 to 9:30 a.m. only, at $3 per immunization.

For further information concerning the WIC and EPS programs, call or write: WIC/EPS, Quin County, Park Place Mall, Red Lake Falls, MN 56750 or telephone (218) 253-2125 or 1-800-223-1591 (toll free).

The WIC program must treat everyone the same. You can not be treated unfairly because of your race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you think you have been treated unfairly, you should write to: Administrator, Food and Nutrition Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, VA 22302.

Woodcrafters to meet Monday

Jeff Edmonds, utilization and marketing forester for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in Bemidji, will be guest speaker Monday, December 30, for the monthly meeting of the Northland Woodcrafters.

The club for anyone interested in making items from wood will meet at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center on highway 32 south. Guests are always welcome and annual memberships for 1992 will be available for those interested in joining.

Edmonds has work experience in southern Minnesota where some of the fine hardwoods such as red oak, walnut and cherry are grown. He will discuss growing and marketing of wood.

Norman A. Peterson, 70

Thief River Falls — Norman Arnold Peterson, 70, died December 21 at the United hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

Funeral services will be held December 26 at 1:30 p.m. at Our Saviour's Free Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Del Palmer officiating. Special music will be provided by Jan Nyflot and Grace Hammer, soloists, and Avis Dyrud, organist. Honorary casketbearers will be Vernon Anderson, Eileen Hoeffer, Wendel Ortloff, Herb Swenson and Tom Wold. Active casketbearers will be Don Brown, Phil Grothe, Gordon Johnson, Jim Johnson, Art Moe, Maurits Scholin, Melvin Swenson and Rueben Wold. Interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held December 25 from 3 to 9 p.m. with a 4 p.m. prayer service at the Green Funeral Home and on Thursday for one hour before the service at the church.

Norman Arnold Peterson was born Aug. 23, 1921 at Silverton township, Pennington county, the son of Paul and Martha (Humble) Peterson. He was baptized and confirmed at the Silverton Lutheran church, attended school and grew up in Silverton township. On June 27, 1943 he was united in marriage to Mildred Wold in Thief River Falls. He was employed by City Service, Peterson-Biddick, Sheller's Hatchery, all in Thief River Falls and Dunleavy's Gravel Pit. From 1971 until his retirement in 1983 he was employed by School District 564 as a custodian at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls. He was an active member of Our Saviour's Free Lutheran church, served 28 years as Sanders township treasurer, and served on the SCS board of directors and on the Thief River Co-op Creamery board.

He is survived by his wife; five sons: Roger Peterson of Thief River Falls, Ralph Peterson of Portland, ND, Leslie Peterson of Detroit Lakes, James Peterson of Colfax, WI, and Wayne Peterson of Thief River Falls; special son, Terry Wold of East Grand Forks; 17 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; three brothers: Clarence Peterson of Thief River Falls, Raymond Peterson of Winona and William Peterson of Houston; one sister, Mildred Larson of Pelican Rapids; three sisters-in-law: Ruth Kramer of Detroit Lakes, Mrs. Morris (Elaine) Maruska of Angus and Edie Peterson of Houston; and one brother-in-law, Benhard Wold of Thief River Falls.

He was preceded in death of his parents; one granddaughter; four brothers: Sigward, Orvin, LeRoy and Arthur; and one sister, Evelyn Wold.

William "Bill" Delage, 84

Red Lake Falls — William "Bill" Delage, 84, died December 22 at his home in Red Lake Falls.

Mass of Christian Burial will be held December 27 at 10:30 a.m. at the St. Joseph Catholic church in Red Lake Falls with Rev. Gary LaMoine officiating. Special music will be provided by the church choir with Kathie Knott, organist. Casketbearers will be Craig Deitz, Paul Deitz, Andrew Deitz, William Deitz, Patrick Dufault and David Dufault. Interment will be in the St. Peter's Catholic cemetery at Gentilly. The Petterson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Thursday from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Petterson Funeral Home with a 7 p.m. wake service and on Friday at the church for one hour before the service.

William Harvey Delage was born Mar. 4, 1907 near Gentilly, the son of Moise and Albina (Demars) Delage. He grew up in rural Gentilly and attended school there. He married Alice Cardinal on May 31, 1939 in Red Lake Falls and they lived and farmed in rural Gentilly. In 1977 they moved into Red Lake Falls where they lived since then. In addition to farming he was also a gravel hauler and worked at other things. He was a member of the Red Lake Falls senior citizen group.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters: Mrs. Gerald (Ruthanne) Deitz of Grand Forks, ND, Mrs. Charles (Doris) Dufault of Wahpeton, ND and Mrs. James (Jane) Hamilton of St. Paul; 11 grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by an infant daughter, Maryanne Delage; a son, Dale William Delage; three brothers: Joseph Montcalm, Leo Delage and Willie Delage; and four sisters: Josephine Arel, Alda Gervais, Noella Fontaine and Leonile Bruley.

Dear Readers,

I have heard people say, "I never send flowers to a visitation. They just wither and die." They do not "wither and die" in the eyes of the bereaved. As the bereaved reads the sympathy card that accompanies each floral arrangement, they are reminded that others share their grief. The memory picture that flowers create is carried down through the years to ease the loneliness that follows death.

Respectively,

Belmont Funeral Home

School District 564 bus driver Dale Nelson had so much fun last year when he dressed up as Santa Claus for his last run before the Christmas holidays that he decided to do it again this year. He is pictured outside Lincoln high school as he waits for dismissal and his first passengers to board. "The kids seem to get a kick out of it," he said, but we wonder who has more fun.

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

Christmas is about a little child, the Christ Child. Christmas is not only about a little child, but it is for little children.

We adults forget how simple Christmas should be. We tend to hurry about our tasks of shopping and baking and wrapping and writing cards and decorating and cleaning and in that hurriedness, we forget that Christmas is really simple.

Christmas began with a birth of a child, in a manger, in a stable. It did not begin with the myraid of lists we adults need to accomplish before we are ready for Christmas.

The way to this child was lit by a star, not by thousands upon thousands of Christmas lights. The heavens simply pointed the way.

Ordinary people took care of this little child. Ordinary people, without the means to provide every luxury in the world for this child, but with the means to provide the love and nurturing that child would need, were blessed with the responsibility of raising the Christ Child.

Remember the Christmases of your childhood? What do you remember about them? I remember the feelings of those early Christmases, not the gifts.

The feelings of contentment and excitement when family and friends gathered for a meal to celebrate the special day of Christmas are feelings I remember about my childhood Christmases.

The feeling of peace when I recall the times I sat in church singing the songs of Christmas, and listening to the words of Scripture of the Christmas Story, is a feeling I remember about my childhood Christmases.

The feeling of anticipation as I awaited the gifts of Christmas is a feeling I recall. The feeling of anticipation was always followed by a feeling of joy, and sometimes disappointment, as I opened the gifts given to me.

The children today are not far removed from the children we were. They still wait for Christmas with much anticipation. They still are joyful or disappointed with the gifts they receive. They still are blessed with the wonder which we adults have forgotten in our busyness.

But, I wonder how peaceful or content the children of our modern America feel. How do the children feel about the family gatherings today? The quantity of single parent homes had increased enormously. The quantity of yours, mine and ours families has also increased drastically. The incidence of abuse in families has become more a public issue. Families without homes have increased. One can only wonder if the children of our not so simple family structures can feel simply content and excited about the various family situations they may be asked to accept at yet another family gathering this Christmas.

The children of modern day America are busy. We adults see to that. We see that they attend school, and have jobs or lessons of all kinds. We find the time for recreation for our family, but do we find the time for peace for our family? Do we bring our children to church and let them hear for themselves the story of Christmas and the peace it brings to this world? Or, are we too busy to take time for the simple child who came to bring us peace?

This Christmas, in spite of your busyness, take time to reflect upon the simpleness of Christmas. Remember the feelings of Christmas. Remember the love of Christmas. Remember the ordinariness of Christmas. Translate the peace and love of Christmas to the children around you. Forget the busyness of the season for a while. Simply show the simple gifts of Christmas—peace and love and joy—to those around you.

Teach the children around you of the Christ Child. Teach your children that Christmas is not just another day to watch basketball on TV. Teach them that the love and peace of the Christ Child is important for them to find in spite of the complicated lives they may be living. Teach the children about The Child of Christmas this Christmas.

Pennington county sheriff's deputies and Thief River Falls police officers will be assisting in the delivery of Christmas presents to needy children in the county. The law enforcement officers join Pamida, Kmart, the U.S. Marine Corps, and Westside Motors in bringing presents to children who would otherwise be without Christmas presents this year. This is the first year the program has been coordinated in Thief River Falls. Alice Pollick of Violence Intervention Project played an integral role in coordinating efforts. Pictured from left is Chief Ken Froschheiser, Sheriff Bob Wold, Alice Pollick, Sheriff's Deputy Ray Kuznia, and Police Officer Jim Haugen.

In session at the Thief River Falls technical college aviation facility Thursday were presidents of six northern technical colleges and a faculty member from each of the schools. Discussions were held on a planned merger of the technical colleges at Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Bemidji, Moorhead, Detroit Lakes and Wadena.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

The last few months a lot of negative comments have been expressed about the city of Thief River Falls. I would like to express a BIG thank you!

Thirteen years ago December 23 my father passed away. Every Christmas Eve a family member has placed a candle on the grave. We have been able to drive to the vault at Greenwood cemetery, then have had the long struggle on foot to reach the grave site by the woods.

Some years we've braved minus 50 degrees wind chill and/or full boots due to knee-deep snow. We have used cross-country skis, snowshoes, etc., but the candle has reached its destination.

Each year more candles and wreaths are placed on loved ones' graves. We all faced on common obstacle—deep snow.

I made a phone call a couple of days ago to Mayor Carlson who referred me to the proper contact person—Roger DeLap of the city clerk's office. I asked if it would be at all possible for the city to plow the cemetery roads. He thanked me for the call and said he would see what he could do.

Tonight, coming home, we drove by the cemetery and all the roads are open. Thank-you, Roger, and thank-you to the street department for making it easier to deliver a little candle to my Dad.

Citizens of Thief River Falls, there still is caring in our town!

Merry Christmas!
Sincerely,
Judy Melby
Thief River Falls

Fishers win lighting event

Mr. and Mrs. Al Fisher won first place in the Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Plummer Community club. The Fisher farm is located north of Plummer on highway 59 to the Pennington county line and two and one-half miles east.

Second place went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Magers on the west end of Main street near the river. Third place was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Howard whose home is located just south of the Plummer school.

Cash prizes of $25 for first place, $15 for second and $10 for third were awarded. Judging was done on Friday, December 20.

LEC officers become Santa's little helpers

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Santa's little helpers will be police and sheriff's officers this year. Alice Pollick of the Violence Intervention Project has enlisted the help of local police and county sheriff's officers in delivering Christmas presents to several children in the county.

Pamida, Kmart, Northland Woodcrafters and the United States Marine Corps, the Thief River Falls police department, Pennington County Sheriff's department, and Westside Motors are all working together this year to provide toys to children of needy families.

This is the first year that efforts to provide Christmas presents for children from needy families have been coordinated. It is also the first year that law enforcement has been involved in delivering presents. Pollick enlisted the assistance of the police and sheriff's departments, she said, because the program has expanded so much. There seem to be more and more children who need Christmas presents every year.

"It's our way of seeing to it that these kids have a good Christmas," said Police Chief Ken Froschheiser.

"Hopefully, it's something we can do every year," said Sheriff Bob Wold.

Law enforcement officials won't be pulling up to homes in squad cars. Pollick said she has enlisted the support of Westside Motors in this aspect of delivering the presents.

Pollick explained that individuals wishing to participate can pick up paper angels on Christmas trees at Kmart and Pamida. Presents returned to the store are wrapped by the store. Pollick also said that any angels left on the trees are picked up by the stores. She said the program has been successful so far. She said she is getting presents in on a daily basis now.

All of the gifts made by Northland Woodcrafters are on display at the public library in Thief River Falls.

If the coordinated efforts of the group are as successful as anticipated this year, the group may have future obligations as Santa's little helpers.

Trail News

Kathy Bakke of Gonvick, took her mother, Rose Aaknes, back to Gonvick, after they attended the services at the Mt. Olive church at Trail on Sunday. She was a supper guest at the Bakkes.

Barbara Flateland called on Lorena Hovelsrud and Bertha Woods, and Sunday afternoon, Sylvia Flateland was also a guest.

I would like to send "Seasons Greetings", wishing all a wonderful holiday season, and a New Year that is filled with joy and peace.

Glen and Judy Aaknes of Franklin, WI, returned home after spending a few days with his mother, Rose Aaknes and Judy's parents, Eva and Eugene Asselin of Oklee.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Christmas Magic

Christmas is magic. There is just no other way to explain it. People do things at Christmas that they would not dream of doing any other time of the year. In fact, some of the things they do would be considered downright crazy at any other time of year. But at Christmas time, it is called "Christmas Spirit," and it is magic.

How about the custom of plastering every surface of our homes, inside and out, with little twinkling lights, and decorating snowcovered lawns with replicas of Santa and his reindeer, the Nativity scene, or Frosty the Snowman? At any other time of year this would be a really strange thing to do. What would we think of people who turned on miles of twinkling lights for Easter, or Halloween or set out giant Easter bunnies?

But what happens at Christmas? Christmas Magic, of course. All those twinkling lights and lawn decorations, no matter how profuse or gaudy, are absolutely beautiful, and people come from near and far to drive by and admire them, saying, "Oh, look at the pretty decorations!"

How about the custom of dragging a real, live tree into our living rooms and plastering it with shining balls and sparkling lights? This is really not a very strange custom. I don't know about you, but I spend a lot of time before Christmas crawling around underneath my tree picking up tree needles. They clog my vacuum.

Nevertheless, having a large tree in the living room is not normal. But we all do it. If we don't have a real, live tree in our living room, we have some sort of reproduction of one, and, whether real or fake, we jam that huge tree right into that living room, whether it takes up the whole area or not. And we spend hours and hours of our time setting it up, trimming it, cleaning up after it and then sitting and admiring it.

If we did this at any other time of the year, we would be considered very strange indeed. But Christmas Magic takes over. That huge tree becomes a shining, sparkling symbol of Christmas and everyone who comes in the door says, "Oh, what a beautiful tree you have!" (Don't they?)

What about the custom of giving Christmas gifts? How much time do we all spend choosing, shopping, buying, hiding and wrapping the perfect gift for everyone on our Christmas list? Do we ever spend as much money on gifts as we do at Christmas time? I don't know about you, but I budget all year so I can just spend, spend, spend and buy, buy, buy at Christmas.

Isn't this a strange thing to do? We don't do it any other time of year. (But isn't it fun?) Those gifts are Christmas Magic, too and you can see the Christmas Magic sparkling not only in the eyes of the receiver, but in the eyes of the giver, too.

What about food at Christmas? Most people I know spend hours and hours cooking and baking for Christmas. They don't do this at other times of the year. Not only do most of us spend hours and hours making things, but we give most of it away or feed it to other people.

This is not normal behavior, either, but it is Christmas Magic. Could it be that filling up the tummies of others makes our hearts full, too? See how that Christmas Magic works?

And you know that Santa Claus is Christmas Magic. Any other time but Christmas we might be highly suspicious of a very hearty old man sporting a bright red nose and ruddy cheeks, face well hidden behind a heavy beard and shining glasses, wearing a strange fur-trimmed red suit, uttering such nonsense as, "Ho, ho, ho," would we not?

But at Christmas time Santa is Christmas Magic itself. He knows whether we've been naughty or nice. How does he know? Magic. He slides down chimneys to fill stockings and then scoots up them again. How does he do that? Magic. He flies through the air in a sleigh pulled by reindeer. How does it work? Magic. He knows exactly what every little girl and boy in the world wants for Christmas, even if they haven't told him. How does he know that? Magic.

Santa is the jolly, "ho, ho, ho" Christmas Magic.

Lest we forget, however, this is a good time to mention the real Christmas Magic, the true Christmas Spirit, the One born in a manger long ago in Bethlehem. That was the Christmas Magic of a virgin who conceived a child, a wonderfully bright star in the sky on Christmas night, angels coming to earth to sing praises, and shepherds and kings, alike, travelling from near and far to worship a child, a child who would be a Savior of all mankind. Can you think of anything more Christmas Magic than that?

Merry Christmas to you all, and may you have a Magic Christmas this year!

Steve and Roberta Combs have two reasons to believe in miracles

Roberta's parents while I was on the road. Without it I would have had to stop at a pay phone just about every hour. No words can describe how much I appreciated having that phone there."

Still without sleep on Tuesday, he drove from Fergus Falls to United Hospital in Grand Forks where he videotaped the twins and stayed at the hospital there.

Doctors in Grand Forks said that the twins' chances of survival were slim. They were so small that their lungs were not fully developed. On Wednesday, less than 48 hours after they were born, it was decided to transfer them by air ambulance to St. Luke's Children's hospital in Fargo, ND, where additional equipment and trained personnel were available.

Steve spent most of Wednesday in Fargo. Roberta was hospitalized in Thief River Falls until Friday, September 27. She went to Fargo to see the twins in the hospital on Sunday, September 29.

"The doctor had given me a pamphlet on pre-term labor when I had been there for that Monday morning check-up," Roberta said. "When she found out the twins were in the Grand Forks hospital, she called and told me that she hadn't meant to stress it that much!"

A week after delivery Roberta was back in the hospital emergency room for treatment of an infection. Then, about the time she was ready to go to see the twins again, Cal got the chicken pox.

"Wouldn't you know it," she said, "there were nine kids in our family (the Awender family of Twin Valley) and none of us had ever had the chicken pox. That meant that I had to wait the 21-day incubation period for chicken pox before I could see the twins again."

Eighteen days into the incubation period Roberta came down with chicken pox. That meant another 10 days before she could see "the kids," and she saw a big change had taken place in the babies during that month.

Both babies required surgery. Tanner, who was the smaller of the two, had bowel surgery twice, the most recently about two weeks ago. But he has grown from his birth weight of half an ounce over two pounds to nearly five and one-half pounds. He probably won't get to come home until after Christmas.

Taylor has more than tripled his birth weight to six pounds, 12 ounces, and has been home since Saturday, December 14. He had surgery to install a tube in his head due to hydrocephalus, an abnormal increase of fluid in the cranial cavity. That condition will be reviewed by doctors this week.

Both of the babies are amazingly strong, especially considering that they weren't due to be born until about a week from now. Taylor holds his head up quite well and Tanner has pulled himself up on elbows and knees and turned himself over.

Fortunately for the Combs family they have health coverage. While the twins have been in the hospital they have had individual nursing attention around the clock and during their first few weeks were connected to a number of machines and monitors.

Both sets of grandparents and one great-grandmother have had a chance to see the babies in the hospital. This Christmas, when the family members are counting their blessings, they will be able to hold one of two very special ones. And the hope is there that the other little blessing will join his brother at home in the next week or so.

In a way, that makes Tanner and Taylor New Year's babies after all.

Set life skills workshop at Crossroads

"Challenge, Choice and Change" is the title of a life skills development workshop series for displaced homemakers to begin January 14 at the Crossroads Displaced Homemaker program office in Thief River Falls.

Workshop sessions will take place Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. from January 14 through March 3. Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch.

Materials to be presented at the sessions are designed to assist women who are experiencing difficult changes that aren't always a matter of choice. Through self-study and skill development, the series is intended to reveal the challenge and opportunities for growth that come with role changes.

Enrollment is free to eligible displaced homemakers in Minnesota. Others may attend for an income-based fee. Child care and/or transportation funds may be provided for eligible participants. For more information or to pre-register call 681-8158 or 1-800-450-8158.

TAX TIPS
FARM & RANCH

Q: Is a farmer required to pay FICA taxes on wages to their spouse?
A. Yes, FICA taxes are payable on wages paid to ones spouse. There is an exception to this rule for "commodity wages".

Q: What are "commodity wages", and how are they used to reduce FICA Taxes?
A. "Commodity Wages" are wages paid in the form of commodities. FICA taxes can be eliminated on commodity wages paid to a spouse. The spouse must have the right to market the commodity when and where they want. The value of the commodity on the date of transfer must be recorded, and any other gain or less on the commodity must be reported.

Q: Can income taxes be deferred on any income received this year?
A. Taxes can be deferred on certain insurance and disaster payments received in one year if it has been a normal practice to market the commodity that the payment was received for in the following year.

Christmas light thefts reported

Thieves have been helping themselves to some of the Christmas lights around Thief River Falls lately. In the past couple of days, the law enforcement center has received five reports of Christmas light thefts.

Thefts. On December 17 at 9:06 a.m. Brian Olson, Thief River Falls, reported that Christmas lights valued at $20 had been taken from in front of his house.

On December 17 at 10:03 a.m. Russ Embury, Thief River Falls, reported the attempted theft of some Christmas lights from his yard.

On December 17 at 2:59 p.m. Theresa Johnson, Thief River Falls, reported the theft of Christmas lights valued at about $3.

On December 17 at 6:14 p.m. Orin Green, Thief River Falls, reported the theft of Christmas lights and an extension cord valued at $87.

On December 18 the law enforcement center received a report of more Christmas lights stolen.

On December 18 at 8:20 a.m. Jeff Griswald, route 2, Anandale, reported to police that while his vehicle was parked at a local residence in Riverview Trailer court two windows one right side of his vehicle had been broken and the radar detector taken. Griswald also reported the theft of a toolbox from his vehicle, which he said took place sometime on the 14th. The toolbox was valued at $842. Damage loss was estimated a $90. The radar detector was valued at $60.

On December 17th at 4:52 p.m. the Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an NSF check totaling $1,065. Through investigation, officers discovered that an individual had forged a check to pay for tuition and had then picked up a student loan-grant totaling $1,065. The loan and grant were given to the subject because his tuition had been paid. The individual then left for Chicago. Charges of offering a forged check, a felony, are pending against Orlando T. Burden, 18, Chicago, IL.

On December 9 at 1:14 p.m. police received a report from Cenex that someone had taken two cases of oil. An investigation led to the arrest of Dennis Hovet, 31, Goodridge. The police department received assistance from the Pennington county sheriff's department.

Disorderly conduct. On December 6 at 3:43 p.m. police received a call from employees at Mr. Duane's who reported that a male had entered the store and had exposed himself. According to the report, a man had entered the store and had asked for help in picking out some slacks for his wife. He allegedly tried the pants on because if it fit him it would fit his wife. It is alleged that each time the dressing room door was opened the man exposed himself. The subject left the store and the incident was reported to police. Charges of disorderly conduct are pending against Larry Brian Rick, route 1, Alvarado, age 23.

Accidents. On December 17 at 1:01 p.m. police received a report of a car and pedestrian accident. According to the report, Valarie Horachek, route 2, Goodridge, was allegedly crossing Knight avenue west near Lincoln high school when a pickup being driven south on Knight went past her and the rearview mirror on the driver's side allegedly struck her right hand. There was a bruise on her hand, according to the report. The incident is under investigation.

On December 18 at 12:24 p.m. police received a report of an accident on the Third street bridge. According to the report, a car driven by Jacqueline Moyer, Thief River Falls, was going west on Third street bridge and stopped in traffic to wait for a train. While waiting, a pickup driven by Vernon Theodore Anderson, route 5, Thief River Falls, slid into the rear of the car. Damages were estimated at $100 to the Moyer vehicle and $700 to the Anderson pickup. Moyer complained of a sore neck. Anderson was cited for driving too fast for conditions.

On December 17 at 7:43 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident on Highway 32 just south of Greenwood. According to the report, a truck owned by Conoco and driven by Harold R. Johnson, South Holland, IL, had stalled on Highway 32 and had pulled over to the side of the road and was parked facing north. A car driven by Phyllis Schmidt, route 3, Red Lake Falls, was going north on Highway 32 and was unable to stop on the ice and slid into the rear tires of the semi. Damages were estimated at $800 to the Schmidt vehicle.

On December 17 at 1:23 p.m. Home Lumber reported to police that someone had ran into their fence along Eighth street. A post for the store and post for a railroad sign had been damaged. Damage loss was estimated at $37.

Assault. On December 17 at 10:10 p.m. police received a report of an assault that happened in the Northland Community College parking lot. According to the report, there was a disagreement between two female and when they went outside one struck the other and another female got involved. All three, Terry Garceau, 18, Thief River Falls, and a 16-year-old female and a 17-year-old female from Thief River Falls, were cited for assault in the fifth degree.

Driving while intoxicated. On December 20 at 1:40 a.m. police arrested Steven Michael Engstrom, 18, Thief River Falls, for driving while intoxicated.

The Times

Familiar faces in the audience caused a little excitement for participants in the Discovery Place child care center Christmas program last Wednesday evening in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Shara Guldry, daughter of Melodee Rupprecht, reacts to a familiar face while Ashley Hopper, daughter of Rick and Jodi Hopper, is more preoccupied with importance of her letter that helps spell out Merry Christmas.

Grand Forks technical college group which is charged with establishing some goals and objectives of common agreement for all schools involved.

Bemidji Technical college personnel were to work on the questions of marketing, determining a recommendation for student recruitment (each campus having its own catalog or all six schools combined in one catalog, for instance) and keeping the public in general informed as to what is taking place.

Student services policies were delegated to the Wadena Technical college representatives. They will be dealing with policies relating to student progress, behavior and grievances.

Other areas of discussion included the major questions of technology and personnel. Each of the colleges has developed its own data bases and computer programs, all of which work well for the separate schools but none of which are compatible with all of the other campuses.

Job descriptions for faculty, staff and administrators will be at issue, as will union representations (five of the six faculty bargaining units are represented by the Minnesota Education association and the sixth by the Minnesota Federation of Teachers). Custodians, secretaries and other personnel are represented by a union in some schools but are in no bargaining unit at others.

Ideas on configuration of the joint powers board are being requested from faculty and administration at all of the campuses. Hiring of a chief executive officer or some similarly-titled person to head the combined campuses is being recommended by April 15 so that progress can be made to effecting the merger by July 1.

Curriculum and school calendar at the colleges are also in question: is it necessary they be handled jointly and in unison on all campuses or can each campus arrange its own schedule?

A name and logo for the merged colleges was discussed as well as whether there is a need for each of the colleges to retain an identity.

The six-member committee of schools' boards is expected to meet January 10 in Minneapolis with attorney John Roszak to hear about and discuss a joint powers configuration.

"All of us who were at the Thursday meeting are committed, I believe, to one thing," Fremstad said. "That is offering our students business as usual or better when everything shakes out in the next few months."

TRF 5-3 winner over Hibbing

A four-goal first period sparked Thief River Falls to a 5-2 Saturday afternoon high school hockey win over Hibbing at the Sports Arena.

The win put the Prowlers at 3-3 heading into the Granite City Classic in St. Cloud Thursday, Friday and Saturday, where Thief River Falls will be matched against St. Cloud Apollo, Irondale and Cooper in the six-team, round-robin event.

That early outburst, which included two goals in a 30-second span late in the period, produced most of the day's excitement. The two teams combined for just eight shots on goal in the second period and the only other scoring occurred in the final 62 seconds of the contest.

"We played a good hockey game," offered Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "We got off to a quick start, and sometimes you're concerned with what you've got left after that, but we did all right. Overall, it was a lot better than a week ago (when the Prowlers were struggling with a three-game losing streak)."

Scoring started when Jason Svir walked in one-on-one and sent a low ice-hugging shot past the defenseman and goalie Tony Fatticci at 4:15.

Rick Ostby lifted the puck over Fatticci on a goal mouth scramble at 10:05, and Thief River Falls doubled that 2-0 lead when sophomores Marc Seaverson and Brent Kleinvachter scored at 13:09 and 13:48, respectively. Seaverson made it 3-0 on a wrap-around goal and Kleinvachter picked up his first varsity goal on a slap shot from the blue line.

Just 19 seconds later the Bluejackets were on the board as Tony Richtarich slammed home a centering pass. But the only other Hibbing goal was a power play blast from the point by Matt Seikkinen with just six seconds left in the game.

A long range goal by Marc Haugen 56 seconds earlier had provided Thief River Falls with a 5-1 cushion.

Thief River Falls goalie Barry Dowers turned in a solid 25-save effort." Fatticci, a senior, was replaced by sophomore Darik Buchar at the start of the second period. They combined on 16 saves.

Scoring

First period - TRF, Jason Svir (un.), 4:15; TRF, Rick Ostby (Jeff Twomey, Svir), 10:05; TRF, Marc Seaverson (Svir), 13:09; TRF, Brent Kleinvachter (Aaron Brolen), 13:48; Hibbing, Tony Richtarich (Adam Schumacher, Brady Kan), 14:07.

Second period - none.

Third period - TRF, Marc Haugen (Brolen, Nathan Knutson), 13:58; Hibbing, Matt Seikkinen (Brian Bolf), 14:54.

Goalie Saves

TRF - Barry Dowers 7-5-13 – 25. Hibbing - Tony Fatticci 8-x-x, Darik Buchar x-3-5; Hibbing game total – 16.

Hibbing center Mike Bolf was stopped by Thief River Falls goalie Barry Dowers during Saturday's high school hockey game at the Sports Arena. The Prowlers won 5-2.

Thief River Falls defender Darin Wald arrived too late to prevent Warren forward Tatum Schuler from getting off this shot early in Friday's high school basketball match-up in the Lincoln gym. The Ponies beat the Prowlers 49-35.

Lincoln girls down Otters for 3-1 mark

Thief River Falls girls started their 1991-92 North Sub-Section 8AA high school basketball schedule on the right foot Saturday with a 50-45 home court win over Fergus Falls.

Guard Jodi Kruta scored 26 points and center Amy Adams, making her first appearance after being sidelined by a preseason ankle injury, had a 12-point debut for the Prowlers, who improved their overall record to 3-1.

Thief River Falls turned a slim 13-12 first quarter edge into a 31-24 halftime advantage, but the Otters cut it back to 34-31 by the end of the third quarter.

Fergus Falls received double figure scoring production out of guards Kim Hanson (13 points) and Chastidy Anderson (12).

"We won a big game," offered Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse.

A key, according to Wiltse, was the first half defensive work by Thief River Falls guard Toni Chiodo on Hanson. "She (Hanson) is the key to their team," noted Wiltse. "She's the one we wanted to stop, and Toni did a heckuva job."

The Prowlers made it tough on themselves with a 1-for-14 third quarter shooting performance, but they still out-shot the Otters for the night, 33 to 29 percent.

"It was a very ugly third quarter," admitted Wiltse, "but they hung together."

It was close until Thief River Falls gained some breathing room with about three minutes left following a Fergus Falls technical foul.

The Prowlers were 17-for-52 from the field and 12-for-20 at the free throw line. The Otters went 15-for-52 from the field and were 12-for-18 at the line. Thief River Falls finished with a 33-28 rebound edge as Adams grabbed 9, Lori DeLap 8 and Chiodo 7.

Thief River Falls will compete in the three-day, eight-team Brainerd Invitational beginning Thursday.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Fergus Falls	12	12	7	14	45
Thief River Falls	13	16	3	16	50

Fergus Falls - Kim Hanson 13, Chastidy Anderson 12, Caro Paulius 6, Amy Bailey 4, Amy Boyer 3, Brendi Rochelt 3, Jessica Howland 2, Kallo Solseth 2.

TRF - Jodi Kruta 26, Amy Adams 12, Tarik Koivisto 6, Lori DeLap 4, Lisa Ulrich 2.

Ponies stop Prowlers

Defense will keep you in the game, but winning also requires offense. Thief River Falls played defense with a lot of heart and a lot of hard work Friday to stay with heavily-favored Warren, but the Prowlers' shortcomings on offense cost them a shot at an upset as the Ponies pulled away at the end for a 49-35 boys high school basketball win.

It was a six-point game with 6:52 remaining, but a 12-2 Warren run inflated the final, putting the Ponies at 5-0 for the year and dropping the Prowlers to 0-4.

Despite the setback, first-year Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke, a Warren alumnus, was more than satisfied with the Prowlers' efforts, especially on defense. "The kids played really hard," he said. "We executed our game plan to perfection defensively. Offensively, we might have ran out of gas at the end."

It looked like Warren might have an easy time of it after the Ponies opened with a 7-0 lead. And it was 17-7 at the end of the first quarter.

But Thief River Falls made a game of it with an 8-0 run to open the second quarter as Tony Greene came off the bench to hit a pair of three-point shots and Tom Upham finished off a length-of-the-court charge with a lay-up as the Prowlers sliced the Ponies' lead to 17-15.

The Prowlers stayed close the rest of the first half, but were never able to wrestle the lead away from the Ponies. Thief River Falls center Nathan Egge pulled up and hit a short jumper with 1:18 left and added a free throw with 19 seconds remaining to finish a 24-22 first half.

Warren quickly established control at the start of the second half when Aaron Molacek scored off a rebound and moments later hit a three-point shot to re-open a 29-22 spread.

A drive by Upham and a Greene lay-up off a 2-on-1 break with Upham kept the Prowlers within 33-28 with 1:12 to go in the third quarter, but a final-shot set-up by Warren resulted in a 35-28 difference at the end of the quarter on a rebound basket by Greg Korynta at the buzzer.

Thief River Falls guard Darin Wald connected on a three-point shot from the corner with 6:52 remaining in a 37-31 game, but that was the last the Prowlers saw of the Ponies, who matched their biggest lead of the game at 41-31 on a 15-foot turn-around jumper by Molacek with 4:18 left, and then became pretty selective with their shots as they worked on the clock the rest of the way.

Molacek, a 6-2 senior forward, finished with a game-high 25 points. Upham, a 6-0 senior guard, led the Prowlers with 11.

Strong defensive efforts had a lot to do with both teams shooting just 38 percent from the field for the game, but the Ponies hit 21 of 55 attempts, while the Prowlers got off only 39 shots, sinking 15. Thief River Falls did go 4-for-6 from three-point range, though, while Warren was 4-for-17 outside the Prowlers' zone.

"I was real pleased with the effort – we played hard to the end," mentioned Brekke. "But we missed a lot of easy shots."

Free throws didn't amount to much – Thief River Falls going 1-for-4 and Warren finishing 3-for-4 at the line. The Ponies had a 28-25 rebound edge.

In what might be the lowest turnover figures you'll see all year, the Prowlers lost the ball 11 times (about half of their average for three previous starts) and the Ponies had just one turnover.

Thief River Falls will return to action Thursday when they play host to their annual Northwest Russ Smith Holiday Classic. The Prowlers meet Valley North at 8:45 p.m. to close out the opening day quarterfinals.

Semifinals are Friday. In the loser's bracket, Valley North or Thief River Falls will meet Middle River or Roseau at 3:15 p.m., with Fertile-Beltrami or Argyle playing Hallock-Kennedy or Marshall County Central at 5. In the winner's bracket it'll be Hallock-Kennedy or Marshall County Central vs. Fertile-Beltrami or Argyle at 7 p.m. and Middle River or Roseau vs. Valley North or Thief River Falls at 8:45.

Saturday's schedule will start with the seventh place game at 3:15 p.m., consolation final at 5, third place game at 7 and championship game at 8:45.

The weekend schedule will also include junior varsity games in Lincoln's auxiliary gym. First round junior varsity match-ups will be identical to the varsity draws, with games planned for 1:15, 3, 5 and 6:45 p.m. But instead of using a regular tournament format, the junior varsity games will simply match up the schools meeting in the varsity contests – with the B affair preceding the A game by two hours.

All-day tournament passes will be priced at $2 for students and $3 for adults. Tickets sold after 8 p.m. each day of the tournament will be priced at $1 for students and $2 for adults.

A basket at the buzzer gave Argyle a dramatic 47-45 championship game win over Marshall County Central in the 1990 Russ Smith championship game.

Thief River Falls beat Middle River 78-48, lost to Argyle 60-48 and defeated Roseau 67-56 for a third place finish a year ago.

Tournament Schedule

Quarterfinals Thursday, Dec. 26 - (Upper Bracket) Hallock-Kennedy vs. Marshall County Central, 3:15 p.m.; Fertile-Beltrami vs. Argyle, 5 p.m. (Lower Bracket) Middle River vs. Roseau, 7 p.m.; Valley North vs. Thief River Falls, 8:45 p.m.

Semifinals Friday, Dec. 27 - (consolation round) Lower Bracket quarterfinal losers, 3:15 p.m.; Upper Bracket quarterfinal losers, 5 p.m.; (championship round) Upper Bracket quarterfinal winners, 7 p.m.; Lower Bracket quarterfinal winners, 8:45 p.m.

Finals Saturday, Dec. 28 - seventh place game, 3:15 p.m.; consolation championship, 5 p.m.; third place game, 7 p.m.; championship game, 8:45 p.m.

Friendly rivals reach finals

Goodridge shut down Lake of the Woods 49-28 and Grygla-Gatzke got by Red Lake County Central 55-50 Saturday night in the Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament semifinals.

In the consolation round semifinal session, Badger-Greenbush handled East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 63-43 and Kittson County North edged Red Lake Falls 53-48.

Final round seventh place, consolation championship, third place and title games were planned Monday.

Goodridge 49
Lake of the Woods 28

Lake of the Woods had double figure scoring production in just one quarter as Goodridge rolled to a one-sided 49-28 win.

The Huskies led only 14-11 after one quarter, and still hadn't shaken the Bears by halftime, 26-19. But they opened up a 36-21 third quarter lead and continued to pull away over the final eight minutes.

Donovan Quam led the winners with 14 points. He was the game's only double figure scorer.

Mustangs, Eagles pick up NCC wins

Delayed a day by icy weather, first round of the first Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament was completed Friday night when Red Lake County Central edged Kittson County North 40-38 and Grygla-Gatzke stopped Red Lake Falls 59-47.

Goodridge posted a 63-57 win over Badger-Greenbush and Lake of the Woods collected a 57-41 decision over East Grand Forks Sacred Heart in a Thursday afternoon quarterfinal doubleheader, but the evening session was postponed by the weather. The delay pushed the semifinals to Saturday and the finals to Monday instead of a Thursday-Friday-Saturday tournament run.

Red Lake Co. Central 40
Kittson Co. North 38

Red Lake County Central shut out Kittson County North 9-0 in the fourth quarter to come out a 40-38 winner.

The Cougars led 10-9 at the end of the first quarter, and after a 23-23 halftime tie, went back on top 38-31 by the end of the third quarter before coming up empty offensively over the final eight minutes.

Ryan Melby scored 14 points and Jacob Melby had 10 for the Mustangs. Shawn Lyberg led the Cougars with 10 points.

Scoring

RLCC - Andy Dulke 4, Eric Kolstoe 2, Jody Martell 8, Ryan Melby 14, Jacob Melby 10, Bill Maul 2, Jonathan Sundrud 2.

Grygla-Gatzke 59
Red Lake Falls 47

A late start to the Grygla-Gatzke basketball season began with a 59-47 win over Red Lake Falls.

The Eagles' first two games were rescheduled after the Grygla-Goodridge march into the 1991 state Nine-Man football playoff finals delayed the beginning of the 1991-92 basketball season. And then weather moved Thursday's contest to Friday.

Mitch Bernstein tried to make up for lost time with a 21-point outing and teammate Jeremy Engelstad netted 16 as the Eagles overcame an 11-10 first quarter deficit to lead 29-24 at halftime and 42-36 through three quarters.

Scoring

RLF - Brian Remick 4, Nathan Petnode 11, Simon Geller 16, Jon Hoeler 6, Craig Ulrich 5, Greg Johannock 4.

Youth Basketball

Jenny Nelson scored 17 points and Sara Rasmussen had 11 as the Thief River Falls Backcourt Club-sponsored Hoosiers defeated Red Lake Falls 30-24 Saturday in sixth grade girls basketball.

Red Lake Falls girls wound up with a split for the day by beating the Thief River Falls Rebels 30-12. The Rebels' Lorie Zblewski scored 6 points and Holly Bjorgaard had 4.

In other sixth grade girls action, the Thief River Falls Krunchers edged Plummer 27-24 as Melanie Tuve scored 7 points and Sam Hjelle netted 6.

Justin Walseth scored 12 points, while Kyle Waterworth and Shawn Hoefer both netted 9 as the Thief River Falls Rebels doubled Red Lake Falls 40-20 in boys sixth grade action.

In other boys sixth grade play, the Thief River Falls Heat smoked Plummer 47-28 as Casey Skjerven scored 12 points and T.J. Rux chipped in with 8.

Nichole Kopari scored 19 points and Katie Harbott had 9 in a Knox fifth grade girls win over Northrop. Katie Christensen led Northrop with 4 points.

Elsewhere, the Washington-St. Bernard's fifth grade girls defeated Red Lake Falls, Washington fifth grade boys lost to Plummer and Northrop out-scored Knox 32-27 in a fifth grade boys match-up.

Boosters earn award

Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club will be the recipient of one of three Distinguished Service Awards from the Minnesota Athletic Directors Association during its April 9 convention in St. Louis Park.

The award is presented for community involvement with the high school athletic programs in Minnesota.

In addition to financial contributions to wide range of activities, the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club meets each Thursday noon at the Rex Cafe.

However, because of the holidays, there will not be a Sports Boosters meeting this week.

Warren tops JV boys

Warren defeated Thief River Falls 51-36 Friday in boys junior varsity high school basketball.

The winners had quarter leads of 9-6, 21-18 and 36-26.

Jason Lambert scored 9 points to lead the 2-2 Thief River Falls squad.

Hockey JV falls 4-1

First 4:48 of the game produced four Hibbing goals Saturday as the Thief River Falls junior varsity high school hockey team fell to 2-2 for the year with a 4-1 loss.

Thief River Falls' lone goal, scored by Jared Lee, also came in the first period.

Thief River Falls goalies Eric Dowers and Brad Svir combined on 28 saves. The Hibbing goalie stopped 20 shots.

Girls lose JV contest

Fergus Falls beat Thief River Falls 49-38 Saturday in girls junior varsity high school basketball.

Thief River Falls had an 11-10 first quarter lead, but Fergus Falls went ahead 24-20 at halftime and led 34-27 through three quarters.

University of Minnesota Crookston - Marlin Bankston, Jeff Oseth; Northland - Larone Greer, Travis Brown; Rainy River - Kevin Flynn, Clarence McMiller; Hibbing - Don Stahl; United Tribes - Gary Withee; Mesabi - Tim McKinney

Northwestern Minnesota rivals University of Minnesota Crookston and Northland Community College, who will meet in a pair of Minnesota Community College Conference-counting regular season games later this winter, squared off in the finals of the annual Northern Conference Invitational Saturday at International Falls, with the Trojans gaining early-season bragging rights by virtue of a high-scoring 126-117 victory over the Pioneers.

UMC reached the title game with a 93-81 Thursday quarterfinal win over Mesabi and a 92-62 Saturday semifinal decision over host Rainy River. Northland advanced with wins over Vermilion 102-92 and Hibbing 115-105.

Tournament results sent the Pioneers into the holiday break with a 5-3 record. They will be idle until a Tuesday, Jan. 14, game at home against the Grand Forks Air Base, followed by their 1991-92 MCCC opener Jan. 17 against Rainy River.

Northland 115
Hibbing 105

Northland guards Larone Greer and Joe Comstock scored 23 points apiece to lead the Pioneers past Hibbing 115-105 in the semifinal doubleheader opener.

Playing the point, Greer added nine assists and eight loose-ball recoveries to his scoring efforts, and was charged with just one turnover.

Meanwhile, Comstock set a Northland record with seven 3-point baskets (in 12 attempts) and the Pioneers received a 16-point, 14-rebound performance from Travis Brown and an 11-point outing from Nate Carlin.

Northland, after trailing by eight early, put together a 19-2 scoring run en route to a 57-55 halftime lead. A 3-point basket by Don Stahl put Hibbing ahead 62-61 at the start of the second half, but that was the last lead of the night for the Cardinals.

Stahl finished with 30 points and teammate Andy LeTourneau had 25.

Northland shot 46 percent from the field on a 44-for-96 effort and had a 19-for-28 showing at the free throw line. Hibbing shot 49 percent from the field by hitting 39 of 79 shots and went 15-for-20 at the line. The Pioneers showed a 60-42 rebound advantage and the Cardinals had more turnovers, 38-27.

Northland 117

A 47-point performance by Marlon Bankston carried the University of Minnesota-Crookston past Northland 126-117 in the title game.

UMC finished the first half with a string of seven straight points for a 61-57 lead at intermission, and the Trojans opened the second half with an 8-0 run to take command.

"The kids didn't quit, but we just got into too big of a hole to climb out," said Northland coach Chet Engelman. "We had a lot of trouble handling Bankston inside."

Four other UMC scorers were also in double figures as Jeff Oseth netted 19 points, Jason Yutrzenka 17, Wayne Riley 12, Darin Marcussen 11 and Jason Hanson 10.

Northland guard Joe Comstock, a 5-10 freshman from Howard Lake, continued to impress with his long range shooting, going 8-for-14 from 3-point range to break a single game school record he set the night before with seven 3-pointers. He finished with a team-high 28 points, while Travis Brown wound up with 23, Larone Greer 14, Chip Carter 11 and Fred Sculfield 11.

Northland was 44-for-88 from the field (50 percent) and 17-for-25 at the free throw line. UMC went 46-for-93 from the field (49 percent) and had a 27-for-40 march to the free throw line – where Bankston picked up 15 of his points. The Pioneers wound up with a 56-54 rebound edge and the Trojans topped the turnover charts 25-20.

Ryan Melby of Red Lake County Central went over Lake of the Woods defender Dan Dahlgren to put up this shot during Monday's Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament third place game. Andy Dulka of the Mustangs and Neil Gushalak of the Bears trailed the play.

Goodridge defenders Shane Wilkens (20) and Travis Kotrba kept Justin Lusetter of Grygla-Gatzke from getting to the basket during Monday's championship game in the Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament.

KCN, RLF post wins in final NCC outings

Close decisions went in favor of Kittson County North and Red Lake Falls in the Monday afternoon session of the first Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament as the Cougars got by Badger-Greenbush 44-43 in the consolation finals and the Eagles edged East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 48-45 in the third place game.

Consolation semifinals - Badger-Greenbush 63, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 43, Kittson County North 53, Red Lake Falls 48
Consolation final - Kittson County North 44, Badger-Greenbush 43
Seventh place - Red Lake Falls 48, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 45
All-Tournament Team
Goodridge - Donovan Quam (MVP), Brandon Blaine, Willie Vettleson; Grygla-Gatzke - Mitch Bernstein, Jeremy Engelstad, Scott Rindahl; Red Lake County Central - Eric Kolstoe; Lake of the Woods - Brody Willis; Badger-Greenbush - Trent Wahl; Kittson County North - Joey Wilebski.

Goodridge pulled away from Grygla-Gatzke in the final minutes to post a 55-42 win Monday in the championship game of the first Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament.

Red Lake County Central defeated Lake of the Woods 59-33 in the third place game to kick off the final evening session of the tournament.

Earlier in the day Kittson County North edged Badger-Greenbush 44-43 for the consolation title and Red Lake Falls got by East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 48-45 in the seventh place game.

Grygla-Gatzke 42

Goodridge managed to stay close without foul-plagued Donovan Quam in the first half, then pulled away when the 6-4 senior returned to the line-up after intermission to spark his team to a 55-42 championship game decision over Grygla-Gatzke.

Teammates on a state runner-up Grygla-Goodridge football team became foes in a spirited match-up played in front of a large crowd that saw the lead change hands nine times in the first half. There were also five ties, with a five-point gap being the biggest point spread. The Eagles led 14-11 at the end of the first quarter and maintained a 28-26 edge at halftime on a base line drive by Mitch Bernstein with 42.1 seconds left.

But it came with Quam on the bench. He left after picking up his third foul with 2:53 left in the first quarter and did not return until the start of the second half.

"We should have made a run without Quam in there," pointed out Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "We should have opened up a 10-point lead with him on the bench."

Instead, the Huskies showed a solid supporting cast as Willie Vettleson scored a game-high 19 points and Brandon Blaine matched Quam's 15-point output.

"Willie played really well," noted Goodridge coach John Rahn. "He picked up the slack when Donovan left. And Brandon ran the show at the point guard. Those kids did a really nice job for us."

Quam made his presence felt immediately upon returning to the line-up, hitting a 15-foot jumper and a 3-pointer on back-to-back second half-opening possessions to supply the Huskies with a 31-28 lead they would never lose.

It stayed close, though, until the end. A 39-36 Goodridge lead at the end of the third quarter was still only 44-40 after the Eagles' Mitch Bernstein hit two free throws with 4:41 remaining.

But the Huskies out-scored the Eagles 11-2 down the stretch, with all 11 points coming at the free throw line – seven by Blaine. Goodridge wound up 16-for-17 at the line for the night, which included a perfect 13-for-13 second half.

Grygla wasn't bad at the line, either, with a 13-for-18 showing. The free throw shooting helped compensate for poor showing from the field by both teams as the Eagles shot 25 percent on a 14-for-55 effort and the Huskies shot 33 percent on an 18-for-49 outing.

Scott Rindahl led the Eagles with 12 points, while Jeremy Engelstad netted 11 and Bernstein had 10.

"We didn't execute our offense at all," explained Johnson. "That's probably as poor as we've played offensively, for a long time. We aren't quite ready yet. But give Goodridge credit, they played well defensively. They played aggressively."

Rahn agreed. "I want to compliment the kids on their effort on defense," he said. "I thought our team defense in the second half was outstanding."

Rebounds wound up in a 31-31 draw, but a 10-1 Grygla-Gatzke edge on the offensive boards in the first half evened out in the second half.

"We didn't rebound in the second half," said Johnson. "We got caught flat-footed. We were watching the ball and not moving."

"They whipped us mentally and physically on the boards in the first half," acknowledged Rahn, "but we made a couple of adjustments at halftime and did a much better job rebounding in the second half."

There were enough turnovers – 24 for Grygla-Gatzke; 19 for Goodridge – and enough bodies on the floor to remind fans that the long football season delayed the start of basketball for both sides by two weeks. In fact, the 1991-92 Grygla-Gatzke season opener occurred in Saturday's 59-47 first round tournament win over Red Lake Falls. Goodridge is 5-0.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Goodridge	11	15	13	16	55
Grygla-Gatzke	14	14	8	6	42

G-G - Mitch Bernstein 10, Jeremy Engelstad 11, Ryan Bakken 2, Scott Rindahl 12, Justin Lunsetter 7.

Red Lake Co. Central 59
Lake of the Woods 33

A 14-0 third quarter scoring run carried Red Lake County Central to a 59-33 third place game win over Lake of the Woods.

It wasn't pretty, but the second win in two tournament starts put the Mustangs at 3-4 for the year.

"It was a pretty ugly game," acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore, whose team beat Kittson County North 40-38 in the quarterfinals and fell to Grygla-Gatzke 55-50 in the semifinals. "Actually, the best game we played here was the one we lost," he pointed out. "I was really happy with our Saturday night game, even though we lost. We played as well as we're probably capable of playing that night."

Only Lake of the Woods lead of the night came on a game-opening 15-foot jumper by Neil Gushalak. Red Lake County Central scored the next 10 points and were never headed the rest of the way.

The Mustangs were up 16-9 at the end of the first quarter and maintained a 29-24 edge at halftime. Gusholak hit a short turnaround jumper to open the second half, making it 29-26, but the next 14 points were scored by Red Lake County Central to open up a 48-30 spread by quarter's end.

A balanced Red Lake County Central offense included Jacob Melby with 14 points, Bill Maul 13 and Ryan Melby 12. Gushalak led the Bears with 9 points.

Red Lake County Central was 22-for-62 from the field (35 percent) and 12-for-23 at the free throw line. Lake of the Woods went just 9-for-39 from the field (23 percent) and 15-for-25 at the line. The Mustangs finished with a 37-35 rebound edge. The Bears had more turnovers, 26-10.

Scoring

LOW - Dan Dahlgren 4, Dale Brune 2, Aaron Dubbels 4, Brody Willis 7, Ken Tetu 6, Neil Gushalak 9, Joe Dobransky 1.

Mitch Bernstein of Grygla-Gatzke put up a shot over Goodridge defenders Willie Vettleson (42) and Brandon Blaine during Monday's Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament championship game.

Lake of the Woods' Ray Aery couldn't stop Darrin Schmitz of Red Lake County Central from getting off this shot during Monday's third place game in the Northland Community College Invitational boys high school basketball tournament.

Sales of non-current state duck stamps to close out by April 15

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is issuing its last call for Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamps. The DNR is conducting its first and final nationally advertised sale of non-current Minnesota waterfowl stamps now through April 15, 1992, if available stamps last that long.

All stamps remaining unsold after the end of the sale will be destroyed.

Only 3,000 sets of stamps are available for sale by the DNR, according to Stephen Seefeldt, marketing specialist for the DNR License Bureau. Each set spans 14 years of Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp issues, beginning with the first issue in 1977 and continuing through 1990. The sale is for complete sets only. Sets of singles are priced at $60 per set. Ten-stamp sheets are available at $600 per set.

Proceeds will be contributed to the North American Waterfowl Management Plan for waterfowl habitat development.

Concerns surrounding collectible stamps and their fair market value were thoroughly studied by the DNR before setting the terms and conditions of this sale, Seefeldt said. "We investigated the retail duck stamp market and consulted with the top officers of several nationally recognized non-profit philatelic organizations," Seefeldt said. "We needed to determine how to generate the most revenue for wildlife habitat development without undermining the current or future markets for our collectible duck stamps.

"We're confident that the manner in which we're conducting this sale respects these very different concerns," Seefeldt said.

Minnesota's policy concerning future issues of waterfowl stamps will leave the business of collectible stamps in the hands of the stamp collectors. The DNR will make each year's issue available to collectors at face value for a period of one calendar year beyond expiration date, after which all unsold examples still held will be destroyed.

An order blank for the stamp sale may be obtained by writing to the Last Call for Minnesota Ducks, DNR License Bureau, 500 Layfayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4026.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GORDON WOLD
DECEMBER 25, 1989

Our dad, he was a real great guy, if only he didn't have to die. We gave this man all our love, but the time came that he had to be taken by the Lord above. Sometimes it just make us feel alone, but we are just glad to know that he is safe at home with the Lord above.

Sadly missed by his family

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother

Thomas Raymond

Your gentle face and patient smile,
With sadness we recall,
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all
The voice is mute and stilled the heart
That loved us well and true,
Oh, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
May God bless you Tom, we love you and miss you so very, very much.

Love
Mom, Kristine and Rob

More than 200 attend pageant

More than 200 people attended the fourth Nativity pageant Saturday evening at the Donald and Margaret Rupprecht farm northeast of Thief River Falls. Relatively warm weather made attendance at the pageant in a pole building on the farm quite comfortable.

The Rupprechts expressed appreciation to those who attended and to persons who provided assistance in a number of ways. Cattle were provided by Dale and Darryl Rupprecht, sheep by Curtis Johnson and the donkey "Daisy" by Norman Hagen of Argyle. Johnson, Chad Kaushagen and John Sang played the role of shepherds.

"Come to the Star—Christmas Live" was the title of the half-hour program. Taking part in the program which told the Christmas story through the eyes of a serving girl working at her uncle's Bethlehem inn were Bev Rupprecht as the serving girl Deborah, Clark Nelson as Uncle Zebulon, Iris Floistad as Aunt Leah, Mark and Virginia Swanson as Joseph and Mary, Darren Nelson as Daniel, Melodee Rupprecht as the Angel and Jonelle and Jennifer Swanson and Shara Guidry as cherubim.

Roger Peterson provided the sound equipment, Rev. Ron Calvert was in charge of program design and publicity, Judy Nelson was song director and Rev. Eugene Floistad was editor and compiler.

The pageant was videotaped by Bruce Russell and persons who would like to show the tape to shut-ins or nursing home residents are invited to contact the Donald Rupprechts at 681-4813.

Cooperative learning training continues

Area teachers and administrators recently attended another in a series of training sessions in "Cooperative Learning" at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. The training is sponsored by the Northwest Minnesota Educational Cooperative Service unit (NW ECSU) in Thief River Falls.

The training effort started in March of 1990 when the ECSU invited "Cooperative Learning" author Roger Johnson of the University of Minnesota to Thief River Falls to kick off the Cooperative Learning training in northwestern Minnesota. Since then two classes of trainees have been formed, each on a three-year cycle of training that culminates in certificated teachers considered by the University of Minnesota as having model classrooms in Cooperative Learning.

The group meeting here recently involved the second class taking its "Foundations" training under Susan Gruber of the University of Wisconsin. This group started the training in November and will finish it in four sessions by January of 1992. Gruber then will immediately return to the region to train the first class in Advanced Cooperative Learning. Class I took Foundations training in Cooperative Learning in four sessions between January and April of 1991.

Gruber is an associate professor at the University of Wisconsin and department head for Exceptional Education (special education). She has been a regular and special education teacher and worked with Cooperative Learning authors David and Roger Johnson for more than 10 years. She conducts training sessions for them when their training load gets too heavy.

"Cooperative Learning is a method of teaching in which the teacher places students in small groups, mixed with fast and slow learners, to the end that they are interdependent in a positive way to learn course content from one another," states Peter Novellino, who is on staff at NW ECSU and is coordinating the project with the University of Minnesota.

"It is not quite the one-room classroom of years ago, but it does emulate that," Novellino said. "The training has been very popular and one big reason is because Cooperative Learning is a convenient re-teaching technique that can be used for first time learning opportunities. Re-teaching maximizes opportunities for all students to learn and is a belief system that is gaining momentum in education. Cooperative Learning is a natural for teachers who wish to commit to that belief system."

Other opportunities available to trainees include "Train the Trainer" under the University of Minnesota—where teachers can qualify to train other teachers in their district in Cooperative Learning—and special training for principals under the University of Minnesota—where they can learn the concept of running the cooperative school.

"The training effort itself is indeed a cooperative effort," Novellino said, "as the University of Minnesota is working with the NW ECSU which is contracting with trainers from various institutions, who are in turn training educators in northwestern Minnesota. That's cooperation!"

Northwestern Minnesota school participating in Class II training include Oklee, Lake of the Woods (Baudette), Bemidji, Warroad, Walker-Hackensack-Akeley, Remer, Waubun, Bagley, Cass Lake-Bena, Crookston, Thief River Falls and Goodridge. Since March of 1990 there have been 247 teachers and administrators from northwestern Minnesota exposed to Cooperative Learning concepts through this effort.

Anyone with questions about the Cooperative Learning program is invited to contact Peter Novellino at the NW ECSU office, phone 681-8005, extension 5.

Associate Professor Susan Gruber of the University of Wisconsin conducts a training session in Cooperative Learning at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls recently. Gruber assists David and Roger Johnson of the University of Minnesota, authors of "Cooperative Learning," in conducting classes when their training load becomes too heavy.

Cooperative Learning training for area teachers at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls recently involved placing teachers in groups to work out some of their problems. This group included (left to right) Glenna Wefald, Gail Bergland and Marcy Mickelson, all of Thief River Falls. Conducting the training offered through the Northwest Educational Cooperative Service Unit was Susan Gruber, associate professor at the University of Wisconsin and department head of Exceptional Education.

Bob Michalicek of the Thief River Falls public schools makes notes during a group session while involved in Cooperative Learning training recently at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Involved in his group are Tim Berg (left) of the Fisher schools and Lambert Brunkhorst of Thief River Falls. The Cooperative Learning concept involves placing students in small groups comprised of slow and fast learners and have them act interdependently to learn course content from one another.

Turning Back The Times

1891 — One Hundred Years Ago

—Several St. Hilaire couples who attended the dance in Thief River Falls Friday evening, reported having a very pleasant time.

—Christmas passed off very quietly here, our citizens having kept too busy to do much celebrating.

—The railroad company has not been furnishing many cars the past week and as a consequence the elevators are about full.

1901 — Ninety Years Ago

—City schools closed last Friday for a two-week vacation.

—The ball to be given by the Library society on New Year's Eve promises to be the social event of the season.

—Postmaster Richardson put in a new section of lock boxes in the post office. There are now a total of 163 lock boxes.

—Christmas "baskets" containing two 100-pound sacks of flour, 50 pounds of cream of wheat, $1 worth of sugar, $1 worth of coffee, 50 cents worth of tea and three chickens are being given to seven poor families by an anonymous donor.

1911 — Eighty Years Ago

—Local boys have succeeded in organizing an athletic association in this city.

—A vaudeville attraction at the city auditorium December 25-27 was "Alice Teddy," a roller-skating bear.

—The year 1912 is a leap year. Watch out, Mr. Bachelor!

1921 — Seventy Years Ago

—There were more than twice as many arrests for drunkenness in Thief River Falls in 1921 than in 1920.

—J. H. Hay, former superintendent of schools in Thief River Falls, will deliver the principal address at the formal dedication of Knox elementary school on January 13.

—Only 83 marriage licenses were issued in Pennington county in 1921 with only two in December and none in August.

1931 — Sixty Years Ago

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota December 25, 1941

First Baby In 1942 Gets Array Of Prizes

"Which will be the first family to be visited by the stock in Thief River Falls after December 31, 1941? The first baby to be born here in 1942 will gain more than passing distinction, for it was announced today that local merchants, as was the case two years ago, will again sponsor a Stork Derby and will present a large array of attractive merchandise prizes to the first infant born in the New Year."

Firemen's Ball On New Years Eve

"The annual firemen's ball, time-honored local institution sponsored by the Thief River Falls fire department, will be held in the municipal auditorium December 31, New Year's Eve. Arranging for the affair, for which music will be supplied by Jolly Aaseby and his orchestra, are in the hands of a committee including Gle Ness, Ted Lee and Gordon Storholm."

Cntting Wash Ice Starts

"With the ice in Red Lake river having attained a thickness of twelve inches, less than usual for this time of year, the cutting of wash ice was begun Tuesday by the O'Hara Fuel & Ice company. Ed O'Hara stated that the harvesting of ice for storage purposes will be deferred until later, a thickness of approximately 20 inches being desired for this purpose."

Christmas Mail Reached Peak Sat.

"After storting December 13, earlier than usual, the peak of the Christmas rush of mail at the local postoffice was reached Saturday and Monday, it was announced today. Letters, papers and parcels were delivered Sunday in the residential districts to prevent incoming mail from accumulating."

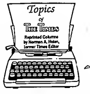
Roller Rink Has 14,857 Patrons In '41

"Indicating the liberal patronage enjoyed by the municipal roller skating rink in the sports arena in the season recently closed, T. M. Thronson of the arena management committee announced this week that during the period from June to November a total of 14,857 persons enjoyed the facilities provided for their entertainment. With total skating receipts for the season of $2,170.90, the city reaped a net profit of $1,200.73 including a profit of $243.21 from operation of the refreshment booth. The substantial profit was made despite the fact that skates were furnished for a fee of 15 cents, while those furnishing their own skates paid only ten cents."

City Cigaret Ordinance To Be Enacted Friday

"Scheduled for a final reading and adoption at an adjourned session of the city council Friday evening is the new ordinance fixing a license fee of $10 a year for sellers of cigarets in the city. The ordinance supplants a former state law which levied a license fee of $12, of which approximately $10 was turned over to the city treasury. City Clerk P. G. Pederson, who will receive applications for licenses, estimated that upwards of 100 local vendors are affected by the ordinance."



Topics of The Times

Reprinted Columns by Norman A. Holen, former Times Editor

—It seems funny that folks shortly will go from the north to the south to see the East-West football game.

—If the attorney general is correct, it is safe for you to put your 1942 license plates on your car any time now.

—The wages of sin, we read, are often not collected until in middle life.

—Now we learn why the chromium is being removed from the new cars. A manufacturer says it makes automobiles less conspicuous in case of air raids.

—We trust that following the annual inventory now getting under way, local merchants can be sparing in their use of red ink.

—The horrors of war will be brought home to the ladies when they learn of an impending shortage of permanent wave machines.

—President Roosevelt last week addressed a letter to the man who will be president in 1956. Funny he should be writing a letter to himself.

—That fellow with a smug look on his face is he who recently equipped his car with a set of new tires.

—Icy highways are a slick argument in favor of careful driving.

—This column wants to join in the chorus and wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Report on Christmas Activities

"The Christmas tree held on Christmas Eve at the Norwegian Lutheran church was attended by a large number of people and all seemed to enjoy themselves. A large number of valuable presents were distributed."

Strandquist News

F. Myrtle Vagle

On December 12th, 20 Senior Citizens came to the Center in Strandquist, to enjoy their Christmas party. Iola Rokke came from Thief River Falls, to help celebrate. They sang songs and exchanged gifts, and afterwards put away the Christmas trimmings. After they said the Pledge of Allegiance and prayed Table Grace, they had a lovely lunch. On Saturday the 7th, which was Santa Claus day, they gave away two fruit baskets that were won by Kathy Nelson and Tony Kazmierczak. This was the last meeting for this year, but they hope to begin again next spring. We wish them all a nice winter and happy holidays.

On Sunday Elphie Adils, Stan Adils, George and Delores Wickstrom and daughters, Kathy and Gwen, went to George and Joyce Wickstrom's home to celebrate the birthday of three year old Kyle Wickstrom, son of Cory and Lori Wickstrom. There were some mighty proud great grandparents around to have cake and ice cream with him.

Kelly Donarski visited Earl and Ebba Sahlberg this past week.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom were to Grace Lutheran in Hallock on Sunday afternoon, for their Christmas program. They visited with Ted and Lori Johnson and family afterwards.

Jennifer Anderson, a student at Hamline University in St. Paul, arrived in Grand Forks on Saturday morning by Amtrak, and was met by Chano Chaffe. They spent time shopping and after dinner she returned home with her parents, Paul and Shirley Anderson. On Sunday they attended the Christmas program at the Karlstad Gospel Tabernacle.

On Sunday afternoon Terry and Betty Pietruszewski, Michael and Kevin, Ben Klenvachter, Mark, Brian and Sara brought belated birthday greetings to Frank Klenvachter.

Shirley Anderson hosted the Karlstad Gospel Ladies' Missionary circle on Wednesday evening.

Grace Boen celebrated her 91st birthday on Saturday the 14th, among the many guests attending was her granddaughter, Michelle Boen from Grand Forks.

Paul, Shirley, Jenny, Kristopher and Kenny Anderson, Keith Joshua, Jared and Alison Britten were supper guests at Morris and Hazel Anderson's on Sunday.

Strandquist ....

Elmer, Anna and Ernest Holmstrom stopped in at Frank Kleinvachter's Friday afternoon, after attending the Christmas party at the nursing home.

After attending the funeral for William Sundby in Warren on Sunday, Isaac and Betsy Thompson drove on their way to Phoenix, AZ, where they will spend the holidays and a month or so with their daughter and her husband, Barbara and Tom Woodroff.

Among the many who stopped in to visit Elsie Lalrooth this past week have been Pearl Thompson, Michelle Johnson, Isaac and Betsy Thompson, Pastor Evenson, Gloria Renstrom, JoAnne Holmstrom, Adrienne Lalrooth, Melanie and Marlys Lalrooth and Elphie Adils. Elsie has been laid up with a sprained knee. She arrived home from Iowa with Donny and Marlys Lalrooth on Monday.

Thursday evening Pearl Thompson was among the Assembly of God Womens group, who celebrated their Christmas party at Faye Veer's home. Faye served a delicious dinner to the group, and gifts to the secret pals were exchanged.

THE NEW YEAR SHOULD SIGNAL THE START OF A NEW LIFE

In less than a week, we will replace the calendar on the wall with a new one: a transition often heralded by a festive get-together with friends, relatives or neighbors, waiting for the hands of the clock to scissor off the old year at midnight. However, the serious side of the new year should also be remembered, and when the bells and the strains of Auld Lang Syne have died out and the horns and paper hats put away until next year, it's time to make that list of what you will resolve to do (or stop doing) this year. Good intentions being what they are, you may not live up to it, but it's a start. The one resolution you should keep is to attend your House of Worship regularly. It may very well help you to adopt all those other items on your list.

Perhaps the best reason for having calendars is that the cycle itself offers hope.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gretchen Beito

Fifty years ago this December, Norwegians celebrated Christmas while Nazis occupied their country. They suffered food shortages because for more than a year and a half Nazis had exported tons of eggs, butter, meat, cheese to Germany. Moreover, 300,000 German soldiers—one for every ten Norwegians—"shared" Norway's resources. On December 22, 1941, newspapers reported there would be "no oranges on this year's Norwegian Christmas tables."

For Norwegians who had immigrated to America, the news was heartbreaking. Hild Hildahl of Roseau, who had emigrated in 1937 from Kragero with her husband, Olaf, recalls: "We had lost contact with my folks in Norway. We knew they had so little food."

Hild and Olaf had begun married life in a log cabin on a farm on the Roseau River seven miles from Roseau. Lonesome for Norway, and worried sick about her people, Hild created a little Nisse, less than six inches tall.

The Nisse with his merry blue eyes and white curly beard was a cheery elf, belieing the fact that Hild's first Nisse was made with many tears. His chubby body was dressed in grey yarn and bright green suspenders. Hild painstakingly knit tiny mittens on tooth picks and then embroidered a colorful design on the backs, no more than one-eighth of an inch wide. Olaf carved a wooden spoon less than an inch long as well as a pair of miniature wooden shoes for each Nisse. The Nisse's head was crowned by a long knitted red stocking cap, topped by a long knotted tassel.

Hild explained that the Nisse lived on every farm in Norway and protected the animals. If the farmer was good to his animals, the Nisse was helpful. If the farmer was mean to his animals, the Nisse would play tricks on the farmer.

Someone in Roseau saw the Nisse that Hild had made and wanted to buy it. Hild discovered the Nisse were in great demand, and she made many, always faithful to the first one, perfecting each to the tiniest detail. She says the handwork kept her busy and "sane." When the Hildahls again made contact with their families, they used the proceeds of the sale of Nisse to buy food and send it to Norway.

The Hildahls could not be sure their food packages were getting through, but some did. After liberation in May, 1945, Hild and Olaf sent many food packs to their starving relatives and friends. Hild made and sold 4,000 Nisse to pay for postage and contents.

Hild explains, "I didn't know it then, but the red, pointed Nisse caps were used by Norwegians as a symbol of victory. During the war the red caps were outlawed by the Nazis for it was a symbol the Norwegians were going to win. The Nazis didn't like those red caps: it meant the Norwegians were up to some tricks."

And the Norwegians were up to tricks. During the winter of 1940, the Nazis had already outlawed wearing the red stocking cap, known as the nisselue, because it demonstrated anti-Nazi sentiment. At first the occupiers had merely confiscated the hats, but punishment for this infraction grew increasingly severe during 1941.

The Nazi reaction simply increased the hat's potency. This familiar piece of Norwegian wardrobe would not necessarily have signified Nazi resistance. But the Nazi response caused Norwegians to adopt the red caps as a message of growing resistance.

And so in 1941 Norwegians found new ways to express their defiance. The Stavanger firm of Aasmund Laerdal produced a series of Nisse Julkarts (Christmas cards) that added "Norsk" to the usual "God Jul"—"God Norsk Jul." One card shows a German "crow"—a derision of the eagle that symbolized the Third Reich—trying to snatch a red cap from the head of a Nisse, but the elf holds firmly to his red cap with both hands. That prevents the Nisse from enjoying to eat a kringle (cookie) in front of him. The image suggests that the resistance expressed by the red cap was as much a part of Norwegian culture as the Nisse and his Christmas treat, and these stood in equal danger of being snatched away by the invaders.

When Nazis noticed that Norwegians flocked to buy this and other Laerdal cards, they descended on the printer and stores alike and confiscated the entire series. Nazis also issued a directive on December 22, 1941, to postmasters throughout Norway to immediately confiscate any Laerdal Julkarts and forward them to the Central Post Office.

The red stocking caps and Nisse cards communicated a longed-for message of hope by suggesting that a willingness to grin and bear hardship would see them through the crisis. Although shortages and hardships worsened steadily in the coming months and civilian resistance did not show its full strength until the following year, 1941 and the defiance of wearing and picturing red caps represents a milestone in the growing resolve to pull together and endure.

The red caps of resistance were not soon forgotten. Olaf and Hild returned to Norway for a visit in 1948. Children waiting to greet them on the dock all wore red stocking caps. Hild and Olaf had gifts for them: they threw oranges and chocolate to them from the ship. Hild says it was a sight that she will never forget.

(Based on writings of Maggi Adams, Kathleen Stokker, and an interview with Hild Hildahl in Roseau 1991.)

The Christmas Story

Merry Christmas to all! In keeping with our belief that the story of the first Christmas can not be told too often, we publish again the account of that happening as recorded in the first 20 verses of the second chapter of the Book of Luke.

Today's account is from "The New Testament in the Language of Today" written by William F. Beck and slightly revised for its fifth printing in 1964.

Jesus Is Born

Luke 2: 1-20. In those days Emperor Augustus ordered a census taken of the whole world. This was the first census, and it was taken while Quirinius was ruling Syria. Everybody went to register, each to his own town.

Joseph also went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to David's town, called Bethlehem, in Judea, because he was one of the descendants of David, to register with Mary, his bride, who was going to have a child.

And while they were there, the time came for her to have her child. She had her first son, and she wrapped Him up and laid Him in a manger because their was no room for them in the inn.

The Shepherds

There were shepherds not far away, living in the field and taking turns watching their flock during the night.

Then the Lord's angel stood by them, and the Lord's glory shone around them. They were terrified. "Don't be afraid," the angel said to them. "I have good news for you. A great joy will come to all the people: The Savior, who is Christ the Lord, was born for you today in David's town. And this is how you will know Him: you will find a Baby all wrapped up and lying in a manger."

Suddenly there was with the angel a large crowd of the angels of heaven, who were praising God and saying: "Glory to God in the highest heavens, and on earth peace among people who have His good will!"

When the angels had left them and gone to heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "The Lord has told us what has happened. Let's go to Bethlehem and see it."

They hurried over there and searched until they found Mary and Joseph, and the Baby lying in the manger. When they had seen Him, they told others what they had been told about this Child. And everybody was surprised to hear the story the shepherds told.

But Mary treasured all these things in her heart and kept thinking about them.

The shepherds went back, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen. It was just as they had been told.

"Just The Facts" of the Health Care Crisis

"Remember what Sergeant Joe Friday used to say on the old Dragnet television show?" asks Ron Pollack, executive director of Families USA Foundation. "'Just the facts, ma'am.' Well, here are just the facts abut the state of health care in America today:

COST

- The United States spends 40% more per person on health care than Canada; twice as much as Germany or Japan spends per person.
- By the end of the decade we will be spending nearly $6,000 a year for every man, woman and child in America.
- Since 1965 American business has seen health costs rise from 9% of potential profits to 56%.
- During the 1980s the nation's total medical bill rose by 63%.
- Long term care in a nursing home averages more than $30,000 a year, and much more in some parts of the country.
- Commercial health insurance companies spend a dollar on administrative red tape for every two dollars that actually go for benefits.
- The number of health care administrators is increasing three times faster than the number of doctors.

QUALITY

- Canadians now live two years longer than we do. And our heart disease death rate is 20% higher than theirs.
- Babies born in Singapore have a better chance of survival than babies born in America. Our babies are twice as likely to die before their first birthday as babies born in Japan.
- The U.S. ranks 20th in child mortality, 18th in infant mortality.
- Despite the fact that American scientists invented the polio vaccine, 17 countries do a better job of immunizing their infants against polio.
- The United States spends six times as much money on insurance company overhead and red tape as we do on all medical research.
- Between 40,000 and 83,000 people die each year undergoing unnecessary surgical procedures.

SECURITY

- The number of Americans priced out of health insurance rose by more than 30% in the last decade.
- More than 81 million people below the age of 65 have medical problems for which insurance companies often charge higher premiums, exclude coverage or deny coverage altogether.
- Five million women of child-bearing age have health insurance that does not cover pregnancy.

"Those are the facts," Pollack writes. "We're paying too much and getting too little. It's time we as a nation straightened up this mess."

The Rutherford Report

Big Things Come From Small Beginnings

In the last two columns we talked about leadership and citizen involvement in economic development. One immediate problem faced by both groups is that of confidence. The job seems too big.

Part of the answer is to remember that big things come from small beginnings. The fact is, if you can encourage a single entrepreneur to start one small business you could be well on your way to success.

Do you know that small businesses are the linchpin of economic recovery? The facts are:

1. Small business is the fastest growing sector of the U.S. economy, responsible for 56% of all jobs in the private sector, and 47% of all private output.

2. 90% of U.S. businesses have fewer than 20 employees, yet companies with fewer than 20 employees create 90% of all new jobs.

3. Small business is three times as productive as large business and produces most of our technological innovation.

Thus, your task may not be so big as it seems. It is so unbelievable that a new business with just 20 employees, and then another after that can be started in your town?

The key, of course, is finding an entrepreneur to start an export-oriented small business. The entrepreneur needs a product that can be marketed outside the local area. But this goal is well within the ability of small towns. Consider these successes:

Back in 1981 Jack Horst, Edgar, NE (pop. 700) took a fresh look at a declining farm economy. Rather than remain the victim of trends, he dared to do something different on a small scale. He set aside 30 acres out of his 2000 for a crop Nebraskans had never seen before: Indian blue corn, native to the southwest. Horst's neighbors quit snickering when he sold the unusual corn to a wholesaler who turned it into blue corn chips. Convinced there was market for the product, Horst introduced his own brand of blue chips Oak Creek Farms. Today Oak Creek Farms produces a wide variety of value-added products based on alternative organic crops, including exotic pastas. Horst targets a national niche market in health food stores and is expanding to the international European market. Sales will exceed $1 million in 1991.

Ted Waitt, a Iowa farmer's son, took a different route from the farm to small business. Leaving the family farm, Waitt went to college and on to work for a retail computer store in Des Moines. Seeing that computers could be sold by phone sight unseen, he realizes it could be done from almost anywhere, including his father's farm. So he set up operations in an unused part of the farmstead and began selling computer parts by phone. He soon gained a partner with some technical expertise, and they graduated to assembling PCs from parts purchased by phone from catalogues. From that very small beginning in 1985 Waitt's Gateway Computers did $1 million in sales in 1986, $1.5 in 1987, and then $12 million in 1988. Needing larger quarters, they relocated from the farm to quarters in South Dakota. In 1990 Gateway Computers did $275 million and is Inc 500's top business success for 1991.

There are four common factors in the successes above: (1.) remember necessity is the mother of invention; see problems as opportunity; (2.) think differently about a solution; (3.) begin small, with low overhead; (4.) succeed by keeping national and/or international niche marketing a priority.

Imagine your community's small business incubator filled with five new businesses. Within five years at least four of them will be on their way to success by applying these principles.

You can also encourage your retailers to expand into out-of-state marketing. The product need not be unique, you merely have to give it a unique twist. Would you believe one outfit in North Dakota sells birdhouses in New York City? Doesn't New York have birdhouses? Of course! But not like any made uniquely in North Dakota!

You might begin with community-wide idea development. Include the schools. Offer a monthly prize and a yearly grand prize for the best idea. But make a big deal of every good idea submitted. Help get patents and offer these ideas to any company who will locate in your town. In this way the ideas become small successes in themselves.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I have read, with interest, the comments concerning the decision of the Red Lake Band of Ojibwa Indians to not locate their casino in Thief River Falls.

Equating racism with being against a gambling casino appears, to me, to be ridiculous. I am certain that there are people who were against the casino for racist reasons, but the comments that I have read that were made by people who were opposed to the casino were certainly not racist.

There are good, moral reasons for being against gambling. Industry is possible to be developed that will not be morally objectionable, as is gambling. The money may not be as great, but the effects will definitely be more conducive to good moral behavior in the community.

It is certainly true that people will gamble, if they wish, whether it is in Thief River Falls, Red lake Falls, Mahnomen, Warroad or elsewhere. There also are times when people must stand up for what is right from a Christian point of view.

I believe strongly in developing industry that will provide jobs for Indians and whites alike. A gambling casino does not appear, to me, to be the only answer. The negative affects would seem to far outweigh the positive effects of such an enterprise in any community.

If it is racist to oppose a gambling casino, then I guess you'll have to call me a racist, too. I would hope that you would call me a good Christian who cares about people of all races and creeds.

Sincerely,
Dennis Sundberg
Grygla, Minnesota

To The Editor:

I am writing in regard to a recent article in the Northern Watch entitled "Charges of racism end hope for casino" in the Dec. 13, 1991 issue.

It is upsetting to hear someone in the Thief River Falls community say that charitable gambling in the form of pulltabs is "not good" for the community. Many area youths would not be playing hockey if it weren't for those pulltabs.

Also, I don't see gambling or an attractive liquor store on a main street ruining families. I see racism and discrimination ruining a community. What an example we are setting for the children.

The casino would have brought new jobs, other new businesses and tourists who would have spent money in other local establishments. Now this great opportunity is gone. In this case the opinions of a select few have hurt many.

As the Thief River Falls community grows older it will also grow smaller as many youth leave in search of better opportunities. Maybe next time the select few will think of community growth and prosperity before they speak.

Sincerely,
Stacey Hovelson

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Retzer, Whitney and Logan of Fargo, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Johnson of Fosston, Idella Rewertz and Gary Hofius visited recently at the home of Idella Petersen.

Arlene Wagner of Fisher, Lucille Kvasager and Lillie Halvorson were Thursday coffee guests of Idella Petersen last Thursday. Arlene also visited at the Art Froiland home.

The Naomi and Sarah circles met jointly on Thursday afternoon at the church. Pastor Johnson led the group in the final lesson of the year and potluck lunch was served.

Wavell Sorenson visited with Mary Espeseth and son on Friday, also with Mrs. Joel Nelson and infant daughter. Both homes are in Thief River Falls.

Ronalie Vigstol of Lakeville, arrived on Friday evening at her parents; Harold and Marian Vatthauer. She rode with her cousin, Brent Anderson, and they attended the wedding of her cousin Valerie Christenson at the Evangelical Free church of Thief River Falls. Ronalie visited Effie Vigstol on Saturday afternoon and returned to her home on Sunday.

Howard and Margaret Greenwald spent the weekend in the Cities, where they visited son, Rick and Bonnie Greenwald in Stacy, John Greenwald in Brooklyn Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jaeger in St. Paul. On Sunday they attended a party honoring Esther Langer, on her 75th birthday.

Christmas Programs

Wavell Sorenson attended the Christmas program at Bethany Lutheran church near Goodridge on Sunday, where her niece, Maran Hammer was a participant.

Immanuel church had its Sunday school program on Sunday evening with a large crowd in attendance. It was under the direction of Debbie DuChamp, superintendant, assisted by the teaching staff. The Primary Department presented recitations and special music and the older classes gave a little play entitled "Looking for the Child of Bethlehem." Congregational singing of Christmas hymns and remarks by Pastor Johnson completed the program, and a time of fellowship over coffee and goodies rounded out the evening.

On Tuesday Wavell Sorenson, Becca Willett, Sheila Gerardy and children, went to Wannaska, to take in the school program, where Wavell's granddaughter, Kassandra attends. This, too, was a Christmas program.

Herb and Esther Walter were guests of Roger and Janel Walter on Sunday, for an early Christmas waffle brunch. Ray, Reinette, Jennie and Brian Walter were there also.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haug of Fisher were Saturday overnight guests of their daughter, Janet Vanek, and kept the children while Janet made a trip to Fargo.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Walter were Mr. and Mrs. Orasmond Bruggeman of Thief River Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walter of rural Thief River Falls.

Edna Hyde and Bunny DuChamp will be writing the news for a few weeks. Please call 465-4530 or 465-4273 if you have news items.

Happy New Year to everyone!

PENNINGTON COUNTY
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 1990

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Pennington County was established November 23, 1910, and is an organized county having the powers, duties and privileges granted counties by Minn. Stat. ch. 373. The County is governed by a five-member board of commissioners elected from districts within the County. The Board is organized with a chair and vice-chair elected at the annual meeting in January of each year. The County Auditor, elected on a county-wide basis, serves as the clerk of the board but has no vote.

The Welfare Board governs the activities of the Welfare Department and consists of seven members, five county commissioners and two lay members appointed by the commissioners and approved by the Minnesota Department of Human Services.

The financial reporting policies of the County conform to generally accepted accounting principles.

A. Financial Reporting Entity

For financial reporting purposes the County's financial statements include all funds, account groups, departments, agencies, boards, commissions, and other organizations over which County officials exercise oversight responsibility. Oversight responsibility includes such duties as appointment of governing body members, budget review, approval of property tax levies, responsibility for outstanding debt secured by Pennington County's full faith and credit or revenues, and responsibility for funding deficits.

As a result of applying the criteria for determining the reporting entity, certain organizations have been excluded from the County's financial statements:

The Pennington County Agricultural Society was created for the purpose of planning and administering the County Fair. The Agricultural Society is governed by a board elected at its annual meeting and is responsible for adopting its own budget and preparing financial statements. The Society is responsible for any debt it issues.

The Pennington County Historical Society was created for the purpose of preserving and restoring artifacts to allow and tell the history of Pennington County. The Historical Society is governed by its own board, which prepares and adopts its budget. The County makes an annual appropriation to the Historical Society.

The Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District was created pursuant to state and federal laws to assist in soil and water conservation practices. The board is elected by the voters of the County. The District is responsible for adopting a budget and preparing financial statements, and for any debt it issues.

B. Basis of Presentation – Fund Accounting

The accounts of the Pennington County are organized on the basis of funds and account groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operations of each fund are accounted for with a separate set of self balancing accounts that comprise its assets, liabilities, fund equity, revenues, and expenditures or expenses, as appropriate. Government resources are allocated to and accounted for in individual funds based upon the purposes for which they are to be spent and the means by which spending activities are controlled. The various funds are grouped, in the financial statements in this report, into five generic fund types and three broad fund categories which are described below.

Governmental Funds

The General Fund is the general operating fund of the County. It is used to account for financial resources not accounted for in other funds.

Special Revenue Funds are used to account for specific revenue sources that are legally restricted to expenditures for specified purposes or required for internal management purposes.

Debt Service Funds are used to account for the accumulation of resources for, and the payment of principal, interest, and related costs of general long-term debt.

Proprietary Fund

The Nursing Home Enterprise Fund is used to account for the operations of the Oakland Park Nursing Home. The Nursing Home's financial position and operations are presented as of and for the year ended September 30, 1990.

Fiduciary Funds

Trust and Agency Funds are used to account for assets held by the County as a trustee or agent for others. These include expendable trust and agency funds. Expendable trust funds are accounted for and reported similarly to governmental funds.

Agency funds are custodial in nature (assets equal liabilities) and do not involve measurement of results of operations.

Account Groups

The General Fixed Assets Account Group is used to record the County's fixed assets, other than those accounted for in the proprietary fund. Public domain ("infrastructure") general fixed assets consisting of certain improvements other than buildings, are not capitalized.

The General Long-Term Debt Account Group is used to record the County's long term liabilities, other than those accounted for in the proprietary fund.

C. Basis of Accounting

Governmental, expendable trust, and agency funds are reported on the modified accrual basis of accounting, in which revenues are recognized when they become both measurable and available. Available means collectible within the current period or soon enough thereafter to be used to pay liabilities of the current period. Revenue sources susceptible to accrual include property taxes, special assessments, intergovernmental revenue, and investment earnings. Expenditures are recognized when the corresponding liabilities are incurred, except for principal and interest on general long term debt, which are recognized when due, and compensated absences, which are recognized when paid.

The proprietary fund is accounted for on the accrual basis of accounting, revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when incurred.

D. Budgetary Data

General Budget Policies

The County Board adopts estimated revenue and expenditure budgets for the General and Special Revenue Funds. The budgets may be amended or modified at any time by the County Board. Comparisons of estimated revenues and budgeted expenditures to actual are presented in the financial statements for the General and Special Revenue Funds.

Budget Basis of Accounting

Budgets for the General and Special Revenue Funds are adopted on a basis consistent with generally accepted accounting principles.

E. Assets, Liabilities, and Equity Accounts

1. Assets

Deposits and Investments

Pooled (in lieu of cash) investments are stated at cost, which approximates market value. Investments in Deferred Compensation Agency Fund are valued at market value.

Taxes Receivable

Taxes Receivable consist of uncollected taxes payable in the years 1983 through 1990. Taxes receivable are offset by deferred revenue for the amount not collected within 60 days of December 31, to indicate the contingent nature of the asset. No provision has been made for an estimated uncollectible amount.

Special Assessments Receivable

Special assessments receivable consist of unapportioned special assessments held in the Taxes and Penalties Agency Fund, delinquent special assessments payable in the years 1983 through 1990, and deferred special assessments payable in 1991 and after. No provision has been made for an estimated uncollectible amount. Delinquent and deferred special assessments are offset by a deferred revenue liability account to indicate the contingent nature of the assets.

Advances to Other Funds

Noncurrent portions of long-term interfund loans receivable, reported as "Advances to other funds," are equally offset by reserved fund balance to indicate that they do not constitute available spendable resources.

Inventories

The Road and Bridge Special Revenue Fund inventory consists of operating supplies, and is valued at cost using the first-in, first-out method. When inventory items are purchased, their cost is recorded as an expenditure. The reported inventory values are equally offset by reserved fund balance to indicate that they do not constitute available spendable resources, even though they are a component of net current assets.

Food stamp inventory in the Welfare Special Revenue Fund is reported at the face value of the stamps. Food stamps are held by the County until they are issued to qualified individuals, as prescribed by federal guidelines. The food stamp inventory is offset by the liability account "Food stamps issuable" to indicate that the County does not own the stamps but is only administering them for the federal government.

The Nursing Home Enterprise Fund inventory of supplies is valued at cost using the first-in, first-out method.

Restricted Assets

Funds restricted for the payment of principal and interest of the 1978 General Obligation Refunding Bonds are reported in the Nursing Home Enterprise Fund. These funds are accounted for as restricted assets, with offsetting related liability or equity accounts. Also accounted for as restricted assets at September 30, 1990, is $5,543 in donations from individuals for residents' activities.

Fixed Assets

All purchased fixed assets are valued at their historical cost or estimated historical cost. Donated fixed assets are valued at their estimated fair value on the date donated. No depreciation has been provided on general fixed assets.

Fixed assets of the Nursing Home Enterprise Fund are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the various assets.

2. Liabilities

Long-term liabilities expected to be financed from governmental funds are accounted for in the General Long-Term Debt Account Group not in the governmental funds.

3. Equity

Equity is divided into sections:

- The contributed capital account indicates permanent fund capital contributed to the Nursing Home Enterprise Fund.
- The account "investment in general fixed assets" represents the County's equity in general fixed assets.
- The reserved retained earnings account represents the portion of fund equity which has been legally segregated for specific purposes.
- The unreserved retained earnings account represents the accumulated earnings of the Nursing Home Enterprise Fund.
- Fund balance accounts are subdivided:

Reserved accounts indicate the portion of fund equity which has been legally segregated for specific purposes, or is not appropriable for expenditure.

Unreserved designated accounts indicate the portion of fund equity that the County has set aside for planned future projects.

The unreserved undesignated account indicates the portion of fund equity which is available for budgeting and expending in future periods.

F. Revenues, Expenditures, and Expenses

1. Revenues

Property Taxes and Special Assessments

Property taxes are recognized as revenue to the extent they are collected in the current period or soon enough thereafter to be used to pay liabilities of the current period.

Portions paid by the State in the form of tax credits are included in intergovernmental revenues. The property taxes and special assessments that are receivable but not available are recorded as deferred revenue and will be recognized as revenue in the year that they become available.

Intergovernmental

Intergovernmental revenues are reported under the legal and contractual requirements of the individual programs. Generally, grant revenue is recognized when the corresponding expenditure is incurred. State-Aid Highway Allotments for highway maintenance and construction are recognized as revenue only after an expenditure has been recorded. The accounting for allotments is similar to grant accounting in that revenues equal expenditures.

Other Revenues

Other revenues such as licenses and permits, charges for services, fines and forfeits, and miscellaneous revenues are recognized when received in cash because they generally are not measurable until then. Investment income is recognized when earned because it is measurable and available.

2. Expenditures

Expenditure recognition for governmental fund types includes only amounts represented by current liabilities. Since noncurrent liabilities do not affect net current assets, they are not recognized as governmental fund expenditures or fund liabilities. They are reported as liabilities in the General Long-Term Debt Account Group.

Compensated absences are considered expenditures when paid to employees. Earned but unpaid vacation leave is shown in the General Long-Term Debt Account Group. Unvested sick leave is not reported in the financial statement.

3. Expenses

The Nursing Home Enterprise Fund recognizes expenses, including compensated absences when they are incurred.

G. Total Columns on Combined Statements

Total columns on the combined statements are captioned "Memorandum Only" to indicate that they are presented only to facilitate financial analysis. Data in these columns do not present financial position or results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Neither are such data comparable to a consolidation, because interfund eliminations have not been made in the aggregation of the data.

H. Comparative Data

Comparative data for the prior year have been presented in the accompanying financial statements to provide an understanding of changes in the County's financial position and operations. However, comparative data for each fund have not been presented since their inclusion could make the statements unduly complex and difficult to read.

I. Residual Equity Transfer

The Ditch Bonds and Interest Debt Service Fund was closed in 1990 because the bonds the fund was servicing were paid off during 1990. The remaining fund equity was transferred to the Ditch Special Revenue Fund.

J. Statement of Cash Flows

The County has adopted the provisions of Statement No. 9 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Reporting Cash Flows of Proprietary and Nonexpendable Trust Funds and Governmental Entities That Use Proprietary Fund Accounting, in 1990. The Statement of Changes in Financial Position for 1989 has been restated to conform to the 1990 Statement of Cash Flows format. For purposes of this statement, all cash and pooled investments and restricted cash are considered to be cash or cash equivalents.

2. Stewardship, Compliance, and Accountability

A. Individual Fund Deficits of Equity Accounts

Ditch Special Revenue Fund

Five of the 62 drainage systems have incurred expenditures in excess of revenues and available resources. These deficits will be eliminated with future special assessment levies against benefited properties. The following shows the unreserved, undesignated fund balance as of December 31, 1990:

Account balances	$372,113
Account deficits	(9,546)
Fund balance	$362,567

Solid Waste Special Revenue Fund

The Solid Waste Special Revenue Fund ended the year with a fund balance deficit of $486,070 which reflects a $31,338 deficit increase from December 31, 1989. The deficit continues to exist because the General Fund is not appropriating sufficient funds to the Solid Waste Special Revenue Fund for operating expenses.

B. Excess of Expenditures Over Budget

The following funds had expenditures in excess of budget for the year ended December 31, 1991:

	Expenditures	Budget	Excess
General Fund	$2,316,297	$2,036,308	$279,989
Special Revenue Funds
Road and Bridge	$2,631,658	$2,524,995	$123,763
Welfare	$3,892,965	$3,769,500	$123,465
Solid Waste	$ 586,913	$ 500,000	$ 86,913

3. Detailed Notes on All Funds and Account Groups

A. Assets

Deposits and Investments

Deposits

Minn. Stat. §118.005 authorizes the County to deposit its cash and to invest in certificates of deposit in financial institutions designated by the County Board. At December 31, 1990, deposits of the County totaled 2,882,731, of which $2,494,399 was cash deposits and $388,392 was invested in certificates of deposit. Minnesota statutes require that all County deposits be covered by insurance, surety bond, or collateral.

Following is a summary of the bank deposits covered by insurance or collateral at December 31, 1990.

	Book Value	Bank Value
Covered Deposits
Insured, or collateralized with securities held by the County or its agent in the County's name	$ 508,362	$ 509,441
Collateralized with securities held by the pledging financial institution's agent in the County's name	2,374,549	2,717,777
TOTAL COVERED DEPOSITS	$2,882,731	$3,227,218

Investments

Minn. Stat. §475.66 generally authorizes the following types of securities available to the County for investment:

1. securities which are direct obligations or are guaranteed or insured issues of the United States, its agencies, its instrumentalities, or organizations created by an act of Congress;
2. mutual funds through shares of registered investment companies investing only in federal obligations, tax exempt general obligations rated A or better, and repurchase agreements with certain restricted counterparties;
3. general obligations of the State of Minnesota and its municipalities; and in general obligations of the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency and the general obligations of other states and their municipalities if rated A or better;
4. bankers' acceptances of United States' banks eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve System;
5. commercial paper issued by United States corporations or their Canadian subsidiaries that is of the highest quality and matures in 270 days or less; and
6. guaranteed investment contracts (gic's) issued or guaranteed by United States commercial banks or domestic branches of foreign banks if similar debt obligations of the issuer or the collateral pledged by the issuer is in the top two rating categories for long-term gic's and the top three rating categories for short-term gic's.

Generally accepted accounting principles have determined three levels of credit risk for securities:

1. Insured or registered, or securities held by the County or its agent in the County's name;
2. Uninsured and unregistered, with securities held by the counterparty's trust department or agent in the County's name;
3. Uninsured and unregistered, with securities held by the counterparty, or by its trust department or agent, but not in the County's name.

Following is a summary of the carrying values of the County's securities, categorized into the aforementioned levels of risk, along with the market values of the securities, at December 31, 1990.

Property Taxes and Special Assessments

The County levies and collects property taxes and special assessments for all governmental units within the County. Property tax collections and remittances to other governmental units and County governmental funds are accounted for in the Taxes and Penalties Agency Fund.

Taxes and special assessments are billed to individual property owners within the County annually and, for the most part, are due and payable in January but may be paid in two equal installments on or before May 15 and October 15 without penalty.

The County is required by statute to distribute the collections to the various governmental units two times each year.

Employee Benefits

Compensated Absences

Under the County's personnel policies and union contracts, County employees are granted vacation in varying amounts based on their length of service. Vacation leave accrual varies from 12 to 18 days per year. Sick leave accrual is 12 days per year.

Unused accumulated vacation leave is paid to employees upon termination. Unvested sick leave, approximately $241,500 at December 31, 1990, is available to employees in the event of illness related absences, and is not paid to them at termination.

Deferred Compensation

The County has made available to its officers and employees two deferred compensation plans created in accordance with Internal Revenue Code Section 457, through Great West Life Insurance and the National Association of Counties (NACo). NACo has designated the Public Employees Benefit Service Corporation (PEBSCO) to act as its agent in fulfilling certain administrative and marketing requirements of the fund.

All amounts of compensation deferred under the plan, all property and rights purchased with those amounts, and all income attributed to those amounts, property, or rights are (until paid or made available to the employee or beneficiary) solely the property and right of the County (without being restricted to the provisions of benefits under the plan) subject only to the claims of the County's general creditors. Participants' rights under the plan are equal to the general creditors of the County in an amount equal to the fair market value of the deferred account for each participant.

Contributions to the plans for the year ended December 31, 1990, were $24,058 for Great West and $25,988 for NACo, and are recorded in the Deferred Compensation Agency Fund.

TOTAL COMPENSATED ABSENCES PAYABLE	$62,305

Workers' Compensation

The County is exposed to various risks of loss related to torts; theft of, damage to, or destruction of assets; errors or omissions; injuries to employees; or acts of God. The County has entered into a joint powers agreement with other Minnesota Counties to form the Minnesota Counties Insurance Trust (MCIT). In 1981 and 1988, the County joined the MCIT Workers' Compensation and Property and Casualty Divisions, respectively.

As of December 31, 1986, MCIT moved from a cash flow loss funding approach for workers' compensation to a fully funded approach, a method used by the insurance industry. This meant the 1989 premiums and those thereafter could not be used to fund prior year losses. The MCIT has assessed each member for its share of the prior year losses based on an actuarial study. The County's share of this estimated liability at December 31, 1990, is $94,580. Each year the actuarially determined liabilities and cash flow projections will be updated based on the most current data. The annual assessment to the County will be adjusted accordingly.

As of January 1, 1989, the Workers' Compensation Division was self sustaining based on the premiums charged, so that total contributions plus compounded earnings contributions will equal the amount needed to satisfy claims, liabilities and other expenses. MCIT participates in the Workers' Compensation Reinsurance Association with coverage at $400,000 per claim in 1990, and $410,000 per claim for plan year 1991. Should the MCIT Workers' Compensation Division liabilities exceed assets for 1990 or for the years beyond, MCIT may assess the County in a method and amount to be determined by MCIT.

The Property and Casualty Division is self-sustaining and the County pays an annual premium to cover current and future losses. The MCIT carries reinsurance for its property lines to protect against catastrophic losses. Should the MCIT Property and Casualty Division liabilities exceed assets for 1990 or for years beyond, MCIT may assess the County in a method and amount to be determined by MCIT.

Premiums are paid by the fund incurring the liability and the County has designated $36,869 of its General Fund balance for possible workers' compensation claims.

PHS Christmas Program

PHS had its Christmas concert on Monday evening with Carol Kankel, music teacher, in charge. Kindergarten thru fourth grades presented a holiday musical play entitled "This Is Christmas" with all students participating. Selections by the 5th grade band, 6th grade band and 5th and 6th grades chorus were given, followed by the Junior High band, Junior High chorus, Senior High band, a triple trio and the Senior High chorus. Accompanists were Dixie Koskela and Peggy Miller. The program ended with the audience singing Silent Night, and refreshments were served. Hats off to all of the students and teachers for a fine program.

Bertha Hughes and Bunny DuChamp were dinner guests of Edna Hyde on Monday for a pre-Christmas meal.

Art and Frances Schiefert went to Fargo on Monday and visited until Tuesday, at the home of Harley and Alice Schiefert. They, as well as Alice's parents, Grace and Milo Haaland attended the final adoption ceremony for their granddaughter, Danielle. Enroute they had visited at Kragnes, with their granddaughter, Cheryl, (daughter of Marie and Bob Swanson of Thief River Falls) and Mark Theis and had gotten to see a new great-grandson, Andrew Aaron.

Neil Huotari visited his grandparents, Tom and Wilma Huotari on Tuesday morning.

Senior Citizens Meet

Plummer Senior Citizens assembled for their Christmas meeting on Wednesday. The noon meal was furnished by members A-L and broasted chicken was furnished by the club. Birthdays noted were Bertha Hughes, Myrtle Patnode, Margaret Greenwald, Art Johnson, Effie Vigstol and Harold Vaithauer. Bertha, Margaret and Effie were present. A short business meeting was held with routine reports and business. Most of the afternoon was spent in entertainment with readings by Inga Linder, Pearl Laniel and Myrtle Hamrum. Partners for two games were found by scrambling the names of famous couples. One was a word game using the letters from CHRISTMAS, and the other was recognizing various Christmas songs. The winners received candy canes as prizes. The afternoon closed with group singing of a few Christmas songs. The next meeting will be on January 15th, with members M-Z serving the meal and Amelia Eskeli and Inga Linder in charge of entertainment.

Mosbeck Bros. are conservation farmers

Rural Red Lake Falls family is recognized by Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District for conservation effort

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

If it has roots and produces a marketable increase the Mosbeck Brothers of rural Red Lake Falls have probably tried to grow it at least once. And more often than not the experiment has been worth the effort—if not for profit, at least for education.

Mosbeck Brothers were selected by the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation district as the 1991 conservation farmers of the year.

Brothers Warren, Veral and Donald Mosbeck started farming together in the late 1940s. They also operated a construction business in addition to the farming operation, doing bulldozer work for 21 years.

Warren died last year; Veral rents land to his son Peter and nephew Kelly; and Donald continues active in the partnership with a few years to go until retirement. Warren's widow, the former Lorraine Peterson of Thief River Falls, is still part of the operation.

The Mosbecks own 2,420 acres, all within about a six-mile area. All of the brothers had their own farms, each located within a mile of a 28x60 shop which serves as headquarters. When the crop farming season is in full swing—and quite often during the remainder of the year as well—the brothers and their sons just naturally gather at the shop to start their day.

Kelly and his cousin Peter rent farmland in a joint venture and own a 4-wheel drive tractor and a truck. They use the Mosbeck Brothers machinery on an exchange for labor basis.

Over the years the system has worked out quite well with a minimum of problems. The key to that success is for each person to have individual responsibilities and to perform the tasks required. The system continued to work as all 14 sons and daughters of the three brothers became involved in the farm work as they were growing up.

In general the farm has not been a livestock operation, although there have been exceptions to that rule as well. At one time the brothers went into feeding feeder pigs and happened to catch the market just about right.

"We bought cheap and sold high," Veral laughed, "and the slowest gainers made the most money."

Most of the time the emphasis has been on crop production, with a four-year rotation involving wheat, sunflowers, barley and summer fallow or a specialty crop. That "specialty crop" category has provided some of the interesting times.

For a time they raised 10 to 15 acres each of cabbage and onions. Buckwheat has been a good crop most of the time and canola was tried a time or two. Flax and edible beans (navy beans) have been grown and corn, although used on an experimental basis, has been rejected as too high cost to produce with yields attainable in this area.

Sunflowers, however, have been a staple in the rotation since about 1960 and despite attacks from deer, moose, hordes of blackbirds and "the big white combine" (hail) have been consistent producers.

As the brothers acquired and cleared land they also attended to the surface ditching and now the entire farm requires only ditch maintenance.

"We are fortunate to have good drainage in this area," Veral said. "On all the land that we operate we have about four or five feet of fall to the mile and if we have a problem with water it is usually from not enough rather than too much."

In recent years the Mosbecks have gone to straight combining most of their crop, using two self-propelled combines. The only swathing done is directly ahead of the pull-type combine. The farm has storage for about one year's crop and the tillage operation involves use of a chisel plow and seed-down of a cover crop.

Soil testing is done on selected fields each year and fertilizing done according to soil test. About four miles of field windbreaks have been planted as well as four to five acres of trees around the shop.

"It doesn't take forever to grow trees," Veral said, noting that the trees they have planted have experienced good growth in only a part of the Mosbeck Brothers lifetimes.

The shop not only serves as a headquarters and meeting place but also as a repair center and creative machine shop. It was there Warren built the farm's sprayer, utilizing a Jeep 4-wheel drive running gear, Ford engine, cab from a combine and 130-gallon tank. When Kelly operates the sprayer now it gives 56 feet of boom coverage. Other products of the shop have been a grain auger and a loader.

While modern equipment may be coveted, there is nostalgia to be treasured on the farm as well. The International H tractor bought in 1941 is still on the farm, despite its half century of use. It was the last one sold by C. Gustafson and Son in Thief River Falls before World War II made them impossible to get and it fetched the princely price of $1,154 including a cultivator and mower.

Speaking of nostalgia and dollars, consider the farm purchase made by the Mosbeck Brothers' father, Oscar Mosbeck. Oscar's father Olaf came from Sweden and Oscar was born and raised in the area west of St. Hilaire. He married Mabel Hallstrom and bought the Hallstrom farm from Mabel's father. The price was $3,500 for 280 acres and Mr. Hallstrom earned

Council hikes lodging tax

Thief River Falls city council adopted a one per cent increase in the city's lodging tax Monday night during a meeting of the city council.

The proposition of a three per cent lodging tax, an increase from two per cent, has been discussed for several weeks. Julie Olson, director of the Convention and Visitor's Bureau (CVB), said the increase had the approval of all of the motel operators in the community.

Olson presented the Chamber's approved budget for the CVB and explained that the increase was necessary if advertising were to expand. The CVB promotes the community through a variety of advertising methods each year. Olson said an 80 per cent increase in telephone contacts had been noted since the chamber started a 1-800 number. After advertising in a "birder" magazine, the CVB has also received numerous contacts from individual interested in bird-watching.

In addition, the increase was deemed necessary for increases in salaries and rent.

Although the city manages the fund for the CVB, most of the money from the tax goes to the CVB. Ninety-five per cent of the tax by law, must be used by the Convention and Visitors Bureau to advertise and promote the area as a visitor and/or convention area. Five per cent of the tax is used to pay administration costs incurred by the city in administering the tax and fund.

The last time the lodging tax was increased was in 1986. The new tax increase will take effect June 1, 1992.

There are roughly 50 communities in the state of Minnesota that impose a lodging tax. Those taxes range from a low of one per cent to a high of six per cent. Three per cent appears to be the norm. There are four cities that impose a six per cent lodging tax, two that impose a five per cent lodging tax, 36 that impose a three per cent lodging tax, one at two and one-half per cent, five at two per cent, and two at one per cent.

Aldermen J.J. Womack and Greg Brekke said their good-byes Monday night. Monday night's meeting was the last meeting of the year and thus the last meeting for the two aldermen who will not return to the council with the beginning of 1992.

J.J. Womack waxed poetic and said he's not saying good bye, just so long for now.

Greg Brekke exclaimed to the laughs of council member that, "It's been an education, I'll say that."

Both have received plaques in appreciation of their work and dedication.

In other last minute business, the council: charged off an uncollectible statement to the Credit Bureau; approved a recommendation from the utilities committee to write-off some uncollectible accounts; approved the Heritage Community Center use agreement; and approved the purchase of a sanitation chassis and packer at a cost of $39,565.

Northland notes record enrollment

Enrollment at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls has reached an all-time high for winter quarter.

The college announced last week that 10th day enrollment figures show that the headcount is 963, a five per cent increase from last winter quarter. Dennis Bendickson, registrar, said full time equivalency (FTE) reached 613, for a three per cent increase from last winter quarter.

Winter quarter enrollment has topped the previous record high in 1989 of 947 and 606 full time equivalent.

"Right now, with the low number of graduating high school students, we're happy to remain the same," Bendickson said. Bendickson said they will be happy in the future if enrollment remains the same for the same reason.

Bendickson said enrollment figures have been boosted from the joint program with the Technical College. Students taking courses at the Technical College can now take classes for credit at Northland Community College.

In addition, credits toward an Associate of Arts degree at North-

City receives LMCIT dividend

For the fifth consecutive year, the League of Minnesota Cities Insurance Trust (LMCIT) will return a dividend to cities who are members of the LMCIT property casualty insurance program. The 1991 return will be $11 million, bringing the total to over $34 million returned to cities. LMCIT returned $7 million to cities in 1990 and 1989, and $4.2 million in 1987.

Thief River Falls' share in the total more than doubled this year, according to Tritz. Last year, Thief River Falls received $39,100. This year, Thief River Falls will receive $71,794 plus $2,692 based on the city's participation in the excess liability coverage.

"The League of Minnesota Insurance Trust has been very good for the city of Thief River Falls," said Roger DeLap, city finance officer.

The city joined the insurance program in 1987 and has received rebates every year since. This year the rebate was the highest it has ever been.

The dividend, DeLap said, is put in the inter-governmental service fund, which is used to pay all insurance premiums and claims. DeLap said about 90 per cent of all the city's insurance is through the League of Minnesota Cities. The city has to maintain insurance for the airport and liquor store because those items are not covered by the League insurance.

In 1991, the city paid about $135,000 for general liability insurance through the League. The aggregate deductible is $50,000. The city is required to pay $25,000 per occurrence up to $50,000. Therefore, the city maintains a reserve fund for the inter-government service fund.

The dividend is possible largely because of fewer liability losses for cities, according to Peter Tritz, LMCIT administrator. For the past several years, LMCIT member cities have been successful in keeping claims and losses down, so the safety margin in the rates hasn't been needed for losses. Those funds, and the investment earnings on the funds LMCIT holds as reserves, can therefore be returned to the member cities, Tritz said.

LMCIT returns the funds among member cities according to a formula that reflects the total premiums paid and the total losses each member city incurs for all the years of participation in LMCIT through May 31, 1991. Cities that have been members of LMCIT the longest and have been the most successful in avoiding losses get back a proportionally greater share of the surplus.

Even after returning the dividend, the LMCIT property/casualty program remains very strong financially, Tritz said. Each year, qualified actuaries review LMCIT's loss experience and project what the ultimate cost of claims is likely to be. LMCIT holds sufficient reserves not only to cover the

Melani Myer and Tim Reuter wed Nov. 23

Melani Myer and Tim Reuter were united in marriage November 23 at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Luther Anderson officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Marlowe and Beryl Myer of Middle River. Parents of the groom are Roger and Jane Reuter of Thief River Falls.

Special music was provided by Brian Myer, brother of the bride, who sang "One Friend," "Wedding Prayer" and "Annie's Song." Barb Geer, friend of the bride, played the piano and flute. Joyce Halbasch served as organist, playing "Peter Piper" and the "Wedding March."

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with a V neckline front and back, long fitted sleeves detailed with lace motifs, a fitted bodice trimmed with silk floss appliques, bouffant skirt and a cathedral length train with scalloped lace.

Kari Olson of Thief River Falls, friend of the couple, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Paula Fanfulik of St. Hilaire, friend of the bride, Kim Reardon of Jamestown, ND, cousin of the bride, and Katy Von Berge of Lakeville, cousin of the bride. They wore plum floor length gowns and wore barrettes with plum flowers and babies' breath made by the bride's aunt in their hair.

Flower girl was Jessica Appel of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride.

Pam Peterson, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and white cummerbund.

Rob Burkel of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Rodd Gamme of Moorhead, Dave Flatland of Thief River Falls and Dave Gobell of Grand Forks, ND, all friends of the groom. They wore black pinstripe tuxedos with tails and purple cummerbunds.

Ring bearer was Justin Olson of Thief River Falls, friend of the couple. He wore a white tuxedo with tails and a purple cummerbund.

Ushering the guests were Jim Hayes, Kelly Kvick and Darren Holter, all friends of the groom, and Brett Myer, brother of the bride. They wore black tuxedos with purple cummerbunds.

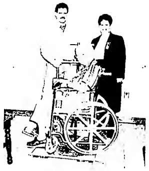
For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a street length dress in shades of lavender with deep rose on cream background. The groom's mother wore a floral print street length dress. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos and purple cummerbunds.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Gerry and Sheila Von Berge, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mark and Kathy Steicher, brother-in-law and sister of the groom. Kristin Reuter, sister of the groom, presided over the guest book.

The wedding cake was cut by Gayle Gade and Colleen Appel, both friends of the bride. Coffee was served by Jane Shafland, friend of the groom, and Virginia Schmitke, aunt of the groom. Tracey Burkholder, friend of the couple, served punch.

Flower hostess was Robin Gobell, friend of the couple. Waitresses were Kara Super, Kristina Super and Molly Rantanen, all friends of the bride, and Heather Shafland, friend of the groom.

The couple is at home in Thief River Falls. The groom is a 1986 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1988 graduate of the Thief River Falls technical college. He is employed by Westside Motors. The bride is a 1983 graduate of Middle River high school and a 1986 graduate of Northland community college. She is employed by the Occupational Development center.



Donations received recently by Oakland Park Nursing Home include contributions from the St. Hilaire Lions club, the VFW and Thief River Falls Women of Today to purchase a scale for weighing residents. Impressions . . .

Wednesday is the start of a new year, the year 1992. It's not only the start of a new year, but the end of our current year as well. Every time we begin a new year, we give ourselves hope.

Hope is being able to look back on the years that have passed, and in the looking back, see that the future may hold possibilities beyond our best imaginings.

This new year I hope for many things. I hope for health. Truly I have learned this past year or so that good health is not to be taken for granted. Times without good health make one appreciate good health. This year I hope for good health.

I hope also for homes. When I look back at my parental home and see how lovingly I was raised, I can only hope that we are emulating some of that love to our children. When I look at homes that are dysfunctional, I hope for them that they may be able to see the ways to peace in their homes this year.

I hope for opportunity this year. I look at the past years of my life, and I see the results of opportunities risked or dismissed. For my children I hope for the best opportunities they can have in this coming year. For myself I hope for the ability to guide them to and through the opportunities offorded them. For my spouse I hope for the joy of surprised opportunities.

I hope this year for persons of all nations. I hope that they may be able to exist in the best ways available to them. I hope for trust among the peoples of the world. I hope for laughter and smiles and full stomachs for the peoples of this world.

I hope this year for peace. As much as it depends upon me, I will strive to live peaceably. Would that all people everywhere would strive to live peaceably in their own little worlds. Each person trying his or her best to live peaceably would surely result in peace. I can hope for peace for all mankind, but I know that will be not possible. I hope instead for the best peace we persons of this world can provide.

I hope for enjoyment this year. I look on the years of my past and see the times of enjoyment I have experienced. I hope that this year I do not allow myself to pass up those good experiences of life.

I hope this year for elections. To live in a nation in which the people can choose their officials is to live in a nation of hope. I hope that this year of 1992 will find us voting for those men and women whom we feel can lead our nation in the best ways.

I hope this year for encouragement. Looking back at my life I see the times I was encouraged by others, and the times I was encouraged by the events of my life. Hoping for the future, I hope that I can be an encouragement to others even as I have been encouraged in the past. I hope, too, for the small and large events of life that will encourage me on my way through the trials of life.

I look around me, and in spite of the gloomy weather, I see hope even in nature this time of year. Only a week ago we experienced the shortest day of the year. Have you noticed that already the sky is staying a bit lighter for a few extra minutes in the evenings? Hope of spring and new life and rain and sunshine are in those few extra minutes of light. The heavens are telling us to hope by showing us an example of hope.

What are you hoping for this year? Hope, by its very nature of being unknown, brings us surprises. At the end of next year, look back on your 1992 as you are doing now, and see where you have been surprised by hope. This coming year expect to be surprised by the possibilities of hope.

land Community College are transferable to four-year state colleges or universities.

Another factor for the increase may be tuition rates lower than most schools and the ability to transfer credits. As a result, the enrollment increase at the college in Thief River Falls may be causing a higher percentage of local high school students to attend the school. Bendickson said the school is seeing a higher number of local high school students.

Bendickson doesn't foresee any major changes on the horizon for the school. He added that the popularity of the law enforcement program and nursing program at the school remains a good drawing card.

Project 120 open to state H.S. students

State Representative Wally Sparby urges high school students to participate in a four-day state government seminar this year.

The program, called Project 120, has scheduled seven seminars during the upcoming 1992 Legislative Session between the weeks of February 17 and March 29. The program is open to all Minnesota high school students in public or private schools in grades 9 to 12.

Rep. Sparby said Project 120, now in its 17th year, is a popular government education program, highly regarded by teachers and government officials. It is named for the 120 days the Legislature can be in session each year. Project 120 brings 30 high school students per session from all over Minnesota to the State Capitol complex to participate in a hands-on study of state government.

The students and their instructors see legislative floor sessions, committee meetings, Supreme Court hearings, meet with state officials and the news media, and learn about current state issues. The program also includes tours and time for discussion of events.

The deadline to apply for Project 120 is 30 days before the seminar a student wishes to attend; the first deadline is January 15. The cost is $200 for each student, which includes tuition, meals, lodging at the St. Paul Hotel, and seminar materials. The Project 120 administrators can help find scholarship funds to help defray the cost for students who can't afford it; the deadline to apply for a scholarship is also January 15.

High school counselors often have information about Project 120, Rep. Sparby said. For a brochure or for more information, call: (612) 224-2100 or write to Project 120, Hamm Building Suite 449, 408 St. Peter St., St. Paul, MN 55102-1119.

Mosbeck Bros. are conservation farmers

the loan himself at no interest.

During the 21 years of construction business the Mosbecks did land clearing, ditching, road building and even built the football field at Clearbrook.

In about 1960 they joined with Douglass and Maurice Steiger and Arlo Scholin and created Timberlane Ski Area on land owned by Henry Skala. The land had slopes with up to 100 feet of elevation and four runs were created with varying degrees of difficulty.

The ski area was operated successfully as a family venture for a number of years, then was sold to Skala and later by him to some buyers from Crookston. Among the attractions in the early years was a snowmobile race and hill climb.

All of the Mosbeck children were active in the Black River 4-H club as well as in the farming operation. They graduated from Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls and the boys were involved in the Future Farmers of America chapter.

The Mosbeck Family

Veral Mosbeck is married to the former June Anderson of Litchfield and they have four children and six grandchildren.

Peter, who lives near the home farm, is married to Janette Brown of Oklee and their children are Dustin and Britney. Cindy is married to Randy Dallmann of Blaine and their children are Dana and Tracy. Kristine is married to Tim Leeffler of Thief River Falls and their children are Cory and Kjelsey. Paul is married to Shannon Erickson of Blaine and they live at Bemidji.

Warren Mosbeck married Lorraine Peterson of Thief River Falls and they had five children and eight grandchildren.

Judy married Gary Heaton of Thief River Falls and they live at Puposky with children Brandon and Shannon; Gary and his daughter Abby live in Thief River Falls. Lynn married Rob LaCoursiere of Thief River Falls and they live at Minto, ND, with children Ryan and Jaime.

Gene married Kari Brekkestran of Thief River Falls and they live at Thief River Falls with children Kara and Daniel. Joni married Jerry Onlepp and they live at Columbia Heights with daughter Amanda.

Donald Mosbeck married Ruthie Iverson of Goodridge and they have five children and eight grandchildren.

Kelly is married to Merilyn Askeland of Grygla and their children are Stephen, Sarah and Emily. Diane is married to Gary Johnson and they live at Halstad with children Mirrah, Zachary and Rachael. David married Valerie Klamar of Gatzke and they live in Eagan with children Jessica and Benjamin.

Alan is married to Cindy Meinert of Sleepy Eye and they live at Prior Lake. Marcia Mosbeck lives in Thief River Falls.

The Mosbecks were recognized for their selection as conservation farmers at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts this fall and will be further recognized at the annual meeting of the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation district next spring.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . I'm Not So Dizzy —Yet

What happened to Christmas? I think I missed it this year. Here it is, New Year's Eve, and I feel like I haven't celebrated Christmas yet. Because I feel that I haven't had time to enjoy Christmas this year, I am leaving up my Christmas decorations for as long as I can.

Usually by this time of year I have gotten very tired of all of my Christmas decorations and am ready to take them down after New Year's Day. Since I decorate everything in the house like a crazy fool, it usually takes me several days to get everything straightened up and packed away. It is not unusual for the Easter bunny to find Christmas decorations here and there when he is hiding Easter eggs at my house. Anyway, this year, since I feel Christmas has passed me by, I'm going to enjoy my decorations for a while.

Foremost among my Christmas decorations are several trees. We have trees scattered all around our house. The natural one is in the living room, with assorted artificial trees here and there in just about every room of the house. Some are large, some are small, but all are decorated and most are lighted. My favorite tree is the one in the living room, of course, and that is the one that I enjoy as often as I can.

Most years my favorite natural living room tree is the one that gets tossed out before anything else gets packed away, but this year I'm not yet ready to chuck it out the door. The poor old thing might be a little worn and missing a few needles, but I'm just beginning to enjoy it. Each evening I turn on the twinkling lights and admire my tree. I don't mind that I can see through the branches or that it doesn't have any tinsel on the lower half of it, or that it is listing to the right, somewhat. It's beautiful!

Yes, now that Christmas is over and I have had time to sit back and look at my tree, I have noticed that it is listing somewhat to the right. I guess is is listing more than a little. It is listing quite a bit. In fact, it is leaning heavily to the right and it makes me feel slightly dizzy when I look at it for too long.

The other night I gave up on sitting in the living room with the live tree because it was making me dreadfully dizzy. I moved myself into the little TV room, to look at our middle-sized, artificial tree for a while. I thought that would be nice, since I could watch a movie at the same time I was enjoying the tree, and also stop being so dizzy.

As I sat there, enjoying the twinkling lights and a movie, I noticed that I wasn't feeling much better. In fact, I was feeling even more dizzy watching the twinkling lights off to the side of the movie. The flu?

After peeking at the tree, then at the movie, then at the tree again, I realized what was wrong. The little tree was listing, too. But it was listing in the opposite direction from the tree I had just left listing toward the right in the living room. It was listing to the left. Ah hat

Weaving slightly, I packed up my refreshments and left that room in a hurry, headed to the basement rec room, where there is another twinkling tree and another TV set. Peace and, hopefully, no more spinning head!

The basement tree is a very old artificial tree, about five feet tall. We have larger lights on it, and old-fashioned ornaments, and it is very gaudy, but beautiful, too, normally. This evening, however, it did not look very beautiful to me at all. I immediately saw that this tree, too, in all its shiny, showy splendor, was listing—oh—not to the right—not even to the left—but right out toward the center of the room—where I had seated myself—on the couch—with my refreshments—to watch my movie.

I don't care. I'm leaving my trees up, whether they list or even lean, left, right, to the middle of the room or back toward the wall. I'm going to enjoy this Christmas season, so help me, dizzy-headed or not.

Livestock team places fifth

Pennington county 4-H general livestock judging team placed fifth overall and Lisa Reierson of the New Solum club placed 10th in the individual competition at the annual Ag Activities Day conducted recently by the agriculture division of the University of Minnesota—Crookston.

Five members made up the Pennington county team with the top three individual scores counting for the team total. Lisa Reierson had 279 points, followed by Kelly Swanson, Happy Acres, 276; Ryan Swanson, Happy Acres, 275; Jared Reierson, New Solum, 266; and Sunny Carlson, Happy Acres, 264.

In horse judging competition Lauren Lavalier of the Silverton 4-H club scored 148 points and Arlen Stenvik of the Highlanding club scored 137 points but neither placed among the top 10 judges.

Nearly 900 students and advisors from over 50 Future Farmers of America chapters, 4-H clubs and high school agriculture departments from Minnesota and eastern North Oakota were on campus to compete in 15 categories.

Judging contests and workshops were held in the areas of consumer products, crops, dairy judging, general livestock, horses, agricultural mechanics, dairy products, farm management, wildlife, forestry, horticulture, meats, soils and ag sales contest.

Search is on for Teacher

Search for the 1992 Minnesota Teacher of the Year is underway.

The program, now in its 29th year, is sponsored by the Minnesota Education Association (MEA) and supported by the MEA Credit Union. "The Minnesota Teacher of the Year program expresses public appreciation to the thousands of men and women who teach in our schools," says MEA President Robert E. Astrup. "One teacher is selected to represent the many thousands of excellent teachers in Minnesota who contribute so significantly to the well-being of our state and the nation."

The 1992 Minnesota Teacher of the Year will receive a $1,000 honorarium and will be nominated by the state commissioner of education for 1993 National Teacher of the Year.

Three Minnesotans have been named national teachers of the year—Roger Tenney, Owatonna, in 1966; Robert Heyer, Mounds View, in 1975; and Guy Doud, Brainerd, in 1986.

Nomination forms are distributed to presidents of MEA local associations, local school boards, school administrators, elementary and secondary school principals, local units of the Minnesota Congress of Parents, Teachers and Students (PTSA), and other education agencies. Forms may also be obtained by calling MEA at 1-800-652-9073.

All nomination materials must be postmarked by midnight, June 1, 1992.

24-hour tax help to be available

The Minnesota Department of Revenue offers a 24-hour tax helpline to assist taxpayers with their individual income tax questions. Persons with touch-tone phones may call around-the-clock to listen to recorded messages on common tax topics.

During the day, taxpayers may speak directly to the department's taxpayer information representatives, if available. The best time to call the department is between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. and toward the end of the week.

A small boy, shown here, is dressed in his "Sunday best" in this photograph, which has been printed from a glass negative owned by the Pennington County Historical society from the collection of J. Borry, an early photographer in Thief River Falls. The child may be Alf Borry, son of the photographer.

CHILDREN AT RISK
How safe are your children?
The Battle for the Hearts and Minds of Our Kids

Secular forces are going to great lengths today to win the hearts and minds of our children. Where will it lead? Whose values will prevail in the next generation?

In this two-part film series—produced by Focus on the Family and Word Inc.—Dr. James Dobson and Gary Bauer expose the hidden agenda of secular humanists, and show how a silent civil war of values is affecting every area of society: classrooms, politics, entertainment, the media—even our churches.

But most important, they offer solutions and alternatives—practical ways we can steer our young people in the right direction. A timely, hard-hitting presentation.

The Turning Point in Women's Rights

Following comment on the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution comes from "The Constitution: The Words We Live By" published by the National Newspaper association. It is reprinted here in the general public interest.

The Nineteenth Amendment contains fewer than 50 words; yet, when it was ratified, it affected the lives of half the population of voting age and heralded victory in a struggle waged since colonial days.

The question of allowing women a voice in government was first raised by Anne Hutchinson. In 1637, she challenged the Puritan theocracy in Boston on its position that no woman could have a vote in church affairs. Following a trial, she was banned from the colony. Voting restrictions against women continued throughout the colonial period.

During the framing of the Constitution, there was considerable debate over who would be eligible to vote in federal elections. In the end, the Constitution extended eligibility to vote for federal representatives to those in each state qualified to vote for members of the most numerous house of the state legislature. This left it up to the states to decide the conditions under which women could vote. For all practical purposes, the states limited voting rights to white males.

A turning point came with the Seneca Falls Convention of 1848, the beginning of the woman's rights movement in the United States. The Seneca Falls convention was the work of Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott, both teachers and active abolitionists. The convention met on July 19-20, 1848, and issued a Declaration of Sentiments modeled after the Declaration of Independence. It read in part "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men and women are created equal...."

By a narrow margin, the Seneca convention passed a resolution declaring "that it is the sacred duty of the women of this country to secure to themselves their sacred right to the election franchise."

Following the convention, the woman's rights movement worked to secure legal rights, including property rights, fair wages, and employment and educational opportunities. Susan B. Anthony became the organizational genius behind the woman's rights movement.

As the Civil War approached, women joined anti-slavery societies and learned to organize, bold public meetings and conduct petition campaigns. During the war, women worked for passage of the Thirteenth Amendment. Women hoped that with the abolition of slavery and the potential for blacks to gain the vote, their own moment also would arrive.

When women leaders learned that the provisions regarding congressional representation in the Fourteenth Amendment used the term "male" and thereby gave the states no incentive to allow the vote for women, they were stunned. The leaders of the suffrage movement split over support for the Fourteenth Amendment.

At the same time, the woman's rights movement suffered internal divisions and separated into two groups: the National Woman Suffrage Association and the American Woman Suffrage Association. The movement was reunited in 1890 as the National American Woman Suffrage Association, but strategies and tactics to gain the vote differed from state to state. The first generation of suffragists, women such as Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lucretia Mott and Susan B. Anthony, died with their goals unachieved.

In 1916, Carrie Chapman Catt, as president of the suffrage association, reunited the woman's rights movement. She combined the two major strategies of the time into a two-pronged campaign concentrated on continuing agitation for suffrage in each of the states and on securing an amendment to the Constitution.

The strategy was successful. New York State approved a full-suffrage amendment in 1917, bringing the number of "full suffrage" states in the Union to 11.

With the New York victory, the stage was set to demand a Constitutional amendment. The 65th Congress opened on April 1, 1917, and included the first woman to sit in the House of Representatives, Jeannette Rankin of Montana. The suffrage amendment was debated throughout the fall, and on January 9, 1918, one day before the amendment was scheduled for a vote in the House, President Woodrow Wilson removed his long-standing opposition. The next day the bill passed the House. Eighteen months later the amendment won Senate approval.

Despite attempts to defeat the measure, the amendment was ratified by the states on August 26, 1920, and 26,000,000 Americans became full-fledged citizens of the Republic.

Reflecting on the woman's suffrage movement, Catt said: "To get the word 'male' in effect out of the Constitution cost the women of this country fifty-two years of pauseless campaign."

The Rutherford Report

The 100th Monkey

There's a true story about monkeys that was told on PBS some time ago. It seems that these monkeys found that a sweet potato-like root was good to eat. All the monkeys would dig them up and eat them. Of course they were "flavored" with the dirt that clung to them, but what could a monkey do? One female monkey discovered that if she took the root to the water's edge, she could wash it clean. This made the root taste much better. A small few watched her and tried washing their roots and found that they liked them that way. Most of the others could not understand this very strange behavior and they tended to avoid these weird ones. Those who washed roots became outcasts.

Gradually more monkeys learned to wash their roots clean before eating them and to number of root-washers grew. Yet they were still the strange outcasts. Then something interesting happened. When the number of root-washers approached 100 monkeys it seemed to all the others that there truly was a lot of root-washing happening. It started to look like a trend. Maybe there was a reason for it.

Soon it seemed that everyone was doing it, whether it made sense or not. Some liked the improved taste; others disliked the extra effort involved - either way, they did it. Who wanted to buck the trend? So, almost over night, the entire population of monkeys on the island converted to being happier, healthier root-washers. Some even took to washing everything that they ate.

In like manner, change occurs this way in our communities. By chance someone tries something new. At first there is criticism and jealousy. "Who do they think they are?" "What's wrong with the way that we have always done it?"

If a new business makes it, there is silence. If that same business fails there is an, "I told you so." As long as success and growth does not become the norm, there will be a significant number of "monkeys" who will criticize and unconsciously restrain entrepreneurial effort. But, if a community ever gets to the point were positive entrepreneurial momentum builds, there is that day when all of the "monkeys" are in harmony and start working powerfully in the same direction. Perham, Minnesota is an example of a powerful community which is working in harmony toward the common good.

Recently I heard of a small town merchant who tried to block a new merchant from getting a permit. He claimed the market was declining and another competitor would put him out of business. After of bitter argument, the permit was granted. The first merchant now knew he had to quit, or he had to evaluate his operation and prepare to compete. He decided to compete. Soon his store was repainted, inventory was repriced, his advertising was increased and more stock was ordered which included new up-to-date items. The competitor came along and placed even greater sized advertisements and he offered special prices on a number of items.

Did merchant number one go out of business? No, to his surprise his business increased. For the first time he saw that he could regain much of the retail trade which was leaking off to the big city by becoming a better marketer. The facts proved that competition was good for the total retail business environment in the community. The increased advertising budget generated by both businesses brought the people in and there was indeed enough business for both stores. The rest of the merchants have not had a competitor come in so they aren't acting like competitors yet, and guess what? Their businesses are still in decline. But if the whole retail community were acting like "the first monkey," it would not be long until the 100th monkey would be found.

The more visible this changed behavior is, the easier it is to encourage others to change. If respected leaders encourage and reward change, positive change will occur. And to the extent that the critics restrain their secret propaganda campaign of criticism, positive change can accelerate.

So when ever you have a new "monkey" with new ideas in town, you have much to gain by encouraging him or her. Just maybe, this business will eventually be the cornerstone of real expansion for your community.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I want to say a big thank-you to the people who do the supper on Christmas Eve.

I left my husband in Northwest Medical Center with heart problems that evening and went over to the supper. I appreciated all the good food, people serving and all who helped do the meal for others.

It has been many a year since I have received a sack of goodies from Santa! Thank you, everybody.

Sincerely,
Duaine G. Olson
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

In a truly magnanimous gesture by the people of Thief River Falls and the surrounding area, by the business community, the fraternal organizations, and the clubs and other social service agencies, the true spirit of Christmas was proven to be alive and well in this community. The staff and I were astounded by the outpouring of kindness that was manifested in these very difficult economic times assuring that those who are least protected and often have less, were truly blessed this Christmas.

I thank each of you who purchased toys and clothes for the many children on our list. I thank the business community including Jeff Hayes and the Pamida store, Mark Lytle, Joy and the K-Mart store, Russ Christianson and Northern Pride, Ev Ault and Northland Foods, Evert Kompelien and Hartz Foods, Gary Bucklin and Gary's Rainbow Bakery, and Roger Shaffer and Westside Motors. We are grateful to the Community Christmas Eve Dinner organization and the dedication of Joyce Gobell and Patrick Oaffeney who included our agency in their outpouring of caring. We thank the churches and particularly the Diocese for providing many needed items. We are appreciative to the Marine Corps for their contributions of toys. I am indebted to Marv Lundin and the Northland Woodcrafters for the wonderful toys they made and the local Quilters organization for the beauty and warmth they provided with their quilts.

And, I want to thank the local law enforcement personnel who donned Santa Claus suits for a day and delivered the many items — Bob Wold and his staff and Ken Froschheiser and his staff. And last, but surely not least, to the wonderful staff, Lana, Kelley and Desiree, who work in our agency and who with great dedication and stamina put the project together. The spirit of giving in this community is truly a Northern Star of great brightness. May you all have a New Year filled with peace and caring.

Sincerely,
Alyce Pollick

Woodcrafters hear of change in wood field

Northland Woodcrafters learned of changes in the wood industry Monday evening when Jeff Edmonds, utilization and marketing forester for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources at Bemidji, spoke at the organization's December meeting in the Occupational Development Center in Thief River Falls.

Edmonds explained that virtually all of the United States' first growth forests had been cut and that wood presently being harvested is second growth in the Midwest and third growth along the East Coast. With the second and third growth cutting has come a reduction in quality.

Hardwood harvest in excess of replacement growth has caused the industry to turn to various means to meet demands for construction, furniture and other needs. Hardwood boards have given way to smaller boards glued into panels. Instead of being sold in pieces, wood is being processed and sold as parts, such as drawer sides for the cabinet industry.

Particleboard is being made from chipped pieces of smaller and lower grade trees, he said, citing a number of companies involved in that process in the northern Minnesota area. Building materials are being created, such as particle board "I" beams for floor joists and composition materials with the appearance of wood for siding, paneling and furniture.

In this area, Edmonds said, the aspen forest is being regenerated at a faster rate than it is being used and the use is being monitored very closely. But while the regrowth is good, there is an age gap between the 50 to 60-year-old trees which have been and are being harvested and the younger trees which are growing to replace them. More than half of the aspen forest is on privately owned lands.

Concerning popular woods for woodworkers such as red oak, cherry, walnut and butternut, Edmonds said the supply is dwindling rapidly although the market has stabilized. Use of replacement materials in some cases has slowed the demand, but it takes a long time to replace these slower growing trees and in many cases they are not being replaced.

"Oak is a lot like aspen in what is required for regrowth," he said. "It is necessary to clear-cut oak just like it is necessary to clear-cut aspen in order to permit enough sunlight to encourage regrowth. Selective cutting which leaves shaded areas usually results in growth of brush and unwanted species instead of replacement trees."

Woodcrafters members were reminded that election of board members would take place at the January meeting and were encouraged to suggest names for two directors to be elected for three-year terms.

An invitation was extended by the School District 564 volunteer program for woodworkers to assist instructor Lambert Brunkhorst with students in the Franklin Middle School shop. Volunteers could work one-hour segments once a week or every-other-week during the noon hour or mid-afternoon. Persons interested may contact Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator, at 681-8358.

It was also announced that a Woodworker's World woodworking show will be held at the civic auditorium in Fargo, ND, January 24 and 25. Information on the show will be sought for distribution to Woodcrafters club members.

Next meeting of the club will be Monday, January 27, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development Center.

LETTERS

Dear Minnesotan,

The new year is a time to reflect on the past and focus on our hopes for the future.

Dramatic global, national and state issues impacted every corner of Minnesota in 1991. A long and draining recession has brought many Minnesota employers to their knees forcing them to cut jobs and in some instances shut-down. Few Minnesotans have not been touched by the international recession. Opportunities have narrowed.

Just as there were numerous factors that pushed us into this recession, it will take a comprehensive approach to get us out. Today, Minnesota ranks sixth highest in overall taxes per capita in the nation — a reputation that is extremely detrimental to our ability to recruit new businesses and encourage existing employers to stay. We feel very strongly that the way out of the recession is not through more taxes.

Without question, Minnesota will eventually come bounding out of this recession in sound economic health. And we are doing everything we can to make this happen sooner rather than later. In addition to our jobs creation package introduced in December, we intend to work with the legislature to keep a lid on taxes, reform workers compensation and bring health care insurance costs into reach for all Minnesotans. We will also continue our focus to improve our already good elementary and secondary education and reform state government so that it provides services more effectively with the same resources.

Last fall, Lt. Governor Dyrstad and I participated in 14 meetings held around the state and listened to more than 1,100 Minnesotans talk about their hopes and concerns in the next 20 or 30 years. We heard an overwhelming desire for greater access to opportunity in Minnesota — particularly in Greater Minnesota. Another reoccuring theme was a wish to return to community and family values and reignite a Minnesota spirit of individual responsibility.

Minnesotans are known for their hearty spirit, top notch work ethic, strong sense of community and for their contributions to what is known through the country as an exceptional quality of life. We have much to be proud of. In 1992, we intend to build on these strengths and set our state on a long-term course toward economic recovery, expanded access to opportunity for all Minnesotans — with an emphasis on economic development in Greater Minnesota.

Sincerely,
Arne H. Carlson
Governor

Small grains update

A small grains update session for area farmers will be held Monday, January 6, in room A-109 at the Thief River Falls Technical college, beginning at 1 p.m.

Covered will be small grain variety selection, weed and fertility management, new information on insect and disease control and points on maintaining the quality of grain currently in storage.

The program is being offered jointly by the Pennington county extension service and the Thief River Falls Technical college through a satellite downlink originating from the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota.

Presenters on the program include extension specialists Ervin Elke and Bev Durgan, agronomists, Mike Schmitt, soil scientist, Dave Noetzel, entomologist, Roger Jones, plant pathologist; and Bill Wilke, ag engineer.

The program will be live and questions can be relayed to the specialists by telephone at the meeting. All persons interested in crop production are invited and encouraged to attend, according to Howard Person, Pennington county agricultural agent.

Slippery road surfaces

When road conditions are slippery, special care is required in starting, stopping and steering, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT).

These reminders for driving are provided by the MnDOT:

(1) When starting, keep the wheels straight, gently accelerate and ease forward slowly. Spinning the wheels may cause you to skid or get stuck.

(2) Allow a greater distance than normal between you and the car ahead. Reduce your speed and anticipate stops well in advance, particularly at intersections. Never jam on your brakes to stop on a slippery surface; locked wheels cause loss of steering control. Gently pump the brakes until the vehicle comes to a complete stop.

(3) Anticipate turns and gradually reduce your speed before curves, lane changes or turns. Signal your intentions well in advance.

(4) If the vehicle does skid, don't hit the brakes. Take your foot off the accelerator and gently turn the steering wheel in the direction that the rear of the vehicle is skidding until the vehicle straightens out.

TRF 2-1 at Granite City Classic hockey tournament...

Prowlers finish second

Thief River Falls sandwiched wins over St. Cloud Apollo and Robbinsdale Cooper around a loss to Irondale en route to a runner-up finish at the fourth annual VFW Post 428 Granite City Classic high school hockey tournament.

Fergus Falls and St. Cloud Tech rounded out the six-team, round-robin event that was played Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Municipal Sports Center in St. Cloud.

Thief River Falls beat Apollo 6-3 Thursday, fell to Irondale 10-2 Friday and bounced back to edge Cooper 3-2 in overtime Saturday to go 5-4 for the year.

Both St. Cloud schools, along with Thief River Falls, went 2-1 for the tournament, with Cooper, Irondale and Fergus Falls all finishing 1-2. All six teams were 1-1 going into the final games.

Total goals were used as a tie-breaker, giving Apollo the title with 18 goals, followed by Thief River Falls with 11 and Tech 9.

Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo was happy with the Prowlers' play in the wins over Apollo and Cooper, but obviously wasn't pleased with the unexpected lopsided defeat as the hands of Irondale.

"I thought we played well against Apollo," said Chiodo. "We got off to a good start, we worked hard and we had a consistent effort."

"We just weren't ready mentally or physically to play against Irondale," he explained. "It was a total collapse."

"We came back and played a pretty good hockey game against Cooper," added Chiodo. "We controlled play for two-thirds of the game, and then we were able to withstand a tremendous amount of pressure they put on us at the end. It was the kind of game we had to play to prove to people we can play some good hockey. But we also proved, again, that we have to come ready to play every time, or we're in trouble."

Tournament Results
■ Thursday - Fergus Falls 4, Cooper 3; Thief River Falls 6, Apollo 3; Tech 4, Irondale 1
■ Friday - Irondale 10, Thief River Falls 2; Cooper 2, Tech 1; Apollo 7, Fergus Falls 0
■ Saturday - Thief River Falls 3, Cooper 2 (ot); Tech 5, Fergus Falls 2; Apollo 6, Irondale 6
Final Tournament Standings
■ 1. Apollo 2-1; 2. Thief River Falls 2-1; 3. Tech 2-1; 4. Irondale 1-2; 5. Cooper 1-2; 6. Fergus Falls 1-2.

The Prowlers now face back-to-back Section 8 challenges with 7:30 p.m. games at Moorhead Saturday and at home against Roseau Tuesday.

TRF girls 1-2 at Brainerd

Thief River Falls girls, after losing their first two starts at the Brainerd Holiday Invitational high school basketball tournament by a combined total of three points, finished the Thursday, Friday, Saturday event with a 40-31 seventh place game win over Prior Lake.

Hopkins edged Thief River Falls 56-54 in Friday's opening round quarterfinals and Proctor got by the Prowlers 46-45 in overtime in Friday's consolation semifinals.

"It was a character test," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse after watching the Prowlers lose the two close games and fall to 4-3 for the year. "We worked hard and played well defensively, but we struggled as a team offensively."

Host Brainerd was impressive in beating Proctor 88-56, Hopkins 76-28 and Detroit Lakes 60-36 for the title.

Thief River Falls returns to action Friday with a 7:30 p.m. game at East Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls..........54

A 50 percent first half shooting staked Thief River Falls to a nine-point lead, but when the Prowlers dropped to 25 percent shooting in the second half Hopkins rallied to win the Friday quarterfinal game 56-54.

Thief River Falls had quarter leads of 16-15 32-27 and 42-39, but fell behind in the final two minutes and then watched as two potential game-tying shots missed the mark.

Jodi Kruta scored 18 points and Amy Adams had 14 for the Prowlers. The Royals had their own 1-2 scoring punch in Steph Walters with 19 points and Kelly Medrow with 18.

Thief River Falls shot 39 percent from the field for the game, hitting 24 of 62 attempts. Hopkins shot 49 percent on a 22-for-46 showing. The Prowlers were 6-for-8 at the free throw line, where the Royals were 3-for-4. Thief River Falls finished with a 32-25 rebound advantage, including a 16-6 edge on the offensive boards.

Tournament Results

Proctor..........46
Thief River Falls..........45

Amy Bennett missed the first attempt, but sank the second half of a two-shot free throw opportunity with one second left in overtime to give Proctor a 46-45 Friday consolation semifinal win.

Proctor grabbed a 14-11 first quarter lead and turned it into a 30-19 halftime cushion against a soft Thief River Falls defense. But the Prowlers responded with a strong second half effort on defense that cut the Rails' lead to 37-36 by the end of the third quarter.

Ahead 45-43, Thief River Falls was trying to run down the clock when a turnover led to a game-tying Proctor basket with 20 seconds left.

The two teams put up just one shot each from the field in overtime – and missed. But the Rails drew a foul on their attempt, sending Bennett to the line for what proved to be the game-winning free throw.

Thief River Falls' Jodi Kruta scored a game-high 24 points, but she was called for her fifth foul with 1:30 left in overtime. Becca Olson led Proctor with 14 points and Bennett had 12.

The Prowlers were 20-for-50 from the field (33 percent) and struggled through a 4-for-13 game at the free throw line. The Rails were 19-for-47 from the field (40 percent) and 8-for-18 at the line. Proctor out-rebounded Thief River Falls 38-23.

Craig Lawrence and Tanner Martell both scored twice, Wade Chiodo had a goal and five assists and Kyle Anderson picked up a goal and two assists at the Thief River Falls Eagles Pee-Wee A team out-scored host Grafton 8-6 Sunday.

Shawn Rude and Chad Nordhagen also scored goals as Thief River Falls out-shot Grafton 35-16. Josh Holmes was in the nets for the winners.

Pee-Wee B-1

A recent 3-3 showing for the Thief River Falls Elks Pee-Wee B-1 team put the squad at 5-9 for the year.

A 4-2 win Dec. 21 over the Grand Forks Panthers included a goal and two assists by Nathan Ptacek, two assists for Adam Swanson and single goals by Hamilton Keefe, Chris Bruggeman and Nick Daley. Seth Martell and Josh Holmes combined for 30 saves in the Thief River Falls nets.

A Dec. 22 trip to Moorhead wound up in an 8-1 loss, with Swanson scoring the lone Thief River Falls goal. Martell finished with 24 saves.

Martell and Holmes had to make just nine saves as Thief River Falls shut out visiting Warroad 6-0 Dec. 23. Swanson scored twice, while Ptacek, Bruggeman, Keefe and Eric Rouland scored single goals.

Thief River Falls was 1-2 at the Hibbing Invitational over the weekend, losing to Grand Rapids 4-3, beating Superior, WI 3-0 and losing to Hibbing 3-2.

Nathan Jordet, Ptacek and Keefe scored in the first round loss to Hibbing. Martell finished with 17 saves.

Thief River Falls held Superior to just seven shots on net in the consolation semifinals. Nathan LaRoque, Swanson and Rouland scored the goals; Martell got the shutout.

Three third period Hibbing goals beat Thief River Falls in the consolation final. Rouland and Bruggeman scored the Thief River Falls goals. Martell made 20 saves.

Bantam A

Eight recent losses have dropped the Thief River Falls VFW Bantam A team to 3-15 for the year.

Grand Forks South out-scored Thief River Falls 9-6 in a Dec. 17 match-up when Keith Anderson scored twice and Kaine Martell, Aaron Ehrenstron, Chad Hanson and Tim Barry all scored single goals in a losing cause. Shane Duffy and Chanc Keefe combined for 26 saves; the South goalie had 14 stops.

Visiting Halleck doubled Thief River Falls 6-3 on Dec. 20. Anderson, Adam Fulton and Seamus Duffy scored the Thief River Falls goals. Shane Duffy wound up with 25 saves; the Hallock goalie stopped 16 shots.

A Dec. 22 Thief River Falls doubleheader in the Fargo-Moorhead area included a 5-2 loss to Fargo North and a 10-0 defeat at the hands of Moorhead. Brian Howe and Anderson scored the Thief River Falls goals against North. Keefe finished with 32 saves; the North goalie stopped 17 shots. Shane Duffy and Keefe split the goaltending duties as Moorhead out-shot Thief River Falls 48-13.

TRFAHA Traveling Team Schedule
Thursday, Jan. 2 - Bantam B vs. Bagley, 6:15 p.m., Sports Arena; Bantam A at Crookston, 6:30 p.m.; Pee-Wee B-1 at Roseau, 7 p.m.
Saturday, Jan. 4 - TRFAHA Elks Pee-Wee B-1 Invitational; Bantam A at Fergus Falls Invitational; Squirt White vs. Moorhead, 5:30 p.m., Old Arena.

Anderson scored the lone Thief River Falls goal in a 12-1 Dec. 23 loss at Grand Forks North. Shane Duffy and Keefe combined on 40 saves; the North goalie faced just 15 shots.

The losses continued into the weekend, but the games were closer as Thief River Falls dropped a 4-3 overtime contest at Hallock Friday and fell by the same 4-3 margin at Grafton Sunday.

Martell, Anderson and Tim Barry scored in the game at Hallock. Keefe was in the nets as Thief River Falls out-shot Hallock 40-35.

The same three players – Martell, Barry and Anderson – scored goals in the Grafton game. Shane Duffy and the Grafton goalie both finished with 26 saves.

Monday, a rematch with Grand Forks North at the Sports Arena resulted in an 8-2 win for the visitors. Howe and Nick Chiodo scored the Thief River Falls goals. Shane Duffy and Keefe combined on 26 saves; the Grand Forks goalie stopped 16 shots.

TRF JV 1-2 in tournament

Thief River Falls went 1-2 in the junior varsity portion of the Thief River Falls Northwest Russ Smith Holiday Classic boys high school basketball tournament.

Valley North defeated Thief River Falls 65-60 Thursday. Josh Balmer scored 19 points and Shane Zutz had 10 for the Prowlers, who led 13-12 at the end of the first quarter but fell behind 30-21 at halftime and trailed 48-41 through three quarters.

Balmer netted 14 points and Zutz had 12 as Thief River Falls beat Roseau 50-38 Friday. The winners had quarter leads of 21-6, 28-15 and 39-24.

Marshall County Central defeated Thief River Falls 43-39 Saturday. The winners led 13-6 and 23-17 at the first two quarter stops. It was tied 29-29 after three quarters.

Wade Evenson scored 9 points to lead the 3-4 Thief River Falls junior varsity.

Middle School

Franklin Middle School seventh grade girls won a pair of games from visiting East Grand Forks Dec. 21 to close out their pre-holiday schedule.

Kim Stenseth scored 8 points and Tiffany Brouse had 6 as the Franklin A team turned a 22-8 halftime lead into a 32-17 win.

Franklin shut out East Grand Forks in the second half in a 35-4 B game victory. Joceyln Helgeland scored 10 points and Alissa Austad had 6 for the winners.

The 1992 portion of the 1991-92 Franklin basketball season will resume with seventh grade action Tuesday, Jan. 7, against Warren – the girls in Thief River Falls; the boys at Warren.

December 31, 1991

The following minutes are not official until approved by the Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

PROCEEDINGS

Regular meeting December 17, 1991, 3:00 p.m.

Members present: Larry Vigen, Martin Kotrba, Aldon Hyland, Norma Hanson, Joe Philipp, John Gallagher.

Members absent: None.

Also present: Superintendent Hoffert.

The meeting was called to order at 3:05 p.m. by Chairman Vigen. Pledge of Allegiance was given.

Hanson moved, Gallagher seconded to approve the December meeting agenda. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded, to approve the November minutes as amended. An amendment was added thanking the faculty for the written reports given on workshops they attend. Motion carried.

Hyland moved, Vigen seconded, to approve for payment the December computer checks $31,900.11, November handpayables $42,331.29 and November extra payroll $8,495.07 for a total of $82,626.48. Motion carried. (see report #3.11-#3.13 attached to the official board minutes.)

Superintendent Hoffert gave the District budget, Cash flow and investment reports. The District showed an investment of $107,900.57 on November 30, 1991. He also reported that a financial report on the football tournament games will be available in January for review (see reports #3.21-#3.23 attached to the official board minutes.)

Concerns from an individual regarding extra-curricular programs were discussed.

No reports were given the board from the Goodridge Education Assn. Representatives thanked the Board for taking time to attend the climate meetings.

The classified staff reported that timers have been ordered for the lobby pop machines. They also asked to sponsor, through community education, a walking for fitness program for adults during the winter months. The consensus of the Board was to okay the walking program.

Rodney Hoffman, representing the playground improvement committee, reviewed with the Board a diagram of the proposed playground equipment. Total cost of the project with set up and shipping would be approximately $32,000. The committee members read a list of donations made and pledged by individuals and civic organizations. The consensus of the Board was to budget $4,000 in each the 1991-1992 and 1992-1993 school year for a total contribution over two years of $8,000. (see report #7.1 attached to the official board minutes.)

Representatives from the student council requested the Board consider a number of proposals for honoring deceased students from Goodridge school. The Board reviewed with them the policy passed at the August Board meeting concerning student memorials. The consensus of the Board was to continue with current policy until such time as a written recommendation be brought to the Board for further consideration on policy change.

The student council also requested that money from the pop machines be put into a student trust fund for the purchase of student activities equipment. The request was tabled until the January meeting.

Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded, to reset the graduation time for 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 30, 1992. Motion carried.

Hanson reported on the meet and confer meeting attended by Hyland, Hanson and Gallagher.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded, to direct the administration to evaluate all programs in terms of possible reductions for the 1992-1993 school year. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded, to call for bus bids in January with delivery to be scheduled for the summer of 1992. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Gallagher seconded, to contract with the N.W. ECSU for Option B services pertaining to Outcomes Driven Developmental Model (ODDM). Motion carried.

Superintendent Hoffert reported on Clara Iverson's recovery progress.

Hanson reported on the Regional Service Delivery System Law on the Sunsetting of Intermediate Service Districts.

Hyland reported on the last meeting of the N.W. RIC.

Hyland and Vigen reported on the last school climate meeting. Some of the items discussed at the meeting included: Chain of command for concerns, parents calls, support for girls athletics, and scheduling of busses.

Superintendent Hoffert reported for Mr. Henrickson that detention has been working well and that the Board and staff need to become aware of laws regarding sex discrimination.

Superintendent Hoffert described plans made for the Minnesota school boards convention in January.

The next regular meeting was set for Tuesday, January 21, 1992 at 3:00 p.m.

The Board discussed curriculum for the Health Education program. An informational letter will be sent to parents with students in these classes.

Vigen reported that the Superintendent's Evaluation Committee from Grygla will be meeting with a committee consisting of Vigen, Kotrba and Philipp prior to Christmas.

The School District Levy hearing was held. No patrons were present for the hearing. Following review by the Superintendent Hanson moved, Hyland seconded, to certify the 1991 payable 1992 tax levy as follows: General fund $179,993.20, Transportation $39,418.13, Community service $10,254.92, and Capital Expenditure $22,388.54 for a total of $252,054.79. Motion carried.

RE: Notice of Non Extension of Contract

Dear Mr. Busch:

You are hereby notified that at a meeting of the School Board of Independent School District No. 441 held on October 22, 1991 consideration was given to non extending your contract.

A resolution was adopted by a majority roll call vote of the full membership of the School Board proposing to not extend your employment contract beyond June 30, 1992. A copy of the resolution is attached.

Your contract gives you certain rights. One of those rights is to request within 10 days of receipt of this letter, a meeting with the school Board to discuss its intention to non extend your contract, the reasons therefore, and ways in which any concerns of the School Board might be addressed by the parties.

Sincerely,
David Bakke
School Board Chairperson

Motion by Roger Anderson to adjourn, seconded by Eldon Augustine. Motion carried.

SCHOOL BOARD MINUTES
November 7, 1991

The Board of Education of Ind. School District No. 441 met in special session on November 7, 1991, in the teachers lounge in the Newfolden Elementary building in Newfolden, MN. Members present: Doreen Amundson, Eldon Augustine, David Bakke, Roger Anderson, Doyle Harstad, Mark Carlson, Donna Fosholm, Supt. Busch, Principals Jim Hodny and Ron Paggen. Visitors present: Tom Mjelde, Pat Dunning, Linda Bredseth, Jenny Maurstad, Betty Gonsorowski, Julie LeBine, Dale Volstad, Dick Brolsma.

Be It Resolved that a special meeting was called by David Bakke, Chairman that a special meeting be held at 10:00 Thursday, November 7, 1991 in the Newfolden Elementary building because of an emergency due to the fire in the Marshall County Central High School in Newfolden.

Deputy State Fire Marshall Dale Volstad from Clearbrook explained what had been done by the fire departments to save parts of the building.

Mr. Volstad has requested an additional deputy state fire marshall to assist in the investigation. Dick Brolsma from Osage was there also. Mr. Volstad explained the procedure concerning an investigation. The building was now under the control of the deputy state fire marshalls and would remain under their control until the completion of their investigation as to the origin of the fire. Bob Martin (GAB) General Adjuster Bureau, would probably be allowed to conduct his own investigation at this time.

Principal Paggen stated:

1) We should get the high school running as soon as possible and keep all the students together.

2) All the local churches have offered their facilities for classrooms. (Evangelical, Bethlehem, Wesleyan, Free Lutheran and New Hope)

3) Other school districts have offered any help and supplies plus facilities.

4) Mayor Gunderson has offered the use of the Community Center and other facilities for the school district.

Supt. Busch reported the following:

1) That the Strandquist facilities could be used.

2) Middle River offered to run split shift to accommodate our high school students.

3) Possibility of using some facilities at the Center School in Thief River Falls.

4) High School offices will be set up in the elementary building in Newfolden.

5) There is a blanket insurance policy for all the school buildings. Possible insurance coverage on high school building would be around 7 million.

The Newfolden and Viking Elementary schools will resume classes on Friday, Nov. 8, 1991.

Other topics discussed:

1) Picking out an Architect for rebuilding

2) Looking into portable classrooms to be used as temporary facilities

3) Suggestions from Administration having possible plans for resuming high school classes as soon as possible

4) The Board authorized Supt. Busch to hire consulting engineer to inspect high school building regarding structural damage to some areas of building

Next meeting will be Thursday, November 7, 1991 at 7:30 p.m.

Motion by Mark Carlson to adjourn. Seconded by Doyle Harstad. Meeting adjourned at 11:15 a.m.

Local man faces charges in TRF, EGF

Police have charged a local man for the theft of a motor vehicle, burglary and forgery as a result of an investigation into the reported theft of a motor vehicle.

James Richard Klobuchar, 56, Thief River Falls, has been accused of taking a car that belonged to Thomas Schmidt. According to police information, Schmidt reported on December 23 that his car had been stolen. The keys for the car had been taken from the residence along with check blanks.

On December 27, East Grand Forks officials arrested Klobuchar, who has alleged passed checks on Schmidt's account in East Grand Forks and Thief River Falls. Klobuchar is being held in Polk county.

According to a representative of the East Grand Forks police, Klobuchar made his first appearance in a Polk County District court Monday on charges of check forgery and offering a forged check. Bond was set at $20,000. He remains in custody at the Northwest Regional Correctional facility in Crookston.

Police in Thief River Falls have filed charges against Klobuchar for burglary in the second degree, theft of a motor vehicle and forgery of a check.

County history books available

Copies of "Pennington County History, Volume II" have been received by the Pennington County Historical society and are now available for distribution.

Persons who ordered their copies of the book and paid for them in advance may pick them up at the home of Mrs. Ellen Spray at 411 South Tindolph Avenue.

Persons who did not order books but would like to purchase one or more may obtain them at $52 per copy at Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls.

The books contain family, business and organizational histories and are supplementary to Volume I of Pennington County History published some years ago. There are not believed to be any duplicate histories from the first volume in the book now available.

Quantities are limited and those interested in obtaining a book are advised to purchase a copy soon.

Lincoln joins Citizens Bee

Lincoln senior high school students will have the opportunity to participate in a unique social studies program which could lead to prizes and scholarships and a study trip to Washington, D.C., in June 1992. The school has registered to participate in the Close Up Foundation Citizen Bee.

The Citizen Bee is an academic program which focuses on social studies and progresses through school, regional and state competitions. Three students from the school will advance to regional competition and top students there will advance to the state final later this spring.

State winners earn a trip to Washington to participate in the Foundation's government studies program and the national competition. Winners of the national event receive college scholarships totaling $48,000.

More than 150,000 students, representing 4,000 schools across the country, will participate in the Close Up Citizen Bee this year.

Charles Comell, teacher at Lincoln, will be coordinating the Citizen Bee at the school.

SDA children lead special church ministry

by Marilyn Sayler

"Children have a special ministry in the church," observes Norman Zimmerman, pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church. "Providing opportunity for them to be actively involved in ministry is something I wholly support." Not coincidentally, Zimmerman has, in the past few weeks seen a lot of young people ministering in his church.

Thanksgiving weekend a group of students from the Adventist elementary school presented a skit just prior to the divine worship service. Assuming the roles of two detectives, students Corey Zimmerman and Billy Simpson set out to solve the difficult case — whatever happened to sin? Operating on subtle leads and their own gut-level knowledge of right and wrong, three times the detectives nabbed what they thought was sin. But to their surprise, each offender claimed innocence by renaming the offense. A cheating chemistry student rationalized that he was simply engaged in "creative learning". An elderly lady reasoned that lust was simply a love of "fine art". A young man charged with self-centeredness said "positive aggression" was the proper label for his behavior. Had sin simply become a master of disguise? Zimmerman and Simpson had to leave that decision for the "Superior Court" which later handed down verdicts and sentences.

The following weekend, young people from the church and community combined their talents to present vocal and instrumental music during the annual Christmas concert held at the church. For some, like our six-year-old son, Danny, it was a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Being able to play Christmas carols in an orchestra with other young people from Middle River, Argyle, Newfolden and Thief River Falls was something he had only dreamed of. To the onlooker, seeing the youngsters perform was refreshing and inspiring. Their innocence. Their youthful enthusiasm. Their unassuming committment. Call it what you will, it was ministry. And this is one parent who is glad that her child looks forward to doing it

NW Airlines to purchase 20 de Havilland airplanes

Northwest Airlines has entered into a memorandum of understanding with Boeing Canada to acquire 20 de Havilland Dash 8 Series 100 aircraft to expand service primarily at Northwest's Detroit hub.

It is anticipated the aircraft will be operated by Northwest's Airlink partner Mesaba.

"This acquisition underscores our commitment to the highest levels of service in our Detroit operation," said Geoffrey Crowley, Northwest vice president-affiliate airline operations. "These new aircraft will make air travel in the upper Midwest more comfortable and convenient than ever. That's a big win for our customers."

Deliveries of the 37-seat aircraft will begin in April 1992 and continue through May 1993.

"The Dash 8 aircraft will provide exceptional reliability and comfort for our passengers and offer new economical growth opportunities for Mesaba as Northwest Airlink," said Robert Swenson, president and chairman of Airtran Corp., which is the parent of Mesaba. "Further, the interration support anticipated should allow us to begin service with these aircraft on a profitable basis."

Mesaba operates as Northwest Airlink under a marketing agreement with Northwest Airlines in the Detroit and Minneapolis/St. Paul markets. Mesaba currently serves 39 cities in 13 states and one Canadian province. Airtran is traded on the NASDAQ National Market System under the symbol ATCC.

Northwest Airlines is America's fourth-largest airline and with its Northwest Airlink regional airline partners serves 200 cities in the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Maximum sentence handed out in poaching case

A Becker County resident who recently pled guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possession five deer over the limit, was sentenced November 18 in Detroit Lakes by 7th District Judge Thomas Schroeder.

Rodney Lee Weiss of rural Park Rapids, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $700 — the maximum penalty in a misdemeanor case — plus $85 in surcharges and court costs. Thirty days of the 90 day sentence was suspended; however, Judge Schroeder ordered Weiss to begin serving the 60 days immediately. Weiss' deer rifle and the illegal venison were confiscated.

In addition to the jail sentence and fine, Weiss was also ordered to pay restitution under provision of Minnesota's new Wildlife Restitution Act, in the amount of $500 per deer. The $2,500 will be credited to the state game and fish fund.

The Wildlife Restitution Act was passed by the 1989 Minnesota legislature. In 1990, a lengthy legal process established individual monetary values for most species of fish, game and non-game wildlife in Minnesota. The Wildlife Restitution Act requires prosecutor and judges to consider these values when fish and wildlife resources have been illegally taken, possessed, injured or destroyed, and allows restitution payments to be assessed in addition to fines and other criminal penalties imposed by the court.

Restitution payments collected under the act are credited to the state game and fish fund and can only be used for the replacement, propagation or protection of wildlife.

"The Wildlife Restitution Act was designed to shift the burden of replacing unlawfully taken fish and wildlife from law-abiding sportsmen and women, to the game-law violator," said Capt. Byron "Butch" Dyrland, Northwest Regional Enforcement Supervisor with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"This is one of the first major, big-game restitution cases to be processed in Northern Minnesota," said Dyrland. "We think it sets a precedent and sends a clear message in support of the majority of northern Minnesota residents who realize our fish and wildlife are a valuable asset, and the theft of those resources will no longer be taken lightly."

Dyrland reported that his officers in the northwest region also made arrests this fall in 35 gross misdemeanor cases involving major, deer hunting and poaching violations. Gross misdemeanor cases are punishable by fines up to $3,000 and or one year in jail, in addition to restitution payments and the confiscation of weapons and motor vehicles involved in the crime.

Weiss was arrested and charged after DNR Conservation Officers investigated a citizen complaint called in to the Turn In Pochers (TIP) Inc., hot line. Suspected fish and wildlife violations may be reported on the TIP 24-hour hot line by dialing 1-800-652-9093. Callers can remain anonymous and still collect cash rewards if a TIP results in an arrest.

Masterworks Chorale begins work on Messiah

This winter, the Northland Masterworks Chorale and the Crookston Civic Music League Chorus will combine their resources along with the Minneapolis Chamber Symphony to present the ever-popular Messiah by George Frederick Handel in Crookston and Thief River Falls. Conducting rehearsals of the Northland Masterworks Chorale will be Les Torgerson, director of music at Northland Community College. Jere Lantz with the Minneapolis Chamber Symphony, will be conducting the final performances in Thief River Falls on February 19 and in Crookston on February 20.

The Northland Masterworks Chorale will begin rehearsing Monday evening, January 6 at 7 p.m. in room D 100 at the college. Rehearsals will continue Monday evenings until the performance dates. There will be no rehearsals on January 20 and February 17 due to holidays.

"An effort has been made to minimize rehearsal time so that our community effort will enrich, not compete with, other musical activities," said Torgerson.

Anyone wishing to take part in the Masterworks Chorale is invited to do so. No auditions will be given. For more information, please contact Les Torgerson at Northland Community College, (218) 681-2181, Ext. 143.

LET'S DO GOOD THINGS IN THIS LAST DECADE OF THE CENTURY

Our brand new year has now begun
It's number 1991,
And just nine years from now will be
The turning of the century.
The time has come to look ahead,
Forget the past and then, instead,
Decide which way we want to go
And let our good intentions show.
We'll shun bad habits, help the poor,
And make our future more secure;
And with environmental plans,
Recycle bottles, bags and cans.
Our House of Worship we'll attend,
While making sure we comprehend
Its lessons, which we'll keep in sight,
And thereby start the new year right.
— Gloria Nowak

I'll turn over a new leaf.
—Miguel de Cervantes

unto perfection...
if God permit."

1972 — Twenty Years Ago

—New Year's baby in Thief River Falls was Corey Lee Bjorgaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bjorgaard of Thief River Falls, born January 1 at 2:19 p.m.

—Milk will be served in half-pint cartons for morning and afternoon snacks and with the noon lunch in all Thief River Falls public schools, a change from the past when the district used bulk dispensers and paper cups for the milk program.

—Total revenue of the 1971 Pennington county fair was $26,521, it was revealed at the annual meeting of the Pennington county fair association.

1982 — Ten Years Ago

—Mr. and Mrs. Brad Nelson were named Pennington county conservation couple for 1981.

—This year's headcount at Northland community college is 568.

—The fall play at Lincoln high school, "Twain by the Tale," will be presented this week.

—New Year's baby for 1982 is Tonya Lee Dorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dorr of Erskine, born January 1 at 11:29 a.m.

Men's Recreation Nights To Start

"The first of a series of physical recreation nights for men will be staged next Wednesday evening, January 7, starting at 7:30 in the Lincoln high school gymnasium, and will be held on succeeding Wednesday nights until further notice. A wide variety of sports will be provided, including volleyball, basketball, badminton and other games."

Norwegian Aviator Will Speak Here

"Peter Johnson, Norwegian Royal Air Force aviator, will speak in Trinity Lutheran church next Thursday evening, January 8, Rev. O. S. Thompson, pastor, announced today. Recently escaped from the Nazis in Norway, Johnson made his way to Canada where he is in training with the air force."

Christmas Baskets Distributed Here

"Captain Anderson stated today that the Salvation Army wished to thank the merchants and citizens of Thief River Falls and vicinity for the splendid cooperation that made it possible to put up sixty-two baskets of foodstuffs for the poor again this Christmas. Captain Anderson and Lieut. Flowers were busy delivering baskets Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Loren Lord and a number of his Boy Scouts also did their good turn by helping in the distribution."

Railway Express Volume Hits Peak

"During the pre-holiday season the local Railway Express Agency handled an incoming and outgoing volume of business that was 25 per cent above the figures for the comparable period last year, O. C. Paulson, manager, reported today. He added that the month of December here set an all-time high mark for both volume of business and revenue."

Tire Rationing Plan Expected Jan. 5

"A complete rationing plan for tires and rubber products is being outlined by the Office of Price Administration and the Civilian Supply Division, OPM, and is expected to go into effect by January 5. In the meantime, Donald Nelson, priorities director, has extended the new tire sale ban until January 5, 1942. Under the order, no one can sell, lease, trade, deliver or transfer any new auto tires until January 5, unless the order carried an A-3 priorities rating. The ban does not include bicycle tires or tires for farm machinery."

From The Editorial Page

"After the fine Fall we have been having, we are not going to complain about the Winter regardless of how tough it gets from here on in — providing of course that the cold weather will not be as late in leaving as it has been in arriving."

"The farmers alliance man who predicted that wheat would be worth two dollars a bushel before spring, and advised all farmers to hold for that price, fails to show up.—Advice is cheap, but it takes lots of money to corner the wheat crop."

A Pleasant Winter Outing

"Several sleighloads of the young folks of Black River came up last Saturday evening joining with the young folks of the village in a dance in Gainard's hall. An oyster supper was served at the Commercial hotel and all seemed to enjoy the evening."

Student pancake breakfast fund-raiser planned

Lincoln high school students planning to participate in the Washington, DC, program seminar in February are sponsoring a pancake breakfast as a fund-raising event.

The pancake breakfast will be held January 5 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Heritage Community Center. Admission to the pancake breakfast is $3 for adults and $2 for children.

Lincoln high school will send five students to the seminar to Washington, DC. Last year's experience was considered such a success that students will again attend the week-long event, which will be held from February 16-22.

Why Do You Think They Call It Art Work?
Becoming an artist is hard work. Inspiration is nice but sweat and determination are essential. There's a school to help talented teenagers reach their potential in the arts: the Arts High School. Through an intense two-year program, 11th and 12th graders receive instruction in their field of interest along with a solid liberal arts education. The Arts High School is a public school that offers innovative programs in dance, literary arts, media arts, music, theater and visual arts. Arts classes are taught by committed instructors—many of whom are practicing artists who can offer the encouragement and firsthand experience you need. Our students come from all around the state—and represent various degrees of accomplishment. Some have had extensive training, others are just discovering their abilities as writers, actors, sculptors and dancers. Programs are designed to meet individual needs. If you will be an 11th grader next year and have talent, drive and enthusiasm, call the Arts High School admissions office at 591-4700 or 1-800-657-3515 for an application packet. As space permits, students who will be 12th graders in the fall of 1992 will also be considered for enrollment.

Turn your car into center for survival

Anyone who travels in Minnesota in the winter runs the risk of being stranded due to weather, accident or mechanical trouble. Being prepared with a home-made survival kit can take some of the hazards out of being stranded.

Minnesota Department of Transportation suggests starting with a large coffee can with plastic cover. Inside the can pack the following:

- •Candle stubs and matches;
- •Small, sharp knife;
- •Red neck scarf or cloth;
- •Plastic spoon;
- •Large plastic garbage bag;
- •First aid items;
- •Plastic whistle;
- •Flashlight and batteries;
- •Safety pins;
- •Pencil stub;
- •Coins taped inside the cover for emergency phone calls if phone is available.

For snacks include:

- •Semi-sweet chocolate bars;
- •Small packets of raisins;
- •Chewing gum;
- •Miniature candy bars;
- •Wrapped hard candies;
- •Food bars;
- •Packets of dry soup, instant oatmeal or hot chocolate.

Around the can tie about 30 feet of cord to use as a homing line for anyone who must check outside the vehicle in a snowstorm. Wrap a pair of warm mittens around the outside of the can with an orange or red scarf and put a bright stocking cap over the wrapped can.

In addition to the survival kit, Mn/DOT suggests, equip your vehicle(s) with a first aid kit, road flares, booster cables, shovel, tow rope, windshield scraper, snowmobile suit and boots and a sleeping bag or blankets.

Make sure that your vehicle is prepared for Minnesota's harsh winters. Test the anti-freeze, battery, brakes, exhaust and lights. Never travel with less than a half tank of gas.

Listen to forecasts, road reports and storm warnings and trust them! They are meant for you.

Notify others of your travel plans when roads are in poor driving conditions. Tell someone where you are going and the route you will take. Call and report a safe arrival.

If stranded in a winter storm, observe the following four survival rules:

(1) Stay in your vehicle. Walking away in a storm is very dangerous. You can lose your way, wander out of reach, become exhausted, collapse and even die. Your vehicle is your best shelter.

(1) Keep calm. Calm down and think. Remember, the storm will end and you will be found. Your main concern should be to conserve body energy and heat. You will not starve to death! Don't attempt to push your car or shovel in extreme storm conditions. It is too dangerous due to injury from tools, a slipping vehicle, exhaustion, heart attack or overexertion.

(3) Keep fresh air in your vehicle. It is better to be chilly and awake than to be comfortably warm and be overcome with carbon monoxide fumes. Keep your car's exhaust pipe free of snow and run the engine only for short periods of time.

(4) Keep warm without fuel. Keep your blood circulating freely. Loosen tight clothing and change positions frequently. Move your arms and legs, massage fingers and toes, tuck your hands between your legs or under your armpits.

For Adults

"A Question of Character: A Life of John F. Kennedy" - by Thomas C. Reeves: While centering on the presidency and character of JFK, this book also reveals the moral and ethical side of the Kennedy family. Reeves, a highly acclaimed historian presents a thoroughly researched, documented and balanced assessment of JFK which is also highly readable. A must-read for anyone interested in the Kennedy family.

"Four Past Midnight" - by Stephen King: Four spellbinding tales of horror by the king of horror - Stephen King, this book is a sure bet for King fans. A transcontinental night flight, a camera, a small-town library and a quiet Maine summer town are all settings for stories that will grab your attention - and not let go.

"Get to the Heart" - by Barbara Mandrell: When Barbara Mandrell was in a car crash in 1984, her life changed drastically. How she bounced back is a tribute to this dynamo of talent, faith and courage.

"Leonard Maltin's TV Movies and Video Guide" - by Leonard Maltin: Cross-referenced for easy use, this volume contains 19,000 movie and videocassette write-ups on a variety of films. (in paperback only)

"Royally Revealed" - by Unity Hall and Ingrid Seward (in paperback only): An insider's look at the secret world of Britain's royal family, this book covers each member of the royal family, telling who gets along with whom and how Queen Elizabeth maintains the reins on them all.

"Stormin' Norman: An American Hero" - by Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta: A Hot Picks, this is the unforgettable story of General H. Norman Schwarzkopf.

Roger and Janel Walter and family joined other relatives and had a pre-Christmas Day Saturday with Janel's mother, Pearl Laniel in Brocks

A group of Sunday school children and their teachers from Immanuel Lutheran church went shopping here in town on Saturday and bought Christmas gifts for the Wayne Schultz family whose home was destroyed by fire. Later they all returned to the church dining hall for hot chocolate and cookies

Bertha Hughes left Sunday for the Cities, with her granddaughter, Holly Katz, where she will spend Christmas with her daughter and son-in-law, Mary and Tom Katz

Have you taken time during this busy holiday season to tour Plummer town and area to see all the beautiful Christmas lights? Our streets are decked out in their finest. The Community Club had their judging on Thursday evening. 1st place winners were Al and Lorraine Fisher on their beautiful farm yard. 2nd place went to Carl and Joyce Magers, whose home and yard are decked to no end, and the Dwight and Stella Howard home received 3rd prize with all their beautiful lights. Congratulations. Wish we could enjoy the the beauty year around

Eldon and Karen Vigstol and Karl called on Edna Hyde Sunday afternoon

Sgt. Brian and Suzanne of Yuma, AZ arrived home last Friday, to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Al and Lorraine Fisher. Enroute here, they visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bolter of Staughton, WI

Charlotte Lamky of Thief River Falls, visited Sunday afternoon at Eldon and Karen Vigstols

Tilmer Johnson and Olga Konickson went to McManor in McIntosh on Thursday to visit with Adolph and Luella Peterson, who are both patients there

Anne Jaeger, who is employed in the Cities, is home to spend Christmas with her families here

Gert Marty and Edna Hyde enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream on Saturday with Myrtle Patnode and Pat in honor of Myrtle's 93rd birthday. What an alert person and how lucky to have a built-in nurse, so she can enjoy her own home. We're so fortunate here in Plummer to have her for our "Plummer Mother and Friend."

Al and Lorraine Fisher entertained Saturday evening at a wedding reception for their son and daughter-in-law, Brian and Suzanne Fisher of Yuma, AZ. The event was hosted in the Plummer Hall with the couples' wedding colors of peach and teal being used in the decorated theme used throughout the dining area. After a while of visiting with the newlyweds a catered meal was served to all the guests, after which the gifts were opened and viewed. At the punch bowl were Ray and Marilyn Fisher. Mrs. Jos Fisher served coffee and she and Linda Fisher Hemly cut and served the four-tiered wedding cake, which was baked and decorated by Edna Hyde. Among the guests were the attendants from their September 28th wedding at the Marine Chapel at Yuma, AZ, Tim and Brenda Gagner of Fergus Falls, Russ Fisher, Kim and Deonne Johnson of Brookings, SD, Shannon Fisher of Ashland, WI, along with other guests from Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Brooks, Plummer and Grygla.

Scott and Carolyn Pahlen, Brian and Holly of Roosevelt, were Sunday afternoon visitors at Idella Petersen's

Gully News

Mrs. Esther Rutkowski
268-4348

A large crowd enjoyed Santa Claus Day at the Gully Community Center on Saturday. The afternoon started with a movie for the children. Mark Vinji was at the projector. The Center was nicely decorated in Christmas colors. Carol and Les Torgerson furnished a Christmas tree and Lloyd Goddand decorated it "Bush fashion." There were many prizes for lucky people. The children registered according to age and appropriate toys given to the names drawn. The grand prize for all youngsters was a sled, and Megan Halvorson of Trail won the sled. For the adults whose names were drawn, a turkey was given. Santa arrived by sleigh all decked out in his red suit and white beard, he gave each youngster a package of goodies. This year had at least two associates, David Kerssen with horses and sleigh to give rides, and Ed Turenne with a list full of gift certificates from the Gully Cafe. One dollar certificates were placed in each of the candy bags given away and five dollar gift certificates were given to adults whose names were drawn from those registered. We feel grateful to all who worked to make it such a happy day.

Kenneth Emerson of Moorhead, and Myles Olson of Thief River Falls, were brief callers at Effie Handys on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. David (Brenda) Odegaard of Mercer Island, WA, made a fast trip to Minnesota last weekend and visited with the Elmer Brovolds, and the Ray Odegaards.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Knutson, Steve and Veronica of Gonvick, were Sunday dinner guests at the Henry Knutsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Emerson, Emma Nyland and Effie Handy were in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, and were luncheon guests at Ray Spencers.

Larry Berg of Warba, spent the weekend before last at the home of his parents, the Elmer Bergs, he works down in the Cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hanson at Oklee, had an early Christmas dinner on Sunday, December 22, for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hanson of East Grand Forks, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hanson of Thief River Falls, and Cora Hanson at their home, Elmer came and got Cora.

Winner of prizes at the Senior meal at the Gully Community Center on Wednesday, December 18, were Natalie Haugen, Harlon Danielson, Mary Berg, Roald Haugen, Mildred Solien, W.H. Sanges, Alvera Olson, Vera Bolland, Irene Carlson, Willie Klamar and Esther Rutkowski.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scott of Fosston, were Sunday afternoon callers at Effie Handy. Late afternoon and supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turenne and Caroline Guarera of Thief River Falls.

Many people attended the Senior meal Wednesday evening, December 18, at the Gully Community Center, a delicious meal was served and Sara Brovold sang some Christmas songs for us. The next Senior meal at Gully will be Wednesday, January 8, at 11:30. Please call Linda 268-4565 for reservations any time before Tuesday, January 7th

Brian Keding, son of Marvin and Delores Keding of St. Hilaire and a sophomore at Concordia college in St. Paul, has been awarded a Lutheran College Scholarship by Lutheran Brotherhood. The scholarship will provide $1,500 per year for the current year and the next two years of his education. He is a 1990 graduate of Our Saviour's Christian Academy and was the recipient of an $800 scholarship last year. Making the scholarship presentation is Kay Wadul, representative of Lutheran Brotherhood.

Strandquist

F. Myrtle Vagle

The Christmas program in the Strandquist school by the first and second graders who attend school there and the kindergarten class from Karlstad, was postponed on Thursday evening, due to bad road conditions. The presentation will be given on Monday, January 6th, at 7:30 p.m. By that time the days will be longer and we hope for more settled weather, or perhaps we will be more accustomed to it. Until then, little Allison Britten will keep Granpa Morris and Grandma Hazel entertained by her part in it.

Frank and Judy Kleinvachter made their familiar visit to Irene's Cafe on Tuesday for potato dumplings. On Wednesday they went to Thief River Falls, to finish their Christmas shopping. How is it there is always something left to do?

Rev. Steve Spilde visited Earl and Ebba Sihlberg this week. The UPS man has also made several deliveries to them lately, from some friends that read the story.

Peart Thompson accompanied Becky and Michelle Johnson to the program in the Assembly of God church in Karlstad on Thursday evening. Michelle Johnson sang a solo in the Singing Tree.

Paul and Shirley Anderson motored to St. Paul on Wednesday to bring Jennifer home for the holidays. Kristopher and Kenrick have been staying with Morris and Hazel Anderson while they were gone. One day Morris and Hazel had a gentleman come over who had recently been released from the hospital. He said he had been too sick to be operated on, so they had done surgery.

This past weekend, young adults and children once again participated at the church, this time performing the vital functions of the divine worship service. Replacing church elders on the platform, they offered the invocation, called for the offering, and pronounced the benediction. Two children's classes also provided special music.

"I think it is good for young people to be involved in many avenues of church ministry," philosophizes Zimmerman. "The prophet Isaiah wrote, 'A little child will lead them'. This Christmas season has offered great opportunities for kids in our town to do just that. I commend the parents and program directors for encouraging this involvement. It's not only good for the kids, it's good for the rest of us, too."
